CAROLINA

- has 48 former players on NFL rosters as of July 1, 1999; 73 percent of Tar Heel players on NFL rosters have graduated from UNC (compared to the NFL average of 30 percent)

- was one of only 12 schools in Division I last season that played in a postseason bowl game and earned the AFCA's Achievement Award for Graduation Rates

- is the only Division I football program in the country that has won a postseason bowl game in each of the last four seasons

- has played in a postseason bowl game in a school-record seven consecutive seasons

- is the 11th-winningest program in the country in the last seven years (more wins than Colorado, Miami (Fla.), BYU, Notre Dame, Syracuse, Virginia Tech, Virginia, Arizona, Wisconsin, Washington, Georgia, UCLA, Southern California, Texas, Clemson and NC State)

- has posted a winning record in nine consecutive seasons, tying the school record

- has had five consensus All-Americans in the last four years

- has had 18 players selected in the NFL Draft over the past three seasons (five in 1997, seven in 1998 and six in 1999)

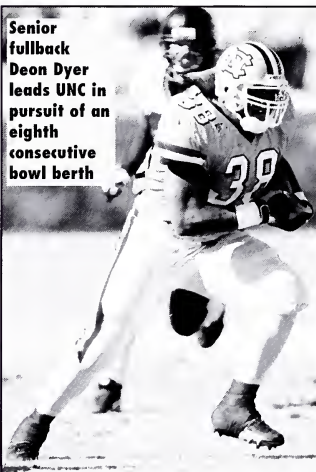

- has 14 defensive players on NFL rosters from the 1997 team that finished No. 4 in the nation in the coaches' poll

- is the only ACC school to have at least one player selected in every NFL Draft since 1971

- produced 59 players who played in the NFL that played at Carolina in Carl Torbush's 12 years on the coaching staff

- has the only three-time first-team All-America in ACC football history - cornerback Dre' Bly (1996-97-98)

TAR HEEL TRADITIONS 280 (Nickname, Mascot, Colors)

On July 9, 1997, Carolina and NIKE signed a five-year $7.1 million contract under which Nike will provide each varsity team shoes, apparel, equipment bags and other products. UNC also received $400,000 for the Chancellor's Academic Enhancement Fund.

IN MEMORIAM

"Michael was a students' chancellor, always directly involved with students ... Michael was the people's chancellor, making it a point to visit every North Carolina county - to reach out to the people of this state and to learn from them. And Michael was an outstanding advocate for public education. His love and commitment to our nation's first public university were unwavering throughout his career and illness."

• NC Governor James B. Hunt Jr.

"Michael was not only the leader of the University, but he was also my friend. His pride, dedication and love for the University inspired all of us to be the best we can be. No one loved to compete and win more than Michael, but he demanded it be done in a first-class manner. Michael was always there for our program - to celebrate the joy of a big win or offer words of encouragement after a tough loss. His spirit will continue to be a guiding light for all of us who love the University. He will be missed, but not forgotten."

• Head Football Coach Carl Torbush

Chancellor Michael Hooker
UNC '69
1945-1999

"Michael Haaker represented the very best in our education system - and the very best in public service. He will be missed."

• President Bill Clinton

"Michael's support for our athletic programs and especially our student-athletes was well-known. He had a tremendous interest in the welfare of our student-athletes and I know that many people appreciated that. Most of all, his vision and progressive leadership of the University will be missed."

• Director of Athletics Dick Baddaur

"He was a real visionary. He came in and saw where he thought this University should go and did an excellent job heading it in that direction. I hope whoever does follow him continues that vision and continues to see that Chapel Hill becomes the No. 1 public university in the nation."

• Student Body President Nic Heinke

On June 29, 1999, Chancellor Michael Hooker passed away after a six-month battle with non-Hodgkins lymphoma. A 1969 UNC graduate, Hooker was installed as Chancellor in October of 1995.

He has been hailed as a man of extraordinary energy, vision and commitment. His love for the University and Chapel Hill was matched only by his belief that the mission of the state's flagship university is to serve the people. Chancellor Hooker, 53, believed in technological advancement and emphasized cutting-edge research. His plans have laid the foundation for the University's ability to compete well into the 21st century.

The athletic department has lost one of its staunchest supporters. In victory or defeat, the Chancellor seemed to always be there to lend a handshake, pat on the back or words of comfort and encouragement. First and foremost, he believed in the idea that the University of North Carolina should strive to be the finest public university in the country. For that, we dedicate the 1999 football yearbook in his honor and memory.

We extend our deepest respects and condolences to his family.

Chancellor Hooker "In His Own Words"

"If I have brought Carolina into the 21st Century, if I have put us on a course toward continued excellence into the future in leadership in higher education, which is what I am trying with every fiber in my being, then I will be satisfied."

"I think the challenge for the University is to remind the citizens of North Carolina of the importance of the University to the well-being of the state and to point out ... the world is changing in such a way that the University is needed far more than it has been needed in the past."

"From the very first moment, my memories of Chapel Hill carry with them a quality of magic which is present to this day. As soon as I step on campus, I am filled with that feeling of respect, of awe, of magic. So it is a dream come true, a dream of a lifetime, to be able to come back to Chapel Hill as a chancellor of this campus."

MEDIA INFORMATION & POLICIES

MEDIA RELATIONS FOR FOOTBALL

Coordinated by Steve Kirschner, Director of Media Relations for Football and Men's Basketball, and David Tinson, Assistant Media Relations Director. Please direct interview, information and photo requests to either Kirschner or Tinson.

The University of North Carolina Athletic Media Relations Office is located on the main level of the Dean E. Smith Center, less than one mile from Kenan Stadium. Parking is available in the lot behind Koury Natatorium; enter off Skipper Bowles Drive. The office is on Level 2 directly across from the men's basketball office.

CREDENTIALS

Requests for working press credentials at Carolina home football games should be made in writing on station/newspaper/magazine letterhead to Rick Brewer in the Athletic Media Relations Office. The mailing address is P.O. Box 2126, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27515. Requests may be sent via fax or e-mail, but all requests should be sent so they reach the Media Relations Office at least one week prior to the game.

Because of the demand for credentials, media agencies that cover Carolina and the visiting school on a regular basis will receive top priority. Other credentials will be issued on the basis of circulation and the availability of space. Credentials will be mailed if at all possible. Otherwise, they may be picked up before 5 p.m. on Friday at the Media Relations Office. Those credentials not picked up by 5 p.m. on Friday will be left for Saturday pickup at Kenan Stadium Will Call at Gate Six (6), directly beneath the press box. Will Call opens two hours prior to kickoff.

PRESS BOX SERVICES

Programs, flip cards, statistics and notes will be provided before each game. A play-by-play will be distributed at the conclusion of each quarter. Halftime statistics will also be available. Complete team and individual statistics, a scoring summary and coaches' quotes will be provided after the game. A light meal will be served before each game. Soft drinks, coffee and snacks will be available throughout the game.

SIDELINE POLICY

Photographers will not be allowed on the sidelines without a UNC-issued photographer's vest. Vests will be distributed at field level (near original fieldhouse) beginning 90 minutes prior to kickoff. Each photographer must sign in for his/her own vest. Under NCAA and Atlantic Coast Conference guidelines, photographers are not allowed between the 25-yard lines and must remain outside the restraining lines surrounding the field. Credential holders not working will be asked to leave the sidelines. Assistant Directors of Media Relations David Tinson and Dana Gelin will be on the field to handle any questions and serve as field liaison to press box officials. We ask, for the safety of others, that equipment is not left unattended on the sidelines. If you are shooting with a tripod, please keep a safe distance from the playing field.

GAMEDAY PARKING

Press parking at Kenan Stadium is available on an extremely limited basis. Requests for parking passes should be made well in advance to Rick Brewer.

Parking is located in the lot on the corner of Gravelly Drive and Manning Drive or the parking deck diagonally across the street from that lot. Either location is a five-minute walk from the press box and there are occasional shuttles.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Following a brief cooling-off period, requested UNC players will head directly to the interview area in the Frank H. Kenan Football Center Hall of Honor (first floor, adjacent to weight room) for a 20-25 minute interview period. The Tar Heels' locker room is closed. Representatives from the Media Relations Office will walk through the press box midway through the fourth quarter to take player requests from the media. On-field media should direct interview requests to David Tinson.

Head coach Carl Torbush will conduct a short interview with Woody Durham for the Tar Heel Sports Network's live broadcast while the players are in the interview area. Approximately 15 minutes after the players have begun their interview period, Torbush will begin his postgame press conference in the auditorium on the second floor of the Football Center.

After night games, Torbush and the players will be available simultaneously due to deadline demands. Quotes will be gathered from both Torbush and several players for distribution in the press box. Away game procedures will vary, depending on available facilities.

Please note: Torbush is contractually obligated to do a short postgame interview with the Tar Heel Sports Radio Network. After night games, great care will be taken to get Torbush to the general media as quickly as possible. We understand everyone has deadline pressures after late games and will do our best to provide access to Torbush as quickly as possible.

PHONES

The Department of Athletics furnishes approximately 10 telephones along press row for writers to file stories. All long distance calls must be by credit card, collect or billed to a third number. Anyone desiring a private phone should contact Southern Bell at least two weeks prior to the game. If you are calling from within the 919 area code, dial 780-2800. However, if you are calling from outside the 919 area code, then you must dial 1-800-919-2800.

Note: the on-campus building number for the press box at Kenan Stadium, for which you will be asked, is #519. Rick Brewer should be listed as the stadium contact for placing the phone.

We have one fax machine available for media use. Media should make a representative of the Athletic Media Relations Office aware of their fax needs prior to the end of the game.

INTERVIEWS WITH COACH TORBUSH

Carl Torbush will meet with the media at noon each Tuesday prior to a game. Torbush will meet with television stations for 20 minutes and with print media for 40 minutes. The order of the interviews depends on the availability of players. Out-of-town media may access the print portion of the press conference by phone. You can listen and ask questions, time permitting, by using this service. Contact Steve Kirschner for the phone number and exact time Torbush will meet with the print media each week.

Torbush will conduct TV interviews on the balcony outside the Stadium Club on the second floor of the Football Center. The print media portion of the press conference will be in the Norman Black Jr. Lounge on the fourth floor of the Football Center.

Interviews with Torbush at other times during the week can be set up by contacting Kirschner or Maria Smith, Torbush's secretary in the football office. If he is unavailable at the time of your call, he will make every effort to return the call as soon as possible. Staff meetings are conducted during the morning. Smith's number is (919) 962-9144.

Torbush is also available on the weekly ACC Teleconference on Wednesdays at 11:30 a.m. Contact Brian Morrison at the ACC or Kirschner for the phone number.

Torbush will also be available via teleconference for 15 minutes on Sundays (day after games only) at 5 p.m. Contact Kirschner for the number.

Torbush will also be available after practice Wednesday and Thursday for 10 minutes. Tuesday practices are open to the media. On Wednesdays and Thursdays, please wait outside the practice field until the gate is opened.

PLAYER INTERVIEWS

All player interviews should be arranged through Steve Kirschner or David Tinson in the Media Relations Office. Players have been instructed not to grant an interview request unless they have been set up in this manner. The interviews will generally be at the conclusion of practice at the practice field or Football Center. All interviews are to be conducted on Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday.

Each week at least one player will be made available at the Tuesday press conference.

Telephone interviews are conducted at the player's convenience. Usually they are handled by players returning calls immediately after practice (between approximately 6:30 and 7:30 p.m.). No home numbers for players will be given out and players have been told not to accept calls from anyone asking football-related questions.

Please do not show up and wait for players unannounced on campus, at players' housing or the Football Center. The players have been instructed to politely decline the request and refer the person to the Media Relations Office.

Players may do taped radio interviews

Note: Due to the overwhelming number of all-sports radio talk stations, players will generally not be available to appear on these shows. Hometown stations, stations in that week's opponent's market or national shows may be accommodated. Internet sites requesting interviews must be legitimate media sites and interviews will be granted at the discretion of the Director of Media Relations.

PRACTICE COVERAGE

Subject to change, Carolina will practice each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday beginning at 4 p.m. on the practice fields located directly across the street from the baseball stadium and adjacent to the UNC School of Law.

Practice is open to the media on Tuesday (4 to approximately 6:15 p.m.). Players and coaches are available to meet with the media after practice on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Once the team goes into pads in the fall, photographers (still and video) will be allowed to shoot only warm-ups, stretching drills and the first six periods of work (30 minutes). Team meetings after practice are private and are not to be videotaped or microphoned.

Once the school year starts, practice generally begins with stretching exercises at 3:45 p.m. and the first period of drills at approximately 4 p.m. The team, in general, does only light running and stretching on Sunday and does not practice on Monday, except after an open date.

FAXBACK SERVICE

The ACC and its member institutions provide statistics, schedules, notes and releases on a fax-on-demand service. This is a media information service. Phone numbers are not to be distributed to the general public. If you wish to use this service, please call the Media Relations Office or the ACC Office for further information.

DIRECTIONS TO MEDIA PARKING

Map to Campus & Parking Lots on Page 7

From Eastern North Carolina and/or Raleigh/Durham International Airport:

Take I-40 West to Chapel Hill. Stay in the left or middle lane because I-40 splits about five miles past the airport (the right lane heads to Durham). Stay to the left and follow I-40 West to Exit 273-B. Follow NC-54 West for approximately three miles. Exit right onto Route 15-501 South/54 West and follow for one mile. Turn right at the traffic light onto Manning Drive. Go up the hill, stay straight through the intersection. The next traffic light will be at the intersection of Manning Drive and Gravelly Drive. Press parking is either in the Craige Deck on the left-hand side of the street just before the light or in the lot at the corner of Manning and Gravelly.

From North of Chapel Hill: Take I-85 South to Durham. I-85 will split at exit 174. The right-hand lane takes you to I-40 and Greensboro. Stay in the left-hand lane and take exit 174 (a left-hand exit) for 15-501 South. Stay on 15-501 South to Chapel Hill. Stay to the left on 15-501 Bypass until you turn right onto Manning Drive. See above.

From Charlotte and West of Chapel Hill:

Take I-85 North to I-40 East. 85 and 40 split in Hillsborough, just west of Chapel Hill. Take I-40 to exit 270 and exit onto Route 15-501 South. Stay on 15-501 South to Chapel Hill. Stay to the left on 15-501 Bypass when it splits into 15-501 and Franklin Street. Follow 15-501 to Manning Drive and turn right. See above.

From South of Chapel Hill: Take I-77 North to I-85 and then follow the same directions as from Charlotte. Or take I-95 North to I-40 West. 95 and 40 converge just north of Benson, N.C. Then take I-40 all the way to Chapel Hill and follow the directions from the airport. See above.

PREVIEWING THE 1999 TAR HEELS

Carolina head coach Carl Torbush directs a team with just three starters remaining from the 1997 squad that won 11 games and finished fourth in the final coaches' poll. All three starters – tight end Alge Crumpler, guard Mike Gimbol and fullback Deon Dyer – are on offense.

UNC has played in seven consecutive bowl games and is the only team in the country to have won postseason contests in each of the last four seasons. However, for the Tar Heels to extend those marks another year a number of newcomers will have to play major roles.

Linebackers Brandon Spoon and Sedrick Hodge and tackles Sherrod Peace and Ryan Sims lead a defense that has lost seven starters in each of the past two offseasons. Last year, the Tar Heels were without three first-round draft picks and NFL rookie starters in Greg Ellis, Brian Simmons and Vonnie Holliday. This year, Carolina must overcome the losses of defensive end Ebenezer Ekuban, a first-round pick, cornerback Dre' Bly and defensive tackle Russell Davis, both second-round selections, and linebacker Keith Newman, a fourth-round draftee.

Hodge, Spoon, safety Billy-Dee Greenwood and Peace are the only four players returning on defense among the 11 who saw the most action in 1998.

"We have lost the last remaining group of players from what was the best three-year defense in Carolina football history," says Torbush, the only coach in UNC history to lead Carolina to a bowl game in his first season as head coach. "Now we have to work with guys like Julius Peppers, Brian Norwood, Quincy Monk, Errol Hood, Anthony Anderson and Joey Evans and find out how good they are, how mature they have become and how physically ready they are to play."

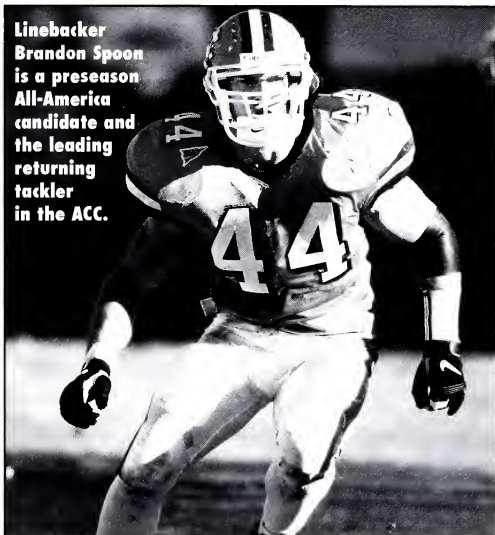

Spoon Leads Four Returning Starters on Defense

Spoon, a 6-2, 240-pound senior from Burlington, N.C., led the Tar Heels last fall with 138 tackles and is the returning sack leader with five for 37 yards. A preseason All-America, Spoon calls the signals for the front seven, is one of the best conditioned players on the squad and is among the team's fiercest competitors. The Sporting News ranks Spoon the No. 4 linebacker in the country.

Hodge, a 6-4, 235-pound junior from Atlanta, Ga., started every game at outside linebacker in 1998. He was fourth on the team in tackles with 89, including 11 behind the line of scrimmage. An exceptional athlete, Hodge was a sprint champion in high school and long jumped better than 23 feet this year.

Peace, a 6-4, 270-pound senior from Durham, N.C., transferred to Carolina after two years at a junior college in Mississippi. A cousin of senior wide receiver Jason Peace, Sherrod started nine games at tackle after Russell Davis was slowed by an ankle injury. He finished the year with three and one-half sacks, including one for nine yards in UNC's big first half against NC State.

Sims, a 6-4, 300-pound sophomore from Spartanburg, S.C., appeared in every game last year as a true freshman. He played on more than 400 snaps, the highest number of any true freshman on defense and second only to quarterback Ronald Curry. Sims had four tackles for losses, including two sacks, among his 31 tackles.

Antwon Black and Greenwood shared playing time last year at free safety. Greenwood made tremendous progress last fall and has a chance to be a fine player for the Tar Heels. A 6-2, 185-pound sophomore from Stamford, Conn., Greenwood was the sixth-leading tackler on the team last year with 78 hits and four pass breakups. He started the final two regular-season games and the Las Vegas Bowl.

Black, a 5-11, 190-pound junior from Central, S.C., started nine times and made 63 tackles. He returned a botched field goal attempt against Georgia Tech 81 yards for a touchdown.

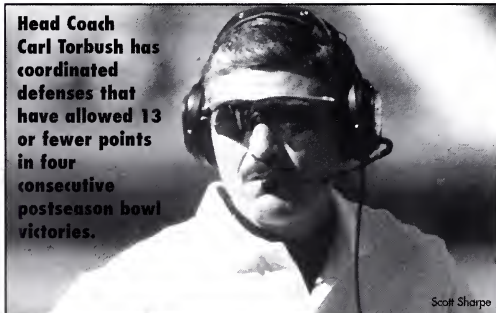

Inexperience at Cornerback A Major Concern

Hood and Anthony Anderson were the only two scholarship cornerbacks in the program during the spring. They will compete for playing time with a number of true freshmen who the Tar Heels inked to scholarships this year.

Hood, a 5-11, 190-pound sophomore from Lenoir, N.C., saw action on more than 200 snaps last year. He broke up one pass against Pittsburgh and caused a fumble on the opening kickoff return at Wake Forest.

Anderson missed the latter part of the season due to a back injury. The 5-9, 180-pound sophomore from Thomasville, N.C., played almost 200 snaps last year. He broke up three passes late in the game against Pittsburgh and two more against Wake Forest.

Quinton Savage, a 5-11, 195-pound junior from Denver, Colo., and David Bomar, a 5-11, 185-pound senior from Durham, N.C., have seen playing time in reserve roles at safety and on special teams. Savage made history by blocking punts that UNC recovered for touchdowns in the 1998 Gator Bowl win over Virginia Tech and the 1998 Las Vegas Bowl triumph over San Diego State. He backed up Jomo Legins last year at strong safety and broke up four passes.

Bomar recovered the blocked punt in the end zone for a touchdown in the Las Vegas Bowl. In addition to strong safety, Bomar is a regular on most special team units and can hold on field goals and extra points.

Nathan Sutton and Marcus Jones might also see some action in the secondary. Sutton, a 5-10, 180-pound sophomore cornerback from Waynesville, N.C., tore an anterior cruciate ligament in his knee a year ago in spring practice and missed the entire season. Jones is a 6-2, 205-pound red-shirt freshman safety from Lufkin, Texas.

Linebacker Solid Again

The Sporting News ranks Carolina's linebackers fourth-best in the country this fall behind only Penn State, California and Miami (Fla.). Hodge and Spoon are anchors at linebacker and should be joined in the regular rotation by Merceda Perry, a 6-4, 245-pound junior from Asheboro, N.C., and Quincy Monk, a 6-4, 235-pound sophomore from Jacksonville, N.C.

Perry and Hodge both played as true freshmen in reserve roles behind Simmons and Butkus Award finalist Kivuusama Mays. Last year, Perry was the first linebacker off the bench and saw action on almost 300 snaps. He made 41 tackles, none bigger than when he charged into the Virginia backfield and caused a fumble the Tar Heels recovered deep in UNC territory.

Youth Will be Served On Defensive Line

Seniors Sherrod Peace and Teto Simpson and juniors Stephon McQueen and Ross McAllister are the only upper-classmen among the defensive linemen. That quartet has combined for just 11 career starts, nine of them by Peace. Peace and Sims should start at tackle, but next to them on the line is a number of inexperienced players. That group will compete in the preseason for spots on the depth chart at tackle and end. It includes McQueen, a 6-4, 260-pound junior from Raleigh, N.C.; Anthony Perkins, a 6-5, 255-pound junior from Holly Springs, N.C.; Joey Evans, a 6-5, 260-pound sophomore from Fayetteville, N.C.; Norwood, a 6-5, 290-pound red-shirt freshman from Hamlet, N.C.; Peppers, a 6-6, 280-pound red-shirt freshman from Bailey, N.C.; Eric Davis, a 6-3, 260-pound red-shirt freshman from Rockingham, N.C.; and Willie Quick, a 6-3, 280-pound red-shirt freshman from Rockingham, N.C.

Simpson, a 6-4 senior from Greenville, N.C., has 36 career tackles, including three sacks.

Injured Offensive Stars Set to Return

Offensively, an alarming number of players are coming off injuries that caused them to miss all or most of last season. That list includes tight end Alge Crumpler, wide receiver Jason Peace, offensive lineman Bryan Malloy, tailback Domonique Williams, centers Cam Holland and Ryan Carfley and wide receiver Bosley Allen.

Crumpler, a 6-3, 260-pound junior from Wilmington, N.C., earned second-team All-ACC honors in 1997 after he caught 24 passes and scored four touchdowns. In March 1998, a defender rolled into Crumpler, causing torn ligaments and cartilage in his left knee. That injury knocked one of Carolina's best offensive threats off the field for the entire season. Crumpler returned to practice in the spring and is on schedule to play again this fall.

Jason Peace caught 32 passes for 418 yards and two touchdowns in 1997 and led UNC in the season opener against Miami with four catches. However, he tore his right ACL in practice the week of the Stanford game and missed the rest of the season. His return to the lineup is critical due to the departure of seniors Na Brown and L.C. Stevens (285 combined career catches) and the injury to Allen. A speedster from Sarasota, Fla., Allen would have been one of the ACC's top young threats this year, but he tore ligaments in his left knee returning a kickoff against NC State in the final regular-season game and is likely lost for the upcoming season.

Williams, a sophomore from Upper Marlboro, Md., was the favorite to start at tailback heading into preseason practice in 1998, but he suffered a stress fracture of his right tibia in the first preseason practice and was also later declared academically ineligible for the season. Williams had 15 carries for 50 yards, including a 10-yard touchdown run, as a true freshman in 1997. He should give the Tar Heels a little depth at the position with returning starter Rufus Brown and Anthony Saunders.

Malloy, a 6-3, 300-pound red-shirt freshman from Shelby, N.C., enrolled at UNC in January 1998 and earned a spot on the depth chart at center and guard before suffering an ACL injury in August that knocked him out for the year.

Holland, a 6-2, 300-pound junior from Franklin, N.C., started five of the first six games last year at center, but dislocated his kneecap against Wake Forest and missed the final six games.

Carfley, a 6-1, 300-pound senior from Ridgewood, N.J., took over as the starter at center after Holland's injury. He was injured in the first quarter of the Las Vegas Bowl and had surgery in January to repair torn cartilage.

Despite the injuries to Carfley, Holland and Malloy, the line's experience is one of the offense's strengths. "I feel good about our offensive line coming back," says Torbush. "We have a lot of experience returning, so that should help us be a better football team. We have to develop a more consistent running game and still be able to throw the ball downfield.

"To be a Top 10 program, you have to be able to run and throw the football."

Seniors Dominate Offensive Line

Crumpler's expected return allows Allen Mogridge to move to offensive tackle.

Mogridge, a 6-4, 280-pound senior from Sevierville, Tenn., caught four passes for 32 yards and one touchdown as the Tar Heels' starting tight end in all 12 games last year. Mogridge has played tight end, fullback, linebacker and defensive end in previous collegiate seasons. He could start at tackle this fall.

Returning offensive linemen include guard Bryan Jones, a 6-4, 290-pound senior from Valparaiso, Fla., guard James

Wagstaff, a 6-3, 355-pound junior from Charlotte, N.C.; guard Mike Gimbal, a 6-4, 310-pound senior from Doylestown, Pa.; tackle Kareem Ellis, a 6-5, 312-pound senior from Jacksonville, N.C.; tackle Louis Marchetti, a 6-6, 280-pound junior from Nashville, Tenn.; center Adam Metts, a 6-0, 270-pound sophomore from Burlington, N.C.; tackle/center Isaac Morford, a 6-3, 295-pound red-shirt freshman from Melrose, Fla.; and guard Don Peters, a 6-2, 305-pound red-shirt freshman from Mattawan, Mich.

Jones had the most consistent season of the offensive linemen. He started the first four games last fall at right tackle, then shifted to right guard for the final eight starts. He played more than 750 snaps, more than any other player on offense.

Wagstaff and Gimbal shared playing time at left guard. Gimbal started every game at that position in 1997 and Wagstaff started all 12 games there in 1998.

Ellis made the first seven starts of his career in 1998. He started six games at right tackle and one at left tackle. The Tar Heels won four of the six games he started at right tackle.

Ideally, Metts would not have played at all last year, but with the injuries to Malloy and Holland, he came out of a red-shirt season in the seventh game and played 18 snaps over the final five regular-season contests.

Crumpler Leads Stellar Group at Tight End

Some reshuffling takes place at tight end with Crumpler's return and Mogridge's shift to tackle. Dauntae Finger, a 6-3, 260-pound junior from Newton, N.C.; and Zach Hilton, a 6-6, 255-pound red-shirt freshman from Silver Spring, Md., will battle for the first spot off the bench. Finger made a 25-yard reception last year against Clemson that led to a touchdown.

Doug Brown, a 6-4, 250-pound sophomore from Winston-Salem, N.C., spent his first two seasons as a defensive end, but is now at tight end. Bryan Griffin, a 6-5, 240-pound senior from Clinton, N.C., had a 23-yard catch last year against Maryland.

Quarterbacks Curry, Huard Must Emerge as Leaders

Curry earned Most Valuable Offensive Player honors in the Las Vegas Bowl victory. He scored on a 48-yard run in the first quarter and finished as the game's leading rusher with 93 yards on 10 carries. Curry started four games and set Carolina freshman records for most total offense yards

Brad Smith

Quarterback Ronald Curry earned Most Valuable Player honors in the Las Vegas Bowl, largely because of this 48-yard touchdown run on the final play of the opening quarter. Curry led the Tar Heels in total offense last year with 1,394 yards.

(1,394), pass completions (66), passing yards (975) and touchdown passes (six). In his first start, at Stanford, he was 19 for 34 for 304 yards and two touchdowns. At Wake Forest, he threw for 230 yards and a touchdown. He engineered a brilliant fourth-quarter drive at Florida State which he capped with a touchdown pass. Curry, also a guard on the UNC basketball team, was Carolina's second-leading rusher last year with 419 yards and two touchdowns.

Huard, a 6-4, 215-pound native of Puyallup, Wash., was the Player of the Year in Washington in 1997 as he threw for 2,650 yards and 39 touchdowns. His brothers, Damon and Brock, played quarterback at the University of Washington and are currently playing in the NFL.

Peace, Bailey Headline Talented Wide Receivers

The expected return of Jason Peace will help at wide receiver. The coaches were looking for Peace to have a breakout season a year ago and will count on his veteran leadership and experience this fall. His early-season injury created playing time for Kory Bailey, a 6-1, 190-pound sophomore from Durham, N.C., who was one of the season's most pleasant surprises. He set UNC freshman records with 38 receptions (for 363 yards) and four touchdowns. The latter broke the mark set by Art Weiner in 1946 and Octavus Barnes in 1994.

Bailey had at least one reception in all 11 regular-season games and caught touchdown passes against Stanford, Clemson, Wake Forest and Florida State. His spectacular, 19-yard touchdown catch on fourth down late in the game at Stanford tied the game at 34-34. Bailey also had a 95-yard kickoff return for a touchdown against Georgia Tech.

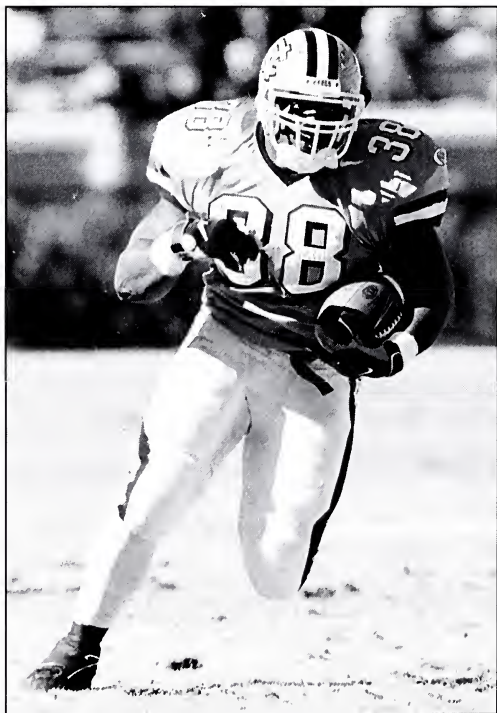

Neither Peace nor Allen were able to participate in the spring. That gave extra reps to Greg Harris, a 6-2, 215-pound senior from Mebane, N.C., and Danny Davis, a 6-0, 185-pound sophomore from Manteo, N.C. When the Tar Heels go into their three- and four-wide sets look for DeFonte Coleman, a Senior Deon Dyer is one of the premier fullbacks in college football. Dyer shared the team lead last fall with seven touchdowns. He scored in all six of UNC's regular-season victories. (Jim Bounds)

Bruising Fullbacks, Depth at Tailback

The Tar Heels have experience at both running back positions led by senior fullback Deon Dyer. The 6-0, 245-pound Chesapeake, Va., native has been one of the most productive players on offense the past two seasons, although he plays a position that gets little notice. A bruising blocker and ballcarrier, Dyer spent much of 1997 opening holes through which Jonathan Linton raced for more than 1,000 yards. Last year, Dyer led Carolina with six rushing touchdowns and added another on a game-winning catch against Clemson. Dyer rushed 84 times for 258 yards last year. He scored touchdowns in all six of UNC's regular-season victories.

Dyer's highlight game came in Charlotte against NC State when he rushed for 58 yards and two scores in the 37-34 win over the Pack. His 36-yard Wide receiver Kory Bailey made a UNC rookie record-38 receptions in 1998. The Durham, N.C., native also had a 95-yard kickoff return for a touchdown and led UNC with a 13.1 yard return average. (Jim Moriarty) touchdown run in the third quarter was the longest touchdown dash of his career.

Ronnie Robinson, a 6-1, 235-pound junior from Atlanta, Ga., backs up Dyer. Robinson started the first two games at tailback. He had 61 yards and a touchdown on 25 carries last year.

Saunders, a 6-1, 225-pound sophomore from Greensboro, N.C., spent much of 1998 at fullback, but earned the start at tailback in the Las Vegas Bowl. He carried a season-high 17 times for 39 yards against the Aztecs. At the coaches' request, he played at nearly 240 pounds early last fall, but has dropped back to 225.

Rufus Brown, a 6-1, 215-pound sophomore from Belzoni, Miss., started the final eight regular-season games at tailback and became the first freshman to lead the team in rushing yards since Natrone Means in 1990. Brown gained 534 yards and scored three touchdowns on the ground and was fourth on the team in receptions with 12 for 87 yards.

Brown had a season-high 143 yards and one touchdown in the 38-31 win at Wake Forest. He added 83 yards and a score at Duke, 66 yards against NC State and 64 yards at Florida State. Last August, Brown injured his left knee in a scrimmage and was forced to play with a knee brace for the first five games. He averaged 23 yards per game with the brace and 70 yards per game after he shed the brace. He was limited to just three snaps in the Las Vegas Bowl due to a bruised sternum, an injury he suffered against NC State. Brown was at full strength in the spring and looked much sharper cutting with the football.

McGee, Schmitz Among Nation's Top Kickers

The Tar Heels return almost all of their special team performers. Senior punter Brian Schmitz was Jason Peace returns to the lineup after missing the final 11 games of last season due to a knee injury. Peace has 39 career receptions, including this touchdown catch against Duke in 1997.

Sports Illustrated's All-Bowl Team Punter after his game-saving performance in blustery conditions in Las Vegas. He earned second-team All-ACC honors last fall averaging 44.8 yards per punt, the third-highest average in Tar Heel history. The Sporting News ranks Schmitz the No. 2 punter in the country.

Senior place-kicker Josh McGee has a chance to set several career marks at Carolina. The Pearl, Miss., native is 35 for 51 in field goals in his career and is 10th at UNC in career scoring with 205 points.

He is third among kickers in scoring and needs just 27 points to break Tripp Pignetti's record. McGee is fourth in field goals at UNC and needs only nine to break Clint Gwaltney's record of 43.

Last year, McGee tied the UNC single-season record by connecting on all 30 point after attempts. Last October, the left-footed kicker tore his right ACL, but did not miss a single game. He underwent reconstructive knee surgery just after the Las Vegas Bowl.

KENAN MEMORIAL STADIUM

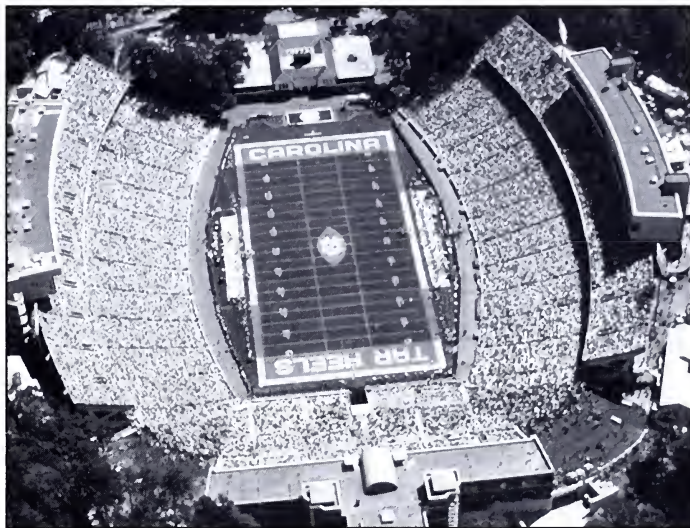

Carolina football plays its home games at Kenan Memorial Stadium, one of the most picturesque athletic venues in America. The Tar Heels have called Kenan Stadium home since 1927 and the thrill of playing in or attending a game there is as exhilarating now as it was when it was first constructed.

The stadium's beauty, charm and simple elegance have not been diminished with the recent expansion project that added nearly 8,000 seats, a state-of-the-art football facility, chancellor's box and preferred seating box. The renovation and expansion project was financed through a combination of private contributions through the Educational Foundation and bonded indebtedness from the athletic department through the sale of revenue-generating bonds. The Educational Foundation and its members have committed more than $43 million to the project.

Kenan Stadium is one of the most beautiful football facilities in the nation. Considering its majestic setting among the Carolina pines, many observers say it is the most beautiful. One national sports magazine rated Kenan one of the five best places in America to watch a college football game. For scenery, atmosphere and charm, it cannot be surpassed.

The stadium has been expanded several times since its completion in 1927. In each instance, though, great care was taken to keep its fundamental beauty intact. The addition of the Frank H. Kenan Football Center and the North Side Stadium Preferred Seating Box have further enhanced the stadium's status as a campus landmark.

"Kenan Stadium has always been one of the prettiest places to spend a Saturday in the fall," says head coach Carl Torbush. "Now, with the Frank H. Kenan Center, it is also one of the most impressive places to work each day. This building is unmatched in college football and shows the type commitment the people of North Carolina have to sustaining an outstanding football program. Our coaches love it, our players love it and the former players who have been through it are proud of what they helped build. It has created a sense of pride that I believe each future football team will be committed to passing on from year to year."

The Kenan Football Center houses the Carolina football program, including the coaches' offices, locker rooms, weight room, training room, equipment room, players' lounge, computer labs and study areas, academic coordinator's office, 100-plus seat auditorium, theater and Hall of Honor.

The Hall of Honor, located on the ground floor, is a multimedia history of Carolina football. Photographs, awards, trophies and artifacts detailing the rich and storied history of the sport in Chapel Hill are on display. The 17 Carolina players who have been honored by placing their names and numbers on display in the stadium are also featured in the Hall of Honor. Special plaques, flags and an audio-visual presentation on each player are highlighted.

The James A. Heavner Theater was made possible by a special gift by the executive producer of the Tar Heels Sports Network and president of Vilcom. The theater is a 30-person mini-theater equipped with surround sound and seven dramatic videos presenting the history of UNC football.

A number of rooms in the Kenan Football Center have been dedicated in the honor or memory of Carolina's benefactors, fans and athletic personalities. They include the Brinkley Lounge, the fourth floor reception area named for Harvey M. Brinkley Jr.; the Don McCauley/Paul Miller Head Coach's Suite; the Norman M. (Buddy) Black Jr. Lounge, the fourth floor hospitality area; the Oscar Davenport/Chris Keldorf Quarterback Meeting Room as given by Bob Biggerstaff; the Jo Allison Clary Smith Weight Room; the Carolina Football Players' Locker Room, named in behalf of the more than 400 former Tar Heels who donated more than $2 million to the project; Koury Box North, box seating on the north side of the stadium named for Maurice J. Koury; the John W. Pope Academic Support Facility; the John W. Pope Stadium Box, a stadium box on the north side; and the John W. Swofford Auditorium.

The expansion project, in which great care was taken to ensure that the surrounding environment would be altered as little as possible, ties the north and south concourses to either end of the lower deck via the third level of the Kenan Center, making fan movement around the stadium much easier.

The new football center is named in honor of the late Frank H. Kenan, one of the school's most generous benefactors. Kenan was a Durham resident and chief executive officer of Kenan Transport Company in Chapel Hill. He passed away at the age of 83 in June 1996.

Kenan, a 1935 Carolina graduate, was the great-great-grandson of General James Kenan, a member of the University's founding board of trustees. An Atlanta native, Kenan had a tremendous impact on the growth of the University. He served on many campus boards, including the Board of Visitors and the Educational Foundation Board of Directors.

In recent years the William R. Kenan Jr. Charitable Trust, of which he was a trustee, has donated more than $100 million to schools in the state's consolidated university system, including Carolina, N.C. State and the N.C. School of the Arts. Among other things, the trust funds 92 William R. Kenan Jr. Professorships at 56 colleges and universities nationwide.

He served on the steering committee of Carolina's Bicentennial Campaign, the University's largest fund-raising effort. Gifts by him, his family and the trust during the campaign exceeded $31 million. The largest portion of that was targeted for the business school. In 1991 the school was renamed the Kenan-Flagler Business School after a $10 million gift.

The preferred seating box that rises above the second deck of the grandstand on the north side of the stadium has outdoor seating for almost 1,200 spectators. That includes the Chancellor's Box on the second level of the box 45 feet above the ground. The fourth level, 68 feet high, has outdoor seating for more than 1,000, plus concessions and a 7500 square foot lounge. There is a smaller lounge and food prep areas on the third floor.

The Kenan Football Center and preferred seating box are the predominant changes in a multi-year renovation plan that began in 1995. A new playing field was installed that spring. The new turf includes an improved drainage system beneath the field that drains through the field itself rather than off the sides of the field as in the past. Prior to the 1996 season the restrooms and concession stands were expanded and renovated and the bleachers in the end zone nearest the Bell Tower were removed in order to prepare for construction of the new Football Center.

Another significant stadium expansion took place prior to 1988 and involved adding 2,000 choice seats between the 40-yard lines where the press box and chancellor's box formerly stood. A new press box was constructed on top of the upper deck on the stadium's south side. It is a one-level elongated structure, running from 10-yard line to 10-yard line.

Also part of the 1987-88 project were a permanent lighting system, a chancellor's lounge on the north side of the field and a football lettermen's lounge on the south side. The lights are part of a General Electric low-mount system which minimizes the height of the lightpoles. Cost of the entire project was $7 million. It was funded by private gifts and bonds.

William Rand Kenan Jr. deserves the credit for originally making the stadium a part of the University. He was born in North Carolina in 1873 and graduated from Carolina in 1894. An international industrialist, Kenan discovered carbide and made monumental progress in the field of chemistry. During his business career he was president of The Florida East Coast Railroad, The Florida East Coast Hotel Company, The West Palm Beach Water Company and the Florida East Coast Car Ferry Company.

He was a director of Florida Power and Light Company and built the first power plant in Miami in the early 1900s.

The stadium was built as a memorial to his parents, William R. Kenan and Mary Hargrave Kenan. Construction began in November 1926 and was completed the following August. Complete cost of the stadium and accompanying fieldhouse was $303,000.

Originally, the stadium was to be built through funds raised by alumni donations and by June 1926, a group of nearly 40 alumni had contributed $27,926. At this time, however, a copy of the prospectus and plan of financing the stadium came into the hands of Mr. Kenan who expressed an interest in the proposal. Kenan was considering establishing a memorial to his parents and the pressing need for a stadium and the possibilities of the beauty, dignity and permanence it presented, suggested to him that the benefaction he contemplated may well take the form of a memorial stadium. The Stadium Committee immediately endorsed his proposal and on the very day in November 1926 on which Kenan visited the planned site, he announced his financial gift to build the stadium.

Mr. Kenan remained very interested in Kenan Stadium throughout his lifetime. In the 1950s he gave a $1,000,000 contribution to construct a second deck on the stadium. After Mr. Kenan's death in 1965 the William R. Kenan Jr. Charitable Trust, which was established by his will, donated $1,000,000 to enlarge and modernize Kenan Fieldhouse.

In 1988 the Kenan Trust made another $1,000,000 gift to complete the new chancellor's box on the North Side. Another lasting memory of William R. Kenan Jr. is the Kenan Athletic Scholarship Endowment valued at over $1,000,000. Each year a student athlete is awarded a full scholarship from this fund.

Besides giving the stadium to the University, Mr. Kenan also sponsored and financed the famous Kenan Professorships. He Scheduled improvements to renovate the original fieldhouse include providing substantially remodeled academic support space on the second floor which will connect with the Student-Athlete Development Center, improve the visiting team's dressing room on the first floor, and public rest rooms for use on foot-

The 1983 season saw another first in the stadium — a game played under artificial lights. The Carolina-Duke game was played in the late afternoon so it could be televised throughout the Atlantic Coast Conference area. Portable lights were brought in since the second half was played after sunset. Portable lights were also used in the 1987 Clemson game which was televised nationally by ESPN.

The 1991 season opener versus Cincinnati and the Clemson game, which was televised nationally by ESPN, were the first true night games ever played at Kenan Stadium. A total of 12 night games have been played since the lights were installed.

TAR HEEL SPORTS NETWORK

The Tar Heel football team can be playing on a crisp fall day in Kenan Stadium or across the country far from Chapel Hill, but you can always hear every game this season live on the Tar Heel Sports Network.

Webster's Dictionary defines "tradition" as an established practice or custom and that's exactly what the Tar Heel Sports Network is to Carolina fans statewide.

Even when Carolina fans can see the Tar Heels play with their own eyes, they insist on looking with their ears at the action by tuning in Woody Durham and Mick Mixon on the Tar Heel Sports Network.

Vilcom, producers of the Tar Heel Sports Network since 1975, is beginning their seventh year as the multi-media rights holder of the University of North Carolina's football and basketball media properties.

The Tar Heel Sports Network is one of the top sports radio networks in the country, but the radio broadcast is just one facet of the network's job.

Tar Heel Sports Network is a full-service marketing agency overseeing production and sales of all the University of North Carolina's football and basketball entities including television and print products.

The network brings you a variety of ways to follow the Heels during the athletic season. Simply, listen to your radio on Thursday nights for the head coaches on their radio call-in shows or watch game highlights Sundays on "Inside Carolina Football." When you are at Kenan Stadium pick-up the official game program and join us Tuesday nights for ACC Hotline to keep up with all the action across the league.

The Tar Heel Sports Network continues to bring the great tradition of Carolina sports into your home.

Woody Durham is beginning his 29th year as the "Voice of the Tar Heels." A native of Mebane, N.C., Durham grew up in Albemarle, N.C., and began his broadcasting career with WZKY Radio at age 16. He graduated from UNC in 1963 with a degree in Radio, Television and Motion Pictures.

Durham and Head Coach Carl Torbush give fans an opportunity to phone in and talk with the Coach every Thursday evening during the football season on the "Carl Torbush Live" call in show.

Durham also will visit with Coach Torbush on "Inside Carolina Football", a daily five-minute program featuring conversations with the Tar Heels' Head Coach. Both of these shows are heard on stations throughout North Carolina and beyond.

"Inside Carolina Football with Carl Torbush," hosted by Durham, is a half-hour television program seen each week on a network of stations in North Carolina and on cable networks throughout much of the United States. The show features highlights of the previous game, interviews with current and former Tar Heel players and a preview of upcoming action.

In 1981, Durham was named vice president and executive sports director at Tar Heel Sports Marketing. Since taking over play-by-play duties in 1971, he has become a permanent fixture behind the microphone during Tar Heel football and basketball games. Durham has been named North Carolina SportsCaster of the Year 10 times.

Woody and his wife of 36 years, Jean, are parents of two sons, Wes and Taylor. Wes, 33, is in his fifth year of play-by-play duties for Georgia Tech. Taylor, 26, is an account executive with WSTP Radio in Salisbury, NC. Both are graduates of Elon College.

Wes and his wife, Lynn, made grandparents out of the Durhams last spring. Emily and Will Durham were born April 21, 1999.

Mick Mixon is in his eleventh year as color analyst. A Chapel Hill native, Mixon graduated from UNC in 1980 with a degree in broadcast journalism. He was named vice president in 1996.

Mixon came to the Tar Heel Sports Network in 1989 from Columbia, S.C., where he was sports director at WIS Radio. He also has served as play-by-play voice of the Maine Guides of the Class AAA International League and as sports director of WCGC Radio in Belmont, N.C.

He married Kristin Lyn Tucker this past July 4th (AB Journalism 1990).

THIS IS CAROLINA FOOTBALL

Hugh Morton

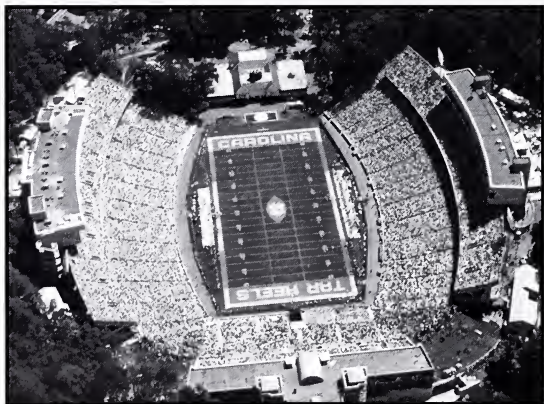

"I've always wondered what it would be like to play in Kenan Stadium on a sunny afternoon in front of a big crowd. That's one of the things I missed about college football Saturdays. They're something special in Chapel Hill. I can't imagine what it must be like for the guys who get to play in that beautiful stadium every week."

— Michael Jordan '86

Carolina has compiled a 43-11-1 record at Kenan Stadium in the 1990s, a winning percentage of .791. That includes a perfect 5-0 home mark in 1996.

TELEVISION EXPOSURE

Over the past four seasons, 43 of Carolina's 48 football games have been televised. In 1997, ESPN sent Chris Fowler and the rest of its College Gameday crew to Chapel Hill to cover all the festivities leading up to UNC's top-five battle with Florida State.

GREAT CROWDS

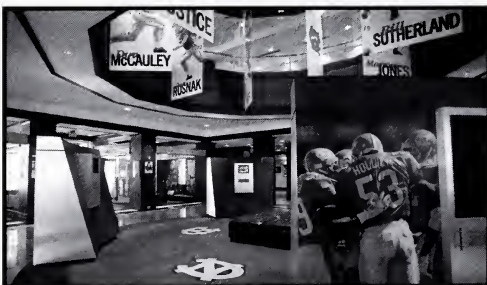

With the recent renovation to Kenan Stadium complete, the Tar Heels can now boast crowds of more than 60,000 for home games. In fact, this year Carolina sold a record number of season tickets for Tar Heel home contests — more than 36,000.

Kenan Football Center

A four-year, $50-million renovation of Kenan Stadium was completed in 1998, with the addition of the Frank H. Kenan Football Center and the John W. Pope Stadium Box. The state-of-the-art, 78,000-square foot football center houses the Carolina coaches' offices, locker-rooms, weight room, training room, equipment room, players' lounge, computer labs, study areas, a 100-seat auditorium, theater and the Hall of Honor, a multi-media history of Tar Heel football.

"We are in an era when football facilities represent how committed a program is to being one of the best. At North Carolina, I expected the Smith Center to be one of the best for basketball — and it is. What surprised me was how outstanding the new football facility is. They certainly have a top-notch facility. When I walked away from Chapel Hill, I was totally impressed. Now I judge every other facility against Carolina's because I think they have the best in the country."

— ESPN's Kirk Herbstreit

"The facilities at UNC are second-to-none. I don't know if I have ever seen a better football center than the new one here at Carolina."

— Ray Rhodes,
Head Coach, Green Bay Packers

DID YOU KNOW?

- ✓ Carolina has had 18 players selected in the NFL Draft over the past three seasons (5 in 1997, 7 in 1998 and 6 in 1999).
- ✓ 48 former Tar Heels were on NFL rosters as of July 1, 1999.
- ✓ UNC is the only ACC school to have at least one player selected in every NFL Draft since 1971.
- ✓ Nearly 73 percent of Carolina's NFL players have earned college degrees, compared to the 30 percent NFL average.

Jimmy Hitchcock tied for second in the NFL with seven interceptions in 1998, returning three for touchdowns. He helped lead the Minnesota Vikings to the best record in the NFL last year.

"The expectations placed on student-athletes at Carolina are so great, and the coaching staff sets such a high standard for everyone who's a part of the program, that when you leave here you not only know how to play the game of football, but you also know how to act as a person. That was a tremendous help for me as a rookie in the NFL."

Carolina had six players selected in the 1999 NFL Draft, including five in the first four rounds.

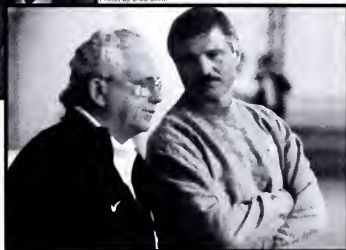

"You go to a place that's won this many games and you see what you expect to see, and that's a lot of fine athletes and good football players. The thing about these guys is that they are extremely well coached, very disciplined and from my exposure they're the type of players you want in your program. They go to school, they graduate and they don't have off-field problems. That's the type of person we'd like to have in our program."

The University of North Carolina

✓ The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill was rated the nation's third-best public university in the U.S. News and World Report's 1999 Annual Guide to America's Best Colleges. Overall, Carolina ranked 24th among all universities.

✓ The Fiske Guide to Colleges describes UNC as a "powerhouse in research and education" and refers to Carolina's "dazzling academic reputation, top-notch faculty, a gorgeously lush campus and Ivy-League ambiance with a public school price."

✓ Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine rates Carolina No. 1 in the United States among state universities, calling UNC "a place where high achievers are in good company."

"What is it that binds us to this place as to no other? It is not the Well or the Bell or the stone walls or the crisp October nights or the memory of dogwoods blooming here from the crest of New Hope Chapel Hill. "The thing I have always admired about the University of North Carolina is it's been a place that emphasized both academics and athletics and other extracurricular activities. And it's demonstrated to the country that it is not necessary to make a choice, and that there's something to be said for learning how to compete, to work on a team, to put aside your own personal ambition for what is best for a group, and that an institution like the University of North Carolina can really set a standard for the entire country."

RECENT ACCOLADES FOR THE TRIANGLE REGION

Considered one of America's best communities in which to live, the Triangle (Raleigh, Durham and Chapel Hill) has recently been named...

- ✓ The No. 2 "Best Place to Live in America/South Region/Large City" (Money, July 1998)
- ✓ The No. 10 "Best Place to Live for Twentysomethings" (Swing, July/August 1996)
- ✓ The No. 2 "City to Live and Do Business" (Outlook, January 1998)
- ✓ The No. 10 "Best Place to Start a Business" (P.O.V., December/January 1998)
- ✓ The No. 15 "National City for Job Growth" (Time, January 1997)
- ✓ The No. 3 "Most Enlightened Place to Live in America" (Ufne Reader, May/June 1997)

RESEARCH TRIANGLE PARK

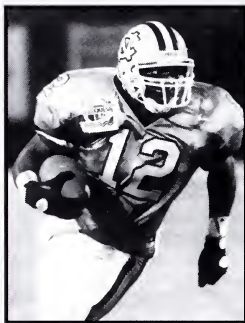

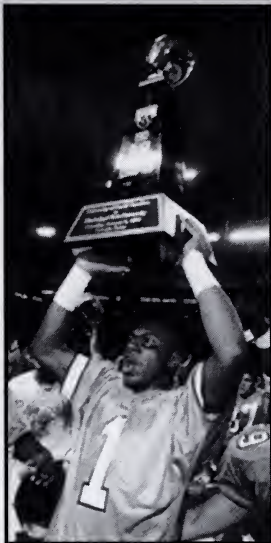

The emergence of the Research Triangle Park (RTP) has helped make the Triangle one of America's most popular places to live and one of the preeminent business centers in the nation. In fact, the Chapel Hill-Durham-Raleigh Research Triangle was named the No. 1 overall place to live in the USA in 1994 and last year was named the top large city in the south in which to reside.

UNC's Bowl Tradition

This 48-yard touchdown run by Ronald Curry in the 1998 Las Vegas Bowl sparked the Tar Heels to a 20-13 victory over San Diego State. Curry earned MVP honors in the game, which marked Carolina's fourth consecutive postseason bowl win.

Corey Holliday and the 1992 Tar Heels rallied from a 14-point halftime deficit against Mississippi State to win the Peach Bowl, the first of UNC's five bowl wins in the 1990s.

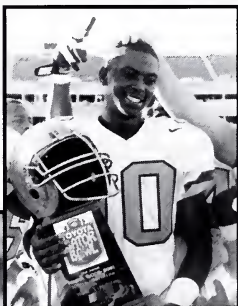

Leon Johnson rushed for a Tar Heel post-season-record 195 yards in UNC's 20-10 win over Arkansas in the 1995 Carquest Bowl.

DID YOU KNOW?

Originally opened in 1949, Finley Golf Course is undergoing a facelift by nationally acclaimed course designer Tom Fazio that will soon make it one of the premier college facilities in the nation. Pictured is the newly designed 9th green.

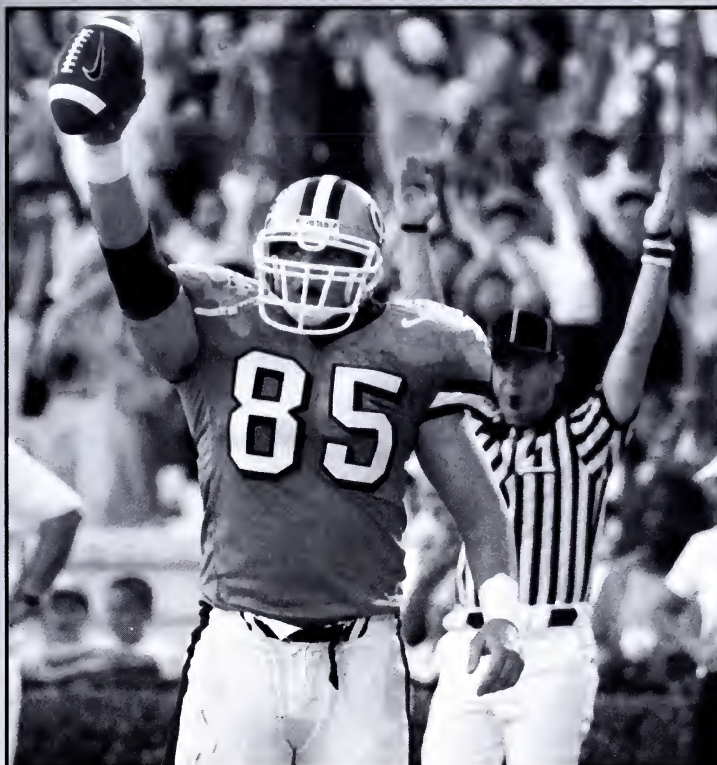

A brand new indoor practice facility, scheduled for groundbreaking this year, will include an indoor football field and a 200-meter, six-lane track.

Dedicated in September of 1986, the 21,572-seat Dean E. Smith Center stands on seven and one-half acres on the University's south campus. The building is home to the four-time national champion Carolina men's basketball program.

Henry Stadium, a $2.9-million project completed in April 1999, includes seating for 1,000, an enclosed press box, coaches' offices, lockerrooms, a sports medicine facility and a memorabilia display area. It is home to Carolina's field hockey and women's lacrosse teams and is located at the football practice field site.

BOSLEY ALLEN

Wide Receiver

6-1, 190, Sophomore

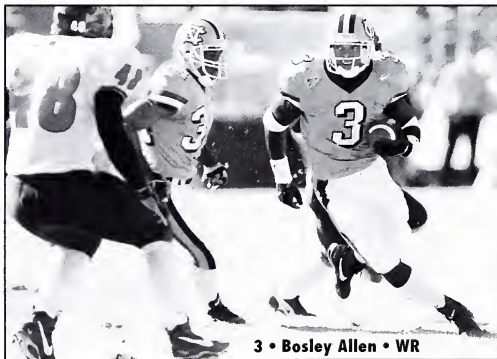

Bradenton, Fla.

Speedy receiver with all the tools to be an outstanding player. Unfortunately, he will likely miss the 1999 season due to a knee injury he suffered in the NC State game last November 28th. Tore the anterior cruciate, medial and lateral collateral ligaments in his left knee. Did not participate in spring practice. Prior to the injury, was having a solid freshman season and is projected to be a standout receiver in the future.

1998 • Freshman Season

Played in nine regular-season games. Saw action on 156 snaps at wide receiver and on special teams. Played a season-high 42 snaps against Georgia Tech. Caught three passes for 107 yards, an average of 35.7 yards per catch. Returned eight punts for 58 yards (7.2 average) and four kickoffs for 71 yards (17.8 average). Had a 25-yard punt return at Duke. Had a 21-yard pass reception at Stanford, a 70-yard reception at Wake Forest and a 16-yard catch at Florida State. The 70-yard catch at Wake Forest late in the first half set up a UNC field goal. The 16-yard catch at FSU came on a 4th-and-3 play from the Seminole 21-yard line, gave UNC a first down at the 5-yard line and set up a Tar Heel touchdown. Suffered a left knee injury while returning a kickoff against NC State in the final regular-season game. Tore the anterior cruciate, medial and lateral collateral ligaments and underwent corrective surgery in late November.

KORY BAILEY

Wide Receiver

6-1, 190, Sophomore

Durham, N.C.

Coming off an outstanding freshman season in which he set records for UNC rookie receivers and showed the ability make big plays catching and running with the football. Has a chance to develop into one of the ACC's top receivers. Makes tough catches. Can play any of the three wide receiver positions. Wants to be more consistent catching the ball this year. Is a threat to score on punt and kickoff returns.

1998 • Freshman Season

Set UNC freshman records for most receptions in season and game (tied) and most touchdown receptions in a season. Caught 38 passes for 363 yards (9.6 per) and four touchdowns. Broke the previous record of 37 receptions by Randall Felton in 1989. Tied Felton's and Corey Holliday's freshman record for single-game catches with seven against both Maryland and Virginia. Second on the team in all-purpose yards with 77.9 per game. Led the team in punt returns with 13 for 13.1 yards per return and in kickoff returns with 11 for 29.5 per return. Also, was second on the team with five touchdowns (four by reception and one by kickoff return).

Had a season-long 45-yard punt return at Duke. Returned a kickoff 95 yards for a score against Georgia Tech and had a 57-yard kickoff return at Virginia. Holds the UNC single-season freshman record for touchdown receptions with four. Art Weiner and Octavius Barnes each had three TD catches as a freshman in 1946 and 1994, respectively. Set the record with a 12-yard grab against Florida State. Had at least one catch in all 11 games and had TD grabs against Stanford, Clemson, Wake Forest and FSU. Caught a season-high seven passes for 31 yards in the win against Maryland and had seven receptions for 44 yards against Virginia. Made a sensational 32-yard touchdown catch on a deep post pattern against Wake Forest. Caught the Ronald Curry pass just as he collided with a Deacon defender, but held on and darted into the end zone for the score. Key performer in Carolina's win over Pittsburgh as he amassed 126 all-purpose yards against the Panthers. Had four catches for 47 yards, four punt returns for Finding a great high school football player is like panning for precious stones. You have to sift through never-ending piles of earth to find a rock you think will be a gem.

Every year there are thousands of good high school football players, but only a hundred or so gain national recognition. Coaches comb the nation for players with the tools to become successful college players. Sometimes that quest leads them to the other side of the country, and sometimes those players are in a school's backyard.

Carolina went right down the road to recruit wide receiver Kory Bailey, now a sophomore. Bailey was a standout at Northern Durham High School, where he broke the state single-season record with six touchdowns on punt returns, and earned all-state honors. Despite his dynamic high school career, Bailey did not gain much national attention.

"The offense we ran in high school really wasn't dominated by the pass, but people in this area knew what kind of talent I had," Bailey said. "Receiving national awards in high school is one thing, but when you get to the next level all the national recognition goes out the door and you just have to perform on the field."

Bailey came to Carolina and set freshman records for the most receptions in a season and game and for the most touchdown receptions in a season. He ranked second on the team in all purpose yards with 77.9 per game, and had a 95-yard kickoff return for a touchdown against Georgia Tech.

After an outstanding freshman year, Bailey quickly set his goals for the coming season.

"I am going to have to step up and play a more important role," he says. "With Jason Peace coming back and with Greg Harris and Danny Davis stepping up it will be a little easier. I will still have to pick up the pace and grab more passes.

"Last year, I doubled my goals for the season, but this year I would like to step it up even more. I'd like a 50 catch-season, 1,000 yards and maybe a couple touchdowns. I am also concentrating on playing better on special teams.

"I'd like to show everyone that I am not just a one-dimensional player. There are a lot of things I can do. I catch short routes, and try to make them long runs. I don't mind going across the middle and I always like to think of myself as a deep threat, even though most teams don't consider me one. I think I can get behind the corners and make something happen deep.

— Darlene Camacho, Media Relations Assistant

31 yards and two kickoff returns for 42 yards. Set up the fourth-quarter touchdown that gave UNC a 22-10 lead with a 33-yard reception off a screen pass. The play came on a 3rd-and-5 situation and gave the Tar Heels 1st-and-goal at the Pittsburgh 2-yard line. Caught a 20-yard TD pass from Oscar Davenport against Clemson. Had four receptions for 50 yards against the Tigers.

Moved into the starting lineup (in three wideout sets) after the season-ending injury to Jason Peace. Made his first college catch against Miami and added two receptions for 22 yards against Stanford. With 3:20 to play in the fourth quarter against the Cardinal, he made a sensational, over-the-shoulder, 19-yard catch for a touchdown in the back left corner of the end zone. That catch, on a fourth-and-5 play, tied the game at 34-34. Opened the second half against Georgia Tech with a 95-yard kickoff return for a touchdown. The return tied the sixth-longest return in UNC history and was the first kickoff return by a Tar Heel in Kenan Stadium since Eric Blount returned both a punt and a kickoff for scores against William and Mary in 1991.

Northern Durham High School

Played in the Shrine Bowl and had a 10-yard touchdown catch in North Carolina's 21-14 win. Played for Coach Gary Merrill. Made 34 receptions as a senior for 641 yards and eight touchdowns. Tied a state high school single-season record with six touchdowns on punt returns. Had eight career punt returns for TDs. Selected to the all-state team as a return specialist by the North Carolina Prep Report. All-conference wide receiver and specialist and Co-Offensive Back of the Year. Had 1,421 all-purpose yards as a senior. Had 71 receptions for 1,253 yards and 16 scores over his last two years. Also played basketball and runs track. Earned all-conference honors in track in the 4x100 and 4x200 relays.

RUFUS BROWN

Tailback

6-1, 215, Sophomore

Belzoni, Miss.

Enters preseason camp as the co-starter at tailback along with sophomore Anthony Saunders. Had a productive freshman season, leading the team in rushing despite being less than 100 percent healthy due to a series of injuries. Injured his knee in August, his shoulder in September, his knee again in October and his sternum in November. Showed more quickness and was more comfortable running in the spring. A strong player, he hits the hole aggressively. A smart young man who is very coachable. Learned to run with his pads lower in the spring. Will continue to improve as he gets older and gains more experience.

1998 • Freshman Season

Led the Tar Heels in rushing with 534 yards. Averaged 4.0 yards per carry and scored three rushing touchdowns. Averaged 48.5 yards per game. Averaged 62.6 yards per game in his eight starts (last eight regular-season games). Led the Tar Heels in rushing in five of the last six regular-season games (against Wake Forest, Florida State, Virginia, Duke and NC State). Played just three snaps against San Diego State in the Las Vegas Bowl

7 • Rufus Brown • TB

Sophomore tailback Rufus Brown did a little bit of everything in his days as a prep star in Belzoni, Miss. He was an all-state football player, Most Valuable Player in two varsity sports, president of the Beta Club, sports editor of the school paper and salutatorian of his senior class.

Good enough to be recruited to play tailback by every major Division I program in the country, Brown was also a standout in baseball.

"Baseball was my first love," says the Atlanta Braves fan. "But then in 10th grade I was getting better in football and baseball began to get more difficult," he says. "So I decided I should concentrate on football."

Brown's baseball career may have been inevitable considering his family's love affair with football. His father, Harry, played at Alcorn State and coached the Humphreys County football team for more than 30 years. Rufus' older brother, Harry Jr., was an assistant coach at Humphreys. Rufus' first memory of the sport is attending his father's practices.

"I remember one time when I was five years old I was standing in the end zone watching the high school team" he says. "A player trying to catch a pass ran straight through me. Everyone looked at me, but I didn't cry."

Chapel Hill may be a long way from the Mississippi practice fields, but the game is the same. Brown overcame a series of knee and shoulder injuries last year to lead the Tar Heels in rushing with 534 yards. He played his finest contest in UNC's 38-31 win at Wake Forest as he rushed for 143 yards and one touchdown.

"That game made me feel like I could play at the college level," he says. "Since then I've approached every game differently. The next week we had Florida State (he rushed for 64 yards), which also changed my outlook. Those two games really gave me a boost of confidence."

Brown has successfully made the transition from a hometown with a population of slightly more than 2,000 to a college campus of over 24,000. He enjoys the social life Carolina has to offer and definitely enjoys football. But Brown misses the Mississippi catfish.

"My hometown is the catfish capital of the world," he says. "We have a big festival every year. It's so great down there."

Brown credits much of his success to the encouragement given to him by his parents. Not only was his father his high school football coach, but his mother, Marion, taught algebra and trigonometry.

"They brought me up to put academics first," Brown says. "My father stressed a hard work ethic in academics as well as football. My mother really stressed academics. Football was separate from everything else, but I also had to make sure I was up to pace with the other students."

Brown is part of a sophomore class that played extensively as freshmen. They are the foundation of Carolina's football future.

"We are much more confident now," he says. "We know the holes and the person to go to for offense. We have worked hard and have more experience. Last year was a building block for what we can do this year. You can expect great things."

because he suffered a bruised sternum in the NC State game. Was the first freshman to lead the team in rushing since Natrone Means in 1990.

Rushed for a season-high 143 yards on 26 carries against Wake Forest. Came into the game with just 116 yards on 33 carries in the first five games. Scored on a 12-yard run and had a 46-yard run in the third quarter. His 46-yard run was the longest by a Tar Heel since Leon Johnson's 50-yard run at Duke in 1996.

Brown's 143 yards against Wake Forest were the most by a Tar Heel since Jonathan Linton had 199 yards against Duke in the 1997 regular-season finale. It was the first 100-yard rushing game by a UNC freshman since Leon Johnson had 142 against Duke in 1993. The 143 yards were the most by a UNC freshman since Leon Johnson had 147 against Ohio University in 1993. Made the biggest play of the Wake Forest game when he rushed for 25 yards for a first down in the fourth quarter. The play came on 3rd-and-25 from the UNC 13 and allowed the Tar Heels to keep alive a possession that consumed more than six minutes.

Rushed 15 times for 66 yards against NC State and 17 times for 83 yards and a touchdown at Duke. Had 20 carries for 64 yards at Florida State. Had a 15-yard run to set up UNC's second field goal and rushed four times for 22 yards on UNC's fourth-quarter, 13-play touchdown drive.

Sprained his left medial collateral ligament in a scrimmage on August 15th. Wore a knee brace through the Pittsburgh game. Played without the brace for the first time against Wake Forest and rushed for 143 yards.

Was fourth on the team in receptions with 12 for 87 yards. Played in all 12 games. Saw action on 465 snaps, although just 38 in the first three weeks and three in bowl game.

Humphreys County High School

First-team all-state tailback. Most Valuable Player of Division 4 in the 3-A classification. Selected to play in the Mississippi-Alabama All-Star Game. Played for his father, Coach Harry Brown. TIM BURGESS

Linebacker

6-2, 245, Junior

At Carolina

This past spring was his best set of practices as a Tar Heel. An inside linebacker, he shows the potential to be a solid player. Has been plagued by injuries early in his collegiate career. Worked hard in the spring to gain a spot on the two-deep. Hits hard and is able to get to the football. Played in six games at middle linebacker in 1998, including the Las Vegas Bowl. Made two tackles against Georgia Tech and one versus Pittsburgh.

Cary High School

Played in the 1995 Shrine Bowl. Was the Conference Co-Defensive Player of the Year as a senior. Three-time all-conference and all-academic conference choice. Started at outside linebacker and at tight end for the Imps. Played for a Cary team that finished the 1995 regular season 11-0. Registered 95 tackles as a senior. Had nine sacks and one interception. Caught 20 passes for 300 yards as Cary's starting tight end. Selected to play in the East-West All-Star Game. Coached by Bill Devine.

Personal

Born James Timothy Burgess II on March 20, 1978. Majoring in communications. Favorite pro teams are the Los Angeles Lakers, Dallas Cowboys. Favorite athlete is Shaquille O'Neal. Says the word that best describes him is "solemn."

RYAN CARFLEY

Center

6-1, 300, Senior

Ridgewood, N.J.

Considered to be one of the leaders on the offensive line. A vocal, hard-working player. A smart young man who was very consistent last season. Gets the most out of his athletic ability. Really likes to mix it up in the trenches. Always gives a great effort.

1998 • Junior Season

Became the starting center at mid-season and started six games, including the Las Vegas Bowl. Played well in the bowl, despite suffering a leg injury in the first quarter. Had surgery following the bowl game to repair torn cartilage.

Started against Pittsburgh in week five and in each of the last five games. Saw action on 530 snaps. Played 50 or more snaps in six games. UNC rushed for 170 or more yards in three of his six games started.

1997 • Sophomore Season

Played in five regular-season games a total of 47 snaps. Played against Indiana, Maryland, Texas Christian, Wake Forest, Duke Hobbies are reading magazines, playing with kids, playing video games and watching movies.

ALGE CRUMPLER

6-3, 260, Junior

Wilmington, N.C.

One of the finest football players in America. Has a very bright future. Unquestionably, he would have been a preseason All-America selection at tight end, but missed all of last season after he injured his knee in March 1998. Suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament, medial collateral ligament and medial meniscus (cartilage) in his left knee on March 26, 1998, when a defensive lineman rolled into his knee on a running play. Participated in almost every spring practice in 1999 and will be ready to play in the season opener.

Has the complete package of an elite player. Makes catches with defenders around him, can separate from linebackers and safeties on pass routes and is a dominant run blocker. Will be like a coach on the field. Should bring maturity and composure to the huddle. Started at tight end in 1997 when the Tar Heels finished No. 4 in the country in the final coaches' poll. Is intelligent, is football savvy and spent much of last season studying his position and serving as a student assistant coach. Can't say enough about his character and the respect he has earned from UNC coaches and players.

Competed for the UNC track and field team in the 1999 ACC Championships in the shot put. Finished second at ACCs in the outdoor championships (54-7 1/2) and fifth in the indoor meet (52-4 1/2).

1997 • Sophomore Season

Had an outstanding sophomore season. Caught 24 passes for 278 yards. Was named second-team All-ACC. Earned first-team All-ACC and honorable-mention All-America honors from Football News. Caught five passes for 77 yards in the Gator Bowl victory over Virginia Tech. Started 11 of 12 games, including the Gator Bowl. Did not start at Maryland because of an ankle injury, but did play in that game. Fifth-leading receiver on the team with 24 receptions and tied for second with four touchdowns. Scored four touchdowns in the first five games. Had a career-high six receptions and 76 yards at NC State. Also had five catches for 47 yards versus Wake Forest. Made a spectacular touchdown catch between two Virginia defenders in UNC's 48-20 victory. Had touchdown catches of 17 yards vs. Indiana, 11 yards vs. TCU, six yards vs. Stanford and 10 yards against UVa. Had four catches for at least 20 yards, including a 36-yard reception at TCU.

Alge Crumpler missed the entire 1998 season due to a knee injury, but returns to the lineup this fall after more than a year of diligent rehabilitation. As much as Crumpler looks forward to his return, the Tar Heels are dependent on the Wilmington, N.C., native's skill and leadership.

Crumpler tore the anterior cruciate and medial collateral ligaments and medial meniscus in his left knee in March 1998 when a defensive lineman rolled over the top of a pile on a routine running play in spring practice.

A year earlier, during a superb sophomore season, Crumpler caught 24 passes for 278 yards and four touchdowns en route to All-ACC honors. He would likely have emerged as an All-America candidate were it not for the injury.

"It was troubling standing on the sidelines having to watch, but I decided to help my team as much as I could," says the 6-3, 260 junior.

Consequently, Crumpler was Carolina's most ardent supporter, although he was unable to put on pads and a uniform. "I was trying to be here as much as possible to help with the team, because I did travel with the team. I tried to stay as close to the team as possible, trying to help out to the point where they started calling me Coach Crumpler."

In return for his help on the sidelines, his teammates helped through his rehabilitation. "Their encouragement, my family helping me and the coaches coming to see me helped me pull through," he says.

In addition to his teammates, coaches and family, Crumpler received motivation from numerous others. "I talked to athletes all over this campus who've had similar injuries, and got letters and e-mails from people I didn't even know who've had similar injuries."

Crumpler attributes much of his success to his family's support. His father, Carlester Sr., played in the NFL and his older brother, Carlester Jr., is a tight end for the Minnesota Vikings.

"They keep me driving. They supported everything I've done since I've been at Carolina. I love to put on a show for my family. My father can't watch me play in person, because of his job as radio analyst at East Carolina. My mother comes out and watches all the games, and I'd love to have my whole family here but, unfortunately, I can't."

Alge Crumpler

Returning from a serious knee injury is often difficult and Crumpler had his concerns about his on-field performance. He participated in all of spring practice this year, although the coaches insisted he pass on the spring game. "On the field, I knew if I felt comfortable with the way my knee felt, then I was going to be able to run around out there and catch the ball. I was a little concerned about the pile-ups and the blocking, but we worked on it after practice, so I got enough work."

Crumpler says returning from the injury has made him hungrier for success. "It has definitely made me more determined and it tells me you have to keep your motor running at all times. You can't let it ever slow down or things like this will happen."

"I thought it was very unfortunate that this did happen, but it's part of the game. I just didn't think it would happen to me. But it did, move on. I'm so glad everything was repairable and I'm able to run around here and do things again."

Crumpler has several goals for this season. "I want to keep everybody motivated. We have a really talented team, a lot of great guys. A lot of guys are young, but I've seen lesser-talented guys with a little bit of motivation just pick it up and do amazing things out here. If that can spread throughout our offense and hopefully through our whole team, we'll have a better year."

After undergoing months of rehabilitation, Crumpler is excited about returning to the field and contributing. In Crumpler the Tar Heels have a proven leader both on and off the field.

— Tyler Newman, Media Relations Assistant

1996 • Freshman Season

Was one of five true freshmen to play. Co-recipient of the Tar Heels' Most Outstanding Special Teams Player award. Caught one pass for four yards against Clemson, and scored his first touchdown against Maryland when he recovered a fumble in the end zone. Was credited with nine special teams tackles and two fumble recoveries. Also recovered a fumbled punt by NC State, a turnover that led to a UNC touchdown.

New Hanover High School

All-Mideast 4-A Conference choice in 1995. Played tight end and inside linebacker. Led team in tackles, averaging 11 per game. Played every position except quarterback and guard. Coached by Glenn Sasser. Three-time state champion in the discus and 1996 champion in the shot put.

RONALD CURRY

Quarterback

6-2, 200, Sophomore

Enters preseason practice as the starting quarterback. Also plays basketball for the Tar Heels. Was thrust into the starting job at quarterback last year on the fifth play of the opening game after an injury to senior starter Oscar Davenport. An intelligent, composed young man. Mature beyond his years. Handled extremely well an amazing amount of scrutiny and attention last year. A talented player who can run with and throw the football. Doesn't just scramble, he runs with a purpose. Showed the ability to make defenders miss at the last instant. Very accurate, strong delivery. UNC receivers were not used to any previous quarterback throwing the ball as far. Should be a pleasure to watch develop. Will switch to uniform #1 this year (wore #13 as a freshman).

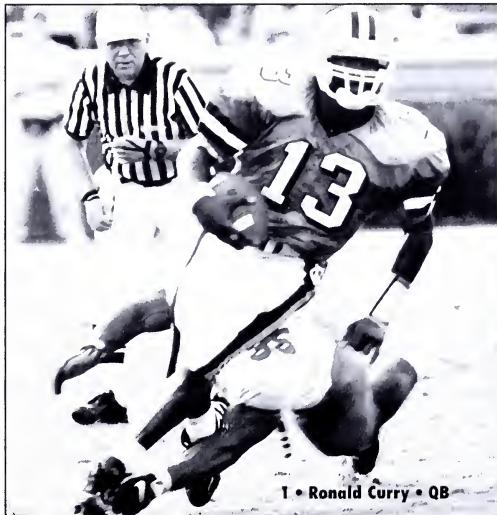

1998 • Freshman Season

Most Valuable Offensive Player in the Tar Heels' 20-13 win over San Diego State in the Las Vegas Bowl. Led all rushers in the bowl game with 93 yards and scored on a dazzling, 48-yard run on the final play of the opening quarter.

Finished second in the voting for ACC Freshman of the Year behind NC State tailback Ray Robinson. Led the Tar Heels with 1,394 total offense yards. That's a UNC single-season total offense record for freshman. The previous record was held by tailback Amos Lawrence, who had 1,231 yards in 1977. Is the first freshman to lead UNC in total offense since Lawrence. Completed 66 of 147 passes for 975 yards and six touchdowns. Completed 52 of his 66 passes in the first six games. Threw for a school freshman record 975 passing yards. Mike Thomas held the previous UNC freshman record with 831 in 1992. Set the UNC freshman single-season record with 66 completions. The previous record was 57 by Chuck Sharpe in 1978. Threw six touchdown passes. That also is the UNC freshman single-season record. The previous mark was five by Sharpe in 1978.

In his three road starts (at Stanford, Wake Forest and Florida State), he was a combined 37 for 69 for 583 yards and four touchdowns. Posted pass efficiency ratings better than 100.00 in three of the four games he was the team's primary quarterback. He had a rating of 152.78 at Wake Forest, 144.50 at Stanford and 108.95 against Miami (Ohio). Rushed for 50 or more yards in six games (93 vs. San Diego State, 75 vs. Maryland, 74 vs. Georgia Tech, 66 vs. Stanford, 50 vs. Duke and 50 vs. NC State). Second on the team in rushing yards with 419. Averaged 5.2 yards per carry, including sacks.

Completed 19 of 34 passes for 304 yards, two touchdowns and one interception against Stanford in his first college start. Had a team-high 66 rushing yards on 13 carries. Was named the ACC Rookie of the Week for his play against the Cardinal. Against Stanford, he threw a 69-yard touchdown pass to Na Brown and a 19-yard scoring pass to Kory Bailey and scored himself on an 8-yard run. The 69-yard pass cut Stanford's lead to 13-10, the 8-yard run in the fourth quarter evened the game at 27-27, and the 19-yard pass to Bailey tied the score at 34-34. Set Carolina freshman records against Stanford for most total offense yards in a game (370), most passing yards in a game (304), most completions (19), most total offense plays (47) and longest touchdown pass (69 yards). The 304 yards passing marked the 11th-highest figure in Carolina history by any player and was the 12th 300-yard passing game by a Tar Heel. The 370 yards of total offense marked the fourth-highest total offense figure in school history.

1 • Ronald Curry • QB

Made subsequent starts against Georgia Tech, Wake Forest and Florida State. Relieved an injured Oscar Davenport on the fifth play of Carolina's initial possession in the 1998 opener against Miami. Completed 11 of 22 passes for 115 yards and one touchdown against the RedHawks. Tossed a four-yard touchdown pass to tight end Allen Mogridge late in the first half that gave Carolina a 10-0 advantage.

Completed 13 of 22 passes for 230 yards at Wake Forest. Threw one touchdown pass and was picked off once. In addition to a 32-yard touchdown to Bailey, he had a 70-yard completion to Bosley Allen and a 50-yard completion to Na Brown. The 70-yard completion is the longest by a UNC freshman quarterback.

Was 5 for 13 for 49 yards and one touchdown and rushed three times for 17 yards at Florida State. Set up Carolina's first field goal with an 11-yard scramble on 3rd-and-12 and engineered the Tar Heels' lone touchdown drive in the fourth quarter. Facing 4th-and-3 at the FSU 21, Curry miraculously escaped a sack and tossed a 16-yard completion to Allen for a first down at the FSU 5. Three plays later, facing 3rd-and-goal from the 7, Curry found freshman Kory Bailey for a touchdown.

Led the Tar Heels in rushing with 75 yards on eight carries against Maryland. Completed 4 of 8 passes for 80 yards, including a 44-yard touchdown to Na Brown. Setup Deon Dyer's one-yard TD run in the fourth quarter with a spectacular, 28-yard dash to the Maryland 6-yard line.

Carolina Basketball

Played in 26 games as a freshman. Played in five of the first 13 games, then joined the team for good after the Las Vegas Bowl. Appeared in every game beginning with the December 22nd game at Georgia Tech. Scored 73 points, grabbed 39 rebounds and handed out 43 assists. Compiled season highs in points (13), rebounds (five), assists (seven) and steals (two) in his first start, a 75-66 win over Georgia Tech on January 31st. Hit a key three-point shot in the win at NC State. That basket gave Carolina the lead for good. Had five assists and only one turnover in home win over Florida State. Named UNC's defensive player of the game in home win over the Wolfpack.

Hampton High School

Named the National Football Player of the Year by Parade, Gatorade, the Atlanta Touchdown Club (Bobby Dodd Award) and Columbus (Ohio) Touchdown Club, the National Football Player of the Year on offense by USA Today and the McDonald's National Basketball Player of the Year. Recipient of the Morgan Wooten Award and the Franklin D. Watkins Memorial Trophy for achievements in athletics, scholarship and community service. Member of the National Honor Society and the Latin Honor Society. Played four years of football for Coach Mike Smith and basketball for Coach Walter Brower at Hampton High School. Played quarterback, safety, punter and returned punts and kick-offs. Led Hampton to three consecutive football state championships. Hampton was 13-0 his senior year and posted a state record 40 consecutive wins. In his career, he was responsible for 186 touchdowns (90 passing, 74 rushing and 22 by returns). As a senior, he completed 119 of 226 passes (.527) for 2,577 yards and 27 touchdowns and rushed 115 times for 866 yards and 22 touchdowns. Returned four punts for scores and had eight interceptions, including one he returned 101 yards for a touchdown. In his career, he passed for 8,212 yards and 90 touchdowns and rushed for 3,307 yards and 74 scores. Set state records for passing yards and total offense yards (11,519). Completed 370 of 701 passes in his career. Scored 22 touchdowns on kickoff or punt returns. Earned first-team all-state quarterback honors in each of his four seasons. All-state as a defensive back and kick returner in each of his last three years. Virginia High School Offensive and Defensive Player of the Year for three consecutive seasons. Sports Illustrated's High School Player of the Month in September 1997. Set school records in basketball for points and assists. Averaged 21.9 points, 5.7 assists, 5.5 rebounds and 3.0 steals per game as a senior. Led Hampton to the basketball state title as a junior. Most Valuable Player of the 1998 McDonald's High School Basketball All-Star Game. Was the slam dunk champion at the McDonald's Game. First-team Parade All-America and second-team Street & Smith All-America in basketball as a senior.

DANNY DAVIS

Wide Receiver

6-0, 185, Sophomore

Manteo, N.C.

Solid young receiver who excels on special teams. Plays with reckless abandon at all times. Has been hampered in the past by injuries. Catches the ball well. Will challenge for an expanded role in the offense this year.

1998 • Freshman Season

Outstanding special teams contributor as a freshman. Also saw limited action as a reserve wide receiver. Had five special teams tackles in the season opening game against Miami. Blocked a punt against Pittsburgh midway through the fourth quarter. Two plays after the blocked punt, UNC scored a touchdown. Caught two passes for 21 yards. Had a 12-yard catch against Georgia Tech and a nine-yard reception against Clemson. Played in the first nine games. Injured a hamstring early in the game at Virginia. Did not play in the final three games. Saw action on 163 snaps. Was red-shirted in 1997.

Manteo High School

Two-time All-Southeast Region selection. 1995 Area Offensive Player of the Year. Named all-state in 1996 by North Carolina Prep News. Earned All-Northeast Conference honors for three straight years. Was all-conference as a receiver for two years, at running back for two years and specialist as a senior. Played for Coach Steve Basnight at Manteo. Scored four touchdowns and had 706 all-purpose yards as a senior. Scored 14 times, including a 72-yard punt return and 92-yard kickoff return, and compiled 1,900 all-purpose yards as a junior. Was a three-time all-conference selection in basketball. Was a member of the state 2-A baseball champions and hit a home run in the title game. Was never thrown out attempting to steal a base. Made the regional track meet in the high jump and 100 meters. North Carolina Scholar.

His father, Dan, played football, baseball and boxed at Carolina. Favorite pro teams are the Toronto Raptors and Dallas Cowboys. Favorite athletes are Vince Carter, Jerry Rice and Deion Sanders. Greatest athletic achievements were hitting the go-ahead home run in the state high school championship and making consecutive tackles on special teams in his college football debut. Other favorite sport is basketball. Post-college ambition is to coach. Says the word that best describes him is "silly." Hobbies are playing video games and watching movies.

ERIC DAVIS*Defensive End*6-3, 260, FreshmanRockingham, N.C.

A talented young player whom the coaches feel will have a bright future. Competing for playing time as a backup at defensive end, where there are few experienced players. Has a chance to contribute this season. Described as having Greg Ellis-type work ethic, which is about as nice a compliment as can be given. Was red-shirted in 1998.

Richmond County High School

Member of Richmond County team that went 15-0 and won the state 4-A championship his senior year. Played for Coach Daryl Barnes. Played defensive end and outside linebacker. Earned all-conference and second-team all-state honors as a senior. Played in the Shrine Bowl. As a senior he made 87 tackles, including nine quarterback sacks. Intercepted two passes. Ran one of the interceptions back for a touchdown in the conference championship game. Three-time all-conference selection. Two-time all-region pick. Made 115 tackles, including nine sacks and six others for losses as a junior. Threw the shot in track.

Also played one year of basketball, two years of tennis and ran one year of track. Was Student Body President and member of the National Honor Society. Greatest athletic moment was throwing a last-second touchdown to beat Salisbury High School. Born Jonathan Warner Dry on Nov. 7, 1979.

15DEON DYER*Fullback*6-0, 245, Senior*Chesapeake, Va.

Awesome – that's how running backs coach Ken Mack describes Dyer. His teammates voted him the Most Outstanding Player on offense in the spring. Has matured a great deal in the past year. Ready to lead by example. Has the potential to be a high-round pick in the 2000 NFL Draft. Should be one of the first fullbacks selected if he has the type season he is capable of producing in 1999. Working hard at being in the best condition of his career. Runs well, can catch the ball out of the backfield and is among the best blocking backs in college football. He is the best blocking fullback Mack has ever coached. Will play fullback and when UNC goes into a one-back set. Gained a great deal of confidence from his performance against NC State last November. Understood how much he loved the sport after he was injured late in 1997 and was unable to play the final two games, including the Gator Bowl.

1998 • Junior Season

Tied with wide receiver Na Brown for the team lead with seven touchdowns (six rushing, one receiving) and was tied with Brown for second on the team with 42 points. Third on the squad in rushing yards behind tailback Rufus Brown and quarterback Ronald Curry. Carried 84 times (second most) for 258 yards and six TDs. Rushed for a career-high 58 yards and his first two-touchdown game against NC State. Had a one-yard scoring run in the second quarter to give UNC a 10-3 lead and a 36-yard dash in the third quarter to put the Tar Heels ahead 31-10. Had a high-

Lead blocker for 1,000-yard gainer Jonathan Linton. Had 25 carries for 90 yards and scored one touchdown. Caught five passes for 31 yards. Statistically, he had his best game of the year against Virginia, carrying the ball six times for 46 yards. Rumbled 31 yards for a touchdown in the 48-20 victory over the Cavaliers. Fractured his left tibia while blocking in the Clemson game and was unable to play against Duke and in the Gator Bowl.

1996 • Freshman Season

Co-recipient of the Tar Heels' Most Outstanding Special Teams Player. Appeared in every game a total of 131 plays and had 13 tackles. Had five multi-tackle games, caused a fumble against Georgia Tech and had a season-high three tackles against Houston. Also had 58 yards rushing on four carries, including a 48-yard gain at Wake Forest. Caught two passes, one for 12 yards at Wake Forest and one for 27 yards against Maryland. Gained distinction for his all-out special teams coverage.

Deep Creek High School

All-district, all-region and all-state choice as a junior and senior. Named the Most Outstanding Football Player in the Tidewater, Va., region. Deep Creek posted undefeated regular-season marks of 10-0 in his last two seasons. Ran for 1,790 yards and 27 touchdowns as a senior. Rushed for 301 yards in a playoff loss in 1995. Coached by Jerry Carter.

Personal

Born Deon Joseph Dyer on Oct. 2, 1977. Majoring in African-American Studies. Favorite pro team is the Buffalo Bills. Favorite athletes are hockey players. Greatest athletic achievement was rushing for 58 yards and two touchdowns against NC State. The people who have influenced him the most are trainers Scott Oliaro and Dan Hooker. Homesick for his dog, Poochie. Post-college ambition is to teach. Says the word that best describes him is "flexible." Hobbies are writing and listening to music.

By the time a football player gets to be a senior, he knows he has to be a leader. Most players gladly accept this challenge, and some assume the responsibility with such enthusiasm and sincerity that leadership emerges from every facet of their game. This is the case with fullback Deon Dyer.

Dyer has been one of Carolina's most productive offensive players the past two seasons. The Chesapeake, Va., native is a bruising blocker and ballcarrier, at a position that normally receives little attention.

He spent most of the 1997 season blocking for 1000-yard gainer Jonathan Linton, but last year Dyer led UNC with six rushing touchdowns, and caught a game-winning pass against Clemson. He rushed 84 times for 258 yards and scored in each of Carolina's regular-season victories.

"I want to go to another bowl game, so I am going to raise my own tempo and do whatever I can to raise the tempo of the team," Dyer said. "I might be spending some time at tailback, but I am concentrating on my weight and I am ready to go.

"I am making sure that I am in the best physical condition. I will weigh in the 240s by the season and I hope to be stronger than ever."

Dyer's personal highlight came last year in the regular-season finale against N.C. State. He rushed for 58 yards and two scores, and his 36-yard touchdown run in the third quarter was the longest of his career.

Dyer and Na Brown led UNC with seven touchdowns apiece. He played in every game, started all but the Duke game and was named the team's Most Outstanding Back. As a freshman in 1996, he was co-recipient of the Most Outstanding Special Teams Player.

Dyer is especially proud of being recipient of the Team Spirit award. "I am a very spirited player because I love the game," he says. "I think in every situation, hard work pays off. I know sometimes it is tough, but I keep working hard because I love the game."

The Tar Heels have only three starters remaining from the 1997 team that won 11 games and finished fourth in the final polls. All three, including Dyer, are on offense. Although Carolina is the only team in the country to have won a postseason bowl in each of the past four years, Dyer is quick to point out that the seniors are not satisfied.

"We set goals for our team and we didn't reach them last year. We are proud of our accomplishments, but we want more," Dyer said. "We want to continue to win and get to another bowl."

TYRELL GODWIN
Kick Returner
5-10, 190, Junior
Council, N.C.

Recipient of a Morehead Scholarship, the top academic grant awarded at UNC. Multi-talented two-sport athlete. Electrifying presence on special teams.

Can play a number of positions on either side of the ball. Has played tailback, wide receiver and cornerback and returned both kickoffs and punts for the Tar Heels. Set UNC record with a 100-yard kickoff return at Stanford. Has been hampered by injuries in both years playing football. Spent the summer playing for the United States Baseball National Team. ACC Honor Roll.

1998 • Sophomore Season

Played in seven regular-season contests. Sprained his right medial collateral ligament in the Pittsburgh game. Played on 77 snaps before the injury and just 27 the rest of the year. Missed three games after injuring his knee, returned for five plays at Virginia and 22 at Duke before re-injuring his knee. Played cornerback, tailback and returned kickoffs. Sparked Carolina at Stanford with a school-record 100-yard kickoff return for a touchdown. The return cut a 27-13 deficit in half. Became the fourth player in ACC history to return a kickoff 100 yards. The previous longest kickoff return in UNC history was a 98-yarder by Delbert Powell vs. Wake Forest in 1976. Had 179 kickoff return yards against Stanford, the second-highest single-game figure in Carolina history. Had three rushing attempts for three yards against Georgia Tech and six carries for three yards against Clemson. Played cornerback against Virginia and Duke.

1997 • Freshman Season

Played in only one game. Returned five punts for an average of 6.2 yards against Wake Forest. Suffered a minor knee sprain in practice prior to the NC State game and was unable to play the rest of the year.

Carolina Baseball

One of the fastest players in college baseball. Named first-team All-ACC as a sophomore in 1999 when he led the Tar Heels in batting (.371), stolen bases (29) and triples (five) and shared the lead in base hits (82). Knocked in 58 runs and scored 56. Led the ACC in steals and was second in triples and ninth in batting average. In his two-year collegiate career, he has hit .362 (110 for 304) with 11 home runs, seven triples, 21 doubles and 30 stolen bases. Base-stealing photo was featured in Sports Illustrated.

JOSH MCGEE

Place-kicker

5-10, 180, Senior

Pearl, Miss.

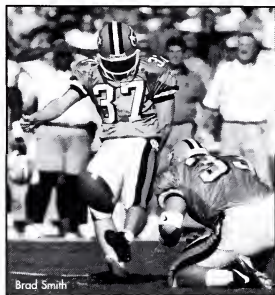

One of the top place-kickers in Carolina history. Accurate and dependable. Has made 35 of 51 field goal attempts in his career (68.6 percent). He is fourth in UNC history with 35 field goals. Clint Gwaltney holds the record with 43. In his career, McGee is 18 for 20 for field goals inside 30 yards, 28 of 34 inside of 40 yards and 7 of 14 from 40-plus yards. Is 100 for 104 in point after attempts. Is tied for 10th place in Carolina history with 205 points. Tied for third place among place-kickers in scoring at Carolina with Jeff Hayes. Tripp Pignetti holds the career scoring record for UNC kickers with 231 points.

1998 • Junior Season

Made 14 of 18 field goals. The 14 field goals equaled the fifth-most in a season by a Tar Heel. Tore his right anterior cruciate ligament playing touch football in mid-October. Made all three of his field goal attempts and all three PATs against Wake Forest five days after the injury. After the knee injury, he made nine of 12 field goals in the regular season and two of three attempts in the Las Vegas Bowl. Tied a UNC single-season record by making all 30 of his point after attempts. Missed one PAT in the Las Vegas Bowl, but the attempt followed a 15-yard penalty on the Tar Heels. Longest field goals of the season were 42 yards at Stanford and Florida State. Was 9 for 9 in field goal attempts inside of 30 yards and 12 of 14 inside 40 yards.

1997 • Sophomore Season

Converted 12 of 16 regular-season field goal attempts and 34 of 36 extra-point tries. Longest field goal of the season was a 46-yarder against Florida State. Made 22 consecutive extra point attempts after missing in the season opener against Indiana. Made two field goals in wins over Virginia and at Georgia Tech. Nailed a 31-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter against the Yellow Jackets that proved to be the winning margin in UNC's 16-13 victory. Booted a 29-yard field goal in the 42-3 Gator Bowl victory over Virginia Tech. Was 6 for 7 in field goals less than 30 yards, 5 of 6 from the 30- to 39-yard range and 1 of 3 in field goals over 40 yards.

1996 • Freshman Season

Red-shirt freshman made 9 of 17 regular-season field goal attempts and 36 of 38 point after tries. Tied the UNC record for longest field goal by a freshman with a 49-yarder at Wake Forest. Six of his eight misses were from 40 yards or longer. Was 5 for 7 inside of 40 yards. Had two field goals in two different games. Was 2 for 2 in the 27-10 win at No. 9-ranked Syracuse and 2 for 3 in the 27-10 win at Duke. Made four field goals of 40 yards or longer. Overcame a bout with the flu at the Gator Bowl and kicked a pair of field goals in UNC's 20-13 win over West Virginia. Did not practice for several days prior to the game because of the flu. Made a 22-yard field goal early in the second quarter to give UNC a 10-0 lead and a 20-yard field goal in the third quarter to up the lead to 20-10. Was red-shirted in 1995.

Pearl High School

Connected on nine of 15 field goal attempts as a senior, including nine of 11 inside 50 yards. Also won two letters in soccer.

ALLEN MOGRIDGE

Offensive Tackle

6-4, 280, Senior

Sevierville, Tenn.

75

Moving from tight end to offensive tackle for his senior season. Has played a number of positions in his collegiate career, including tight end, fullback, defensive end and linebacker. Has an opportunity to start at right tackle. Learning to master the technical aspects of another position. Must quickly pick up the pass blocking schemes. Is a tough young man. Very team oriented and should be one of the squad's leaders.

At Carolina

Last year, he started every game at tight end and made four receptions for 32 yards. Caught a touchdown pass against Miami and set up a touchdown at Duke with a 15-yard reception. In 1997, he played in every game on special teams and made two tackles. As a freshman in 1996, he played in all 11 games. Saw most of his playing time on special teams, although he did see some action at defensive end. Made two tackles and had two quarterback pressures against Wake Forest. Was red-shirted in 1995.

Sevier County High School

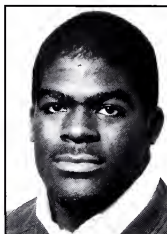

Two-way performer who only played in five games as a senior due to mononucleosis in the last half of the season. In the first five games he caught six passes for 59 yards. Had 44 solo tackles and eight assists on defense. Also recorded nine sacks and blocked four punts. Despite his illness, was still all-conference at tight end and all-state on defense. Earned first-team all-state honors as a junior defensive end. Coached by Steve Brewer. Also won four letters in basketball and three in track. All-conference choice in basketball as a junior and senior.

JASON PEACE

Wide Receiver

6-1, 180, Senior

Durham, N.C.

Was one-third of one of the country's top receiving units heading into last season, but an injury in September ended his season after just one contest. Missed all of spring practice but is on schedule to compete this fall. Should be one of the top returning offensive players in the ACC. Makes lots of yards after he catches the ball, can catch the ball in a crowd and handles bump-and-run coverage well. His injury was a crushing blow to the Tar Heels last year. An inexperienced group of receivers will greatly benefit from his presence. Should he return to the level he played at in 1997, he will be a solid pro prospect.

1998 • Junior Season

Had an outstanding preseason practice, but missed the last 11 games due to injury. Had four catches for 37 yards against Miami in the season opener. Tore his right anterior cruciate ligament catching a pass in practice the week of the Stanford game.

1997 • Sophomore Season

Played in all 11 regular-season games and the Gator Bowl. Caught at least one pass in 10 of 12 games. Third on the team with 32 catches for 418 yards and two touchdowns. Averaged 13.1 yards per catch. Had a career-high 105 receiving yards in Carolina's 40-14 victory at Maryland. Caught touchdown passes at Maryland and versus Duke. His first collegiate touchdown catch was a 19-yard toss from Oscar Davenport that gave Carolina a 24-7 lead against the Terrapins. Was on the receiving end of a record-tying touchdown pass from Chris Keldorf against Duke. Keldorf tied the school record for career touchdown passes when he threaded a pass between two defenders to Peace in the end zone. Had a career-high six catches for 93 yards at Georgia Tech, including a 39-yard catch in the first half.

1996 • Freshman Season

Received most of his playing time in multiple-receiver sets. Had one catch for 20 yards against Wake Forest and two receptions for 39 yards against Maryland. Was red-shirted as a quarterback in 1995.

Northern Durham High School

Started at quarterback in the Shrine Bowl. Parade All-America. Led Northern Durham to three straight unbeaten regular seasons and conference titles. Set school records for completions, attempts, passing yards, total yards and touchdown passes after becoming the starting QB four games into his sophomore season. Completed 83 of 164 passes as a senior for 1,257 yards and 15 touchdowns. Started on teams with a 40-2 record. Finished his career with 4,041 yards passing and 56 TD tosses. Threw only 12 interceptions in 438 career attempts. Was injured going into 1993 state title game against West Charlotte, but came into a scoreless game late in the first half. Went on to pass for 149 yards and four TDs in a 39-6 win. Coached by Gary Merrill his senior year. Played for Ken Browning his first three years. Lettered four times in football and basketball.

In a single play, Jason Peace's 1998 season went from one of promise to one of patience.

While catching a pass in practice three days before the game at Stanford, Peace tore his right anterior cruciate ligament. Just one game and four receptions into the season, Peace's year was over.

"Right when it happened I was kind of devastated because it was the end of my season, and I knew I couldn't do anything to help the team," says the Durham native. "I couldn't contribute to the team in any way on the field."

Peace's injury was one of many that decimated the team in the early weeks of last season. The injuries contributed to losses against Miami, Stanford and Georgia Tech to start the season and the slow start had an effect on Peace.

"It bothered me a lot that I wasn't out there, especially with us going through an 0-3 start," says the 6-1, 180-pound senior. "Knowing I couldn't help really hurt."

Based on his previous season, Peace was poised to make an impact. He made 32 catches for 418 yards and two touchdowns in 1997, including a career-high 105 receiving yards in Carolina's victory at Maryland and six catches for 93 yards at Georgia Tech.

Those numbers are certainly impressive considering that Peace was throwing passes, not catching them, while in high school. Peace led Northern Durham to three straight unbeaten regular seasons and conference titles, was a Parade All-America and started for North Carolina in the Shrine Bowl.

Despite a successful transition to wide receiver that began in his second collegiate season, Peace has to wait until 1999 to prove his skills. While recovering from surgery, Peace thought it was best for him to focus on his comeback on his own.

"I guess I had to deal with it the best that I could, and, being the type of person that I am, I like to keep to myself a lot, so I kind of removed myself from the team in a lot of ways. That's just how I was able to deal with it," says Peace. "It was best for me. Other people have different personalities; they deal with things differently. Like Alge (Crumpler), he was out here coaching when he got hurt."

Still, Peace missed being with his teammates and "being able to compete against the best players in the country."

With more hard work over the summer to restore the strength in his knee, Peace should be ready to enjoy this competition again when the team begins practice in August.

"I'm going to use the summer to try to get out all the cobwebs so when fall gets here I should be able to go without any hesitation ... or any worry," says Peace.

"I just want to go out there and make plays, as many plays as I can. I want us to win every game, and I want everybody on the team to believe that we can win every game. I think if we go in with that attitude from the start then that will help us keep a team focus that will help us accomplish some of the things that we want to do."

One thing that Peace individually hopes to do is to play in the NFL. "Hopefully the Lord will bless me enough to stay healthy throughout the entire season, and I feel if stay healthy and play to my ability then I should have a shot," says Peace.

Based on the determination he has shown over the past year and the stellar play fans should see in 1999, Peace should be able to extend his playing days for years to come.

SHERROD PEACE

Defensive Tackle

6-4, 270, Senior

Durham, N.C.

One of the defensive leaders, both in terms of experience and production. Has outstanding strength and endurance. Is physically one of the most gifted athletes at UNC. Played very well last year, especially considering it was his first season at this level and he was playing tackle for the first time in his life. Played defensive end in high school and junior college. Leads by example. Very quick for a tackle. By far is the most experienced defensive lineman on the squad.

1997 • Junior Season

Played in all 11 regular-season games and the Las Vegas Bowl and made nine starts at defensive tackle. Had a season-high nine tackles against Georgia Tech. Had five primary tackles against Stanford, Pittsburgh and Duke. Made 7.5 tackles for losses, including 3.5 quarterback sacks for 18 yards. Had 2.5 sacks against Stanford and a sack for nine yards against NC State. Finished the year with 57 tackles. Had four tackles against San Diego State in the Las Vegas Bowl. Saw action on 509 downs with 59 against Virginia.

"Once a person gives you a chance to make something of yourself, take advantage of it." These words of wisdom come from senior defensive end Sherrod Peace, whose experiences on the football field prove he takes his own words to heart.

Peace doesn't remember the first time he picked up a football. He just remembers always wanting to play. As a senior, he led Northern Durham to a 15-0 record and a second state championship. He was named Defensive MVP of the state championship game as a junior and senior.

"I've played football since junior high and have always wanted to play," he says. "My brother was always on a higher team than me so that motivated me. I love playing."

After high school, Peace left North Carolina for Mississippi, where he played at Gulf Coast Community College for two years. He excelled there, honing both his football and academic skills under Coach Steve Wright. When he left Mississippi for UNC in January 1998, he was ranked a Prep Start Top 100 Junior College transfer and had received the team's scholar-athlete award.

While Peace enjoyed his years in junior college, he always wondered if he'd ever get the chance to come back to North Carolina and play football in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

"At first, I didn't know what to do or expect as far as playing football at a junior college," he says. "I thought about giving up on getting back to Carolina, but then I realized I could do it. A lot of it was me pushing myself. I thought night and day about getting another chance to play Division I football."

Peace certainly proved himself worthy of playing Division I football in 1998. He started at defensive tackle in nine of the 12 games in which he played, had 30 tackles, 27 assisted tackles, 57 hits and three quarterback pressures. He had 7.5 tackles for losses, including 3.5 quarterback sacks.

Peace has been inspired to achieve by his parents and Ken Browning, who coached him at Northern Durham and at UNC. Lamont Fletcher, a friend Peace met at a gym in Durham, also is an inspiration.

"I met Lamont outside the Hall of Fitness in Durham," he says. "He was in the Army and got burned in a bad accident. He's been through a lot of ups and downs and talking to him really inspired me. He's my best friend. I talk to him and he comes to games whenever he can."

Sherrod is not the only Peace on the Carolina roster this year. His cousin, fellow senior Jason Peace, is a standout receiver. Sherrod also has a twin brother who plays football at Howard University.

As for his hopes for this season, Peace says he has high expectations. "I am trying to be a leader by example," he says. "I'm not really a vocal person. I want everybody on the squad to do better than they did last year."

With a solid senior season, Peace has an opportunity to reach several personal goals. "I would like to have the chance to play at the next level, but if not, I'll have a degree from the University of North Carolina," he says. "I didn't think I was going to get as far as I have and I'm not going to throw the towel in now."

BRIAN SCHMITZ

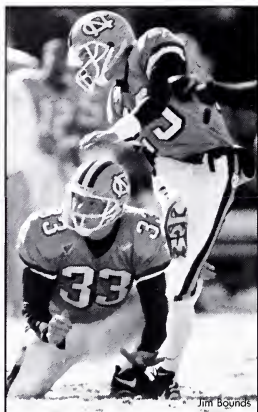

Punter/Place-kicker

Park Ridge, Ill.

One of the top all-purpose kicking specialists in college football. The Sporting News ranks him the second-best punter in the country. Is the starting punter, handles kickoffs and long-range field goals. Came as close to dominating a football game as a punter can with his performance in brutal conditions in UNC's Las Vegas Bowl victory last December. Is fourth alltime in school history with an average of 42.5 yards per punt. That is the highest career punting average by a Tar Heel in the last 50 years.

23

1998 • Junior Season

Named to Sports Illustrated's All-Bowl Team after his performance against San Diego State in the Las Vegas Bowl. Earned second-team All-ACC honors. Averaged at least 40 yards per punt in all 11 regular-season games to tie a UNC record. Averaged at least 45 yards six times. Led the ACC in punting at 44.8 yards per kick. His average of 44.8 yards per punt was the third highest in UNC single-season history. The only higher averages were Harry Dunkle's 46.6 in 1939 and Bud Wallace's 45.6 in 1950. Punted 50 yards or longer on 24 of 75 punts. Drilled a 56-yarder from his own 21-yard line with 1:35 to play in the fourth quarter at Wake Forest. One series earlier, he had a 43-yard kick from the back of his own end zone. Had four 50-yard plus kicks out of seven attempts at Florida State (53, 55, 54 and 51). Punted at least 60 yards three times in the regular season.

Averaged 44.0 yards on five punts in the Las Vegas Bowl. Pinned the Aztecs inside their own 11-yard line four times. Late in the second quarter, with the Aztecs looking for good field position after stopping Carolina at its own 21-yard line, Schmitz unloaded a 66-yard punt into the wind. The ball came to rest at the Aztecs' 5-yard line. Did not allow Damon Gourdine, who came into the game as the No. 2 punt returner in the NCAA, to return a single punt. San Diego State's average starting field position in the first half was its own 21-yard line.

1997 • Sophomore Season

Punted 57 times for a 40.0 average. Dropped 16 punts inside the 20-yard line. Had a 57-yard punt against Stanford. Booted eight punts longer than 50 yards and 31 better than 40 yards. Punted six times at Maryland and placed five inside the 20-yard line. Kicked a career-long 51-yard field goal to give Carolina a 10-7 lead at NC State. It was the longest field goal without the use of a tee in UNC history. Was 2 of 4 on field goal attempts. Also made a 44-yard field goal at Georgia Tech in UNC's 16-13 victory. Had a punt of at least 50 yards in five of 11 games. Had 17 touchbacks on 59 kickoffs (29 percent).

1996 • Freshman Season

Opened the season by kicking off against Clemson and blasted the ball out of the back of the end zone. Kicked off 50 times and had seven touchbacks. Also punted twice and had a long kick of 44 yards.

Maine South High School

RYAN SIMS

Defensive Tackle

6-4, 300, Sophomore

Spartanburg, S.C.

Although he is just a true sophomore, he is one of the more experienced players along the defensive front. Should start at defensive tackle. Has extraordinary endurance for a young man his size. A smart player who learns fast. Wasn't expected to play as much as he did last year, but came into preseason camp in great condition and earned a spot on the two deep early in camp. Has the physical tools and determination to become a great player.

1998 • Freshman Season

One of four true freshmen to play. Played in all 11 regular-season games and the Las Vegas Bowl. Saw action on 409 snaps. Played a season-high 45 snaps against NC State and 44 against Stanford. Averaged more than 34 plays per game. Had 31 tackles (15 primary), including four tackles for losses of 19 yards and two sacks for 14 yards. Broke up two passes and pressured the quarterback five times. Had a season-high six tackles against Stanford. Made four tackles against Clemson, Pittsburgh, Maryland and Duke. Knocked down passes against Pittsburgh and NC State. Made his first collegiate sack against the Panthers and added one later against Duke. Statistical quirk denied him his first official sack when he took down Clemson's quarterback for a big loss, but the play was ruled intentional grounding. Had three tackles, including a 13-yard tackle for loss against San Diego State in the Las Vegas Bowl.

Brad Smith

Dorman High School

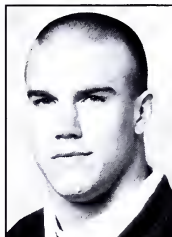

First-team all-state, all-region and all-area selection. Played for Coach David Gutshall. Named the top defensive lineman in the state by the Greenville News. Captain and Defensive Most Valuable Player for the South Carolina squad in the Shrine Bowl. Had 61 tackles, including 15 for losses and eight quarterback sacks, two pass breakups and one caused fumble as a senior. Threw the shot and the discus for the track team. Finished second in the region in the shot.

BRANDON SPOON

Linebacker

Burlington, N.C.

Preseason All-America linebacker. Has all the physical and intellectual tools to be a great football player. Rated the No. 4 linebacker in the country by The Sporting News. All-American-type young man. Tremendous work rate. Is a fierce competitor. A presence on and off the football field. Hits as hard as any player in the ACC. Great knowledge of the game and a passion for the sport. Named Carolina's Most Outstanding Player on defense in the spring. Has 229.5 career tackles, including 15.5 for losses and 8.5 quarterback sacks. Plays through pain. Last year, he broke his nose in the first quarter against Clemson and finished the game with 14 tackles. One of the most well-conditioned athletes on the squad. Loves to work out in the weight room.

1998 • Junior Season

Second-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection. Led the team and was fourth in the ACC in tackles per game with 12.5. Had 138 tackles, tied for the 10th-highest single-season figure at UNC. Made 12 or more tackles in a game seven times, including each of the first five games. Had a career-high 20 hits against Miami (Ohio). Also had 18 against NC State, 16 at Stanford, 14 against Georgia Tech and Clemson and 12 against Pittsburgh and Maryland. Second on the team in sacks with five for 37 yards. Made 12 tackles, including two for losses and one quarterback sack, and recovered a fumble in the win over Maryland. Had his first two-sack game against Clemson. Had a 5-yard sack in the first half and a 7-yard sack early in the fourth quarter. Played three quarters against the Tigers with a broken nose. Was sensational in the win over NC State. Had a season-high 14 primary tackles, caused a fumble at the goal line which UNC recovered to thwart a State scoring chance, and stopped a 4th-and-1 play at midfield. On the next play after his 4th-down stop, Carolina scored on a 49-yard pass play. Started every game at inside line-backer and played 817 snaps.

1997 • Sophomore Season

Moved into the Tar Heels' "fourth starter" role at linebacker, rotating with seniors Kivuusama Mays and Brian Simmons and junior Keith Newman. Seventh on the team with 65 tackles, including 39 solo stops and 26 tackles. Posted 7.5 tackles for loss for 41 yards and 3.5 sacks for 32 yards. Had 10 tackles twice during the season. Tallied 10 stops against Florida State and 10 tackles at Clemson. Played in all 12 games. Sacked Aaron Brooks for a 9-yard loss. Had 1.5 sacks against Georgia Tech.

1996 • Freshman Season

Had 26 tackles and four pressures as a true freshman. Recovered a key fumble in the Georgia Tech game. The fumble recovery came on a fourth-down play at the UNC 20-yard line. Had a season-high seven tackles against Wake Forest and had four solo hits in the season opener against Clemson. Had two solo hits at Virginia and three tackles against Duke.

Williams High School

Parade All-America selection. First-team Associated Press all-state selection in 1994 and 1995. Three-year all-conference and all-region choice. Was the Defensive Player of the Year in the Mid-Piedmont Conference as a senior. 1995 Shrine Bowl participant. Made 128 tackles in 1995, 18 of them for losses. Forced nine fumbles, eight hurried throws and had three sacks. Coached by Sam Story. Ran track for four years. 4 x 400 relay team captured the state 3-A championship in 1994.

When World Championship Wrestling came to the Smith Center last spring, Brandon Spoon made sure he was there to watch. Just add a goatee to the linebacker's 6-2, 240-pound frame and he could pass for "Stone Cold" Steve Austin. Spoon says being a professional wrestler has always been a dream of his.

"I watched it growing up all the time," he says. "I get into it. I have the personality to do it. I would get paid to do the same stuff I do in the locker room—mess around and run my mouth. It would just be fun."

He doesn't have fun just in the locker room. Although his intensity and energy are higher and more focused, Spoon also tries to have fun on the football field. By his sophomore season, the Kenan Stadium faithful have noticed his strength and power and anointed him a fan favorite. After any Spoon tackle, the fans scream, "Sp-ooooooooo-n!"

"I love it," Spoon says. "After the Stanford game, my mom said something about it and I thought she was messing with me. Then (former UNC All-America) Brian Simmons said something about it. 'You hear them screaming your name. You have a fan club.' Then I started to listen for it."

"Last year, whenever I would do something the crowd would go wild. I just love it. It goes back to the pro-wrestling thing—play off the crowd. It's great to make the play, but then you get up and celebrate and you hear the crowd cheering for you, you feed off of it. You get so fired up. It's a rush."

Although his life on the football field has been full of successes, Spoon had to overcome a major obstacle in his personal life. In January 1998, Brandon's father, Tommy Spoon, passed away. The elder Spoon was Brandon's role model, best friend and high school coach.

"Since my dad's death, I have grown up a whole lot," he says. "Not that I was immature before, but when he died, I put everything in perspective. It really set me straight. It got me focused on my goals and what's important."

Spoon seems to be seeing things clearly. In April, he got engaged to his high school sweetheart, Abby Melvin. When he isn't training or studying for his business classes, Spoon enjoys playing video games with his roommate and teammate Allen McGrigge. He also tries to set a good example for children.

"There is so much they can get involved in that is bad," Spoon says. "There are some bad role models. If a kid looks up to me I am honored. That is one of the big things my dad taught me. No matter what you are doing, you never know who is watching you. There is always someone out there who admires you and looks up to you. You don't want to disappoint them."

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR DICK BADDOUR

Dick Baddour (UNC '66) was named Director of Athletics on June 25, 1997. The athletic landscape in Chapel Hill has changed dramatically in the two years since the Goldsboro, N.C., native became the department's chief executive officer. Through it all, Baddour's easy-going, friendly and visionary style of management combined with his love and passion for all things related to the University have kept the program on a solid foundation.

Baddour's first season was one in which legendary basketball coach Dean Smith retired and head football coach Mack Brown moved on to the University of Texas after 10 successful seasons. Baddour acted swiftly and decisively filling both vacancies, elevating longtime assistants Bill Guthridge and Carl Torbush to the men's basketball and football positions, respectively.

Guthridge, an assistant at UNC for 31 seasons, became the winningest first-year head coach in college basketball history by leading the Tar Heels to 34 wins, an ACC championship and a trip to the NCAA Final Four. Last year, Guthridge won his 50th game faster than any coach in ACC history, led the Tar Heels to the ACC Tournament finals and to the NCAA Tournament.

Torbush has directed UNC to a pair of postseason bowl victories. Last year, he became the first rookie football head coach at UNC to earn a trip to the postseason.

Baddour hired three spring sport head coaches, moves that revitalized those programs and should help to keep the UNC athletic department among the nation's elite. He hired Mike Fox, a former Tar Heel who played in the 1978 College World Series, as baseball coach; John Inman, 1984 NCAA men's golf champion and former PGA Tour golfer, as the men's golf coach; and Roland Thornqvist, former National Indoor Singles Champion, as the women's tennis coach.

In his second season, Baddour established a number of task forces to examine specific functions within the department and guide those administrative units as they prepare for the 21st century. Baddour formed committees to examine recruiting, admissions and academic progress of student-athletes; finances; student-athlete development; and communications.

Baddour continues to direct a vast facilities expansion project that stretches from Kenan Stadium to Finley Golf Course. Last year, the McCaskill Soccer Center and the Francis E. Henry Stadium (field hockey and lacrosse) were dedicated and Finley Golf Course was totally re-designed by noted golf course architect Tom Fazio.

Baddour has overseen the signing of the equipment/apparel contract with Nike and the department's multi-media marketing plan with Vilcom. The agreement with Nike is worth more than $10 million and enhances the athletic department and its coaches as well as provide for $400,000 to the Chancellor's Academic Enhancement Fund. He also initiated discussions between the student body, Carolina Athletic Association and Office of Student Affairs to develop a comprehensive and equitable policy on student tickets that will allow students to obtain football and basketball admission without having to miss class or camp out in inclement weather.

Baddour, who has served on 12 ACC committees, chaired the ACC Athletic Directors last year,

current position, he spent 11 years under athletic director John Swofford the athletic department's executive associate director of athletics. He handled many of the day-to-day affairs of the department. That included personnel matters, serving as NCAA and ACC compliance coordinator, supervisor of the grant-in-aid program, administrator of the student-athlete development program and liaison with the academic support programs.

After graduating from UNC, Baddour spent one year as a cost accountant for Burlington Industries. He then returned to his alma mater in 1967 as assistant dean of men.

In 1971 he became assistant dean of undergraduate admissions. Coordinating freshman admissions took him into every high school in the state.

In 1975, he was awarded a Master of Arts degree in education with a major in student personnel administration and a minor in business administration.

Baddour was then named Assistant Dean at the UNC School of Law from 1983 to 1986. He served as the school's director of admissions and scholarship programs, head of personnel and supervisor of career planning and placement. He was also in charge of minority recruitment programs.

will serve as a member of ACC Committees on Football, Basketball and Television and has chaired the ACC Tennis Committee. He is in his 33rd year of continuous service to the University. Prior to his

He became associate athletic director in 1986, was promoted to senior associate director in 1990 and to executive associate in 1995.

A 1962 graduate of Goldsboro High School, Baddour is active in community affairs in Chapel Hill. He is past president of the Public School Foundation, has been co-president of the Ephesus Elementary School PTA and has served on the Chapel Hill-Carrboro School System Effective Schools Committee.

He received the Chapel Hill/Carrboro Public School System award as "Volunteer of the Year" for his service and leadership as president of the Public School Foundation.

In 1998, he was inducted into the Order of the Golden Fleece, one of the most prestigious honor societies on campus.

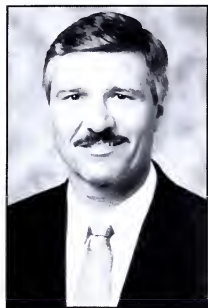

He has been a member of the Chapel Hill Library Foundation, The Chapel Hill Library Building Committee and the board of directors of The Village Bank, Triangle Bank and Nations Bank. He and his wife, Lynda, are currently honorary chairpersons for the local YMCA's major fundraising campaign.

He is a past president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the East Chapel Hill Rotary Club and served as vice-president of the Chapel Hill Parks and Recreation Commission. Baddour completed 31 years as a member of the N.C. National Guard and holds the rank of colonel.

Lynda taught kindergarten and first grade for 17 years. They have two sons and a daughter. Allen, 28, graduated from UNC and Carolina law school and practices law in Chapel Hill. David, 26, recently married, is a UNC graduate and Certified Public Accountant. He is in his first year of law school. Jennifer, 25, is a graduate of UNC Greensboro and recently earned her master's from the UNC School of Social Work.

Jennifer is a social worker for Mecklenburg County.

HEAD COACH CARL TORBUSH

which the Cowboys drafted a Tar Heel defensive end in the first round. Ekuban was one of five Tar Heel defenders drafted in 1999. Bly and defensive tackle Russell Davis were selected in round two, linebacker Keith Newman was taken in the fourth round and defensive end Mike Pringley was chosen in the seventh round.

The 1997 team that led the ACC in total defense for the third straight year and was No. 2 in the country for the second straight season featured 11 players who were drafted by NFL teams in the last two years. Also, four other defenders on that unit signed free agent contracts with NFL squads.

The 47-year-old East Spencer, N.C., native took over the UNC program in December 1997 and guided the Tar Heels to a 42-3 victory over Virginia Tech in the Gator Bowl the following New Year's Day.

Torbush was named Carolina's 31st head coach on December 8, 1997. He is the first native Tar Heel to lead the state university's football team since Tom Young directed Carolina in 1943. In 1996, Torbush was named the National Defensive Coordinator of the Year by American Football Quarterly. He was one of five finalists for the 1997 Frank Broyles Award that honors the nation's top assistant coach.

"When I have time to think about being Carolina's head coach, I still pinch myself," says Torbush. "I try not to get caught up in it because it could be overwhelming. Call it humble pride. I am proud of being the head coach and still humbled by that. I was content being defensive coordinator here and would have been content with that rest of my life because this is where I want to coach. I did not want any other jobs. In my opinion, if there was ever a place where

I would be a perfect fit for a job this is it."

The Gator Bowl victory capped arguably the greatest season in Carolina history as the Tar Heels finished 11-1 and earned a No. 4 national ranking. It was UNC's highest final ranking since Carolina finished third in 1948.

During his tenure, Carolina's defense developed into one of the nation's best. Carolina was No. 2 in the nation in 1997 in total yards allowed per game at 209.3. It was the second consecutive year in which the Tar Heels were No. 2 in the country in total defense. The Tar Heels were third in the country in pass efficiency defense (81.52 points), fourth in run defense (77.9 yards per game) and fifth in scoring defense (13.0 points per game).

Bly, defensive end Greg Ellis and outside linebacker Brian Simmons earned consensus first-team All-America honors in 1997 and middle linebacker Kivuusama Mays was a third-team A.P. All-America. It marked the first time in ACC history that a school had three consensus All-America defenders in the same year. The Tar Heels were the only team in the nation last year to have finalists for the Lombardi, Butkus and Thorpe Awards as the lineman, linebacker and defensive back.

Torbush is best known in football circles as a defensive mastermind, but his reputation as a devoted family man with strong personal and spiritual convictions is far greater. True, he is an outstanding teacher of football techniques and strategy and is a tenacious recruiter, but if you ask his players and peers, it is his ability to teach life skills and build relationships that draw even higher praise.

"I always thought Carl was an excellent tactician, but more than that he is a players' coach," says Mike Gottfried, ESPN's lead analyst. "Players love to play for him. They get excited about playing for him, they have a good relationship with him and they get in it for the long haul with him. He is an excellent defensive coach and I think he will be an excellent head coach because he has earned respect with his demeanor, his intelligence and his work ethic. I like him as a football coach but I give him higher marks as a man for his high morals. It's nice to see good things happen to good people."

"I love to play for Coach Torbush because he likes to take chances defensively," says Bly, who set the ACC's alltime record with 20 interceptions. "He wants us to play aggressively. He's a players' coach

Jim Bounds

The 1999 season is Torbush's 12th in Chapel Hill. He continues to serve as the Tar Heels' defensive coordinator, a position he retained when named head coach. He was the architect of UNC's defense that led the Atlantic Coast Conference in total defense in 1995, 1996 and 1997 and was among the top five in the nation in every category in 1996 and 1997.

Last year, with eight new starters, the Tar Heels were third in the ACC in scoring defense and fourth in total defense. Cornerback Dre' Bly and defensive end Ebenezer Ekuban were named first-team All-ACC and linebackers Brandon Spoon and Keith Newman were second-team selections. Bly became the first player in ACC history to be named first-team All-America in three seasons.

Ekuban was selected in the first round of the NFL Draft by the Dallas Cowboys. That's the second consecutive year in and the guys really respect him and look up to him personally. If you have a problem, even if it is not related to football, you can go talk to him. He's a great listener."

It is no surprise the players rallied around Torbush so dramatically when athletic director Dick Baddour was selecting Mack Brown's successor. Half a dozen veteran players representing their teammates asked to meet with Baddour and gave Torbush a rousing recommendation. When Baddour announced Torbush's selection he said, "Carl is an outstanding coach and a person of the highest standards. He is one of the finest defensive minds in college football. He has wonderful rapport with the players and he is a terrific recruiter and student of the game."

"Coach Torbush is very passionate about excelling as a head coach," says standout tight end Alge Crumpler. "He is willing to go the distance in what it takes to have a top program. He was my choice to be the head coach from day one because I knew his philosophy was to get players to perform at a level higher than they thought they were capable of playing."

"He is the most intense person I have ever been around on the football field," says pre-season All-America linebacker Brandon Spoon. "Anything to do with football, Coach Torbush does with 100 percent focus. He is determined to do a good job as head coach. Off the field, he is a great man, a great family man. He is the reason I am at North Carolina."

Torbush has received tremendous backing from the entire athletic department. Since coming to Chapel Hill in 1988, Torbush has remained one of the most popular people in the department and is one of the program's biggest fans. He is a huge men's and women's basketball fan, thinks field hockey coach Karen Shelton could whip any number of college football teams into shape and attends and supports as many Olympic Sport events as his schedule allows.

"I can't tell you how much I appreciate the support I have had from our other coaches," Torbush adds. "These are relationships I've developed over 10 years time and they are very special to me."

What is special to those who know Torbush is his every-day approach to simply being a good person. Almost embarrassed by his spacious office in the Kenan Football Center, Torbush is careful to remain in touch with his roots.

"I do not want to change as a person just because I am the head ball coach," he says. "I want my staff to enjoy working here every day and I want my players to love the game of football and get their degree. This is the University's football team, not mine. I want people to think they can approach me and say hello whether they are the Chancellor, a coach, campus police officer or custodian. That will never change."

just a big sports fan. I enjoy saying we have one of the best athletic programs in the country - in all sports, not just football. I think it's important to be in the Top 10 in football and basketball, both men and women. I think it's important that the entire coaching staff all pull together. There's no jealousy here. That's important, too, and something I believe in."

Torbush also believes in an aggressive, man-to-man defensive philosophy and a pro style offensive system that emphasizes both passing and running the football.

"To be consistently among the Top 10 football teams and be able to beat the teams we have to beat on a yearly basis, we are going to have to be able to run the ball better. We need to run it better, but not necessarily more. We want to feel as good about our running game as our passing game."

In his 11 years in Chapel Hill as defensive coordinator Torbush constructed one of the nation's toughest defenses. Thirty-one of his former players have made NFL rosters, not including the five defenders who were drafted in April.

Carolina had three defensive players selected in the first round of the 1998 NFL Draft, including Ellis (eighth pick by the Cowboys), Simmons (17th pick by the Bengals) and tackle Vonnie Holliday (19th pick by the Packers). All three players were fixtures in their respective team's lineups and Holliday finished second in the NFL Defensive Rookie-of-the-Year voting.

Two other recent Tar Heel defenders - cornerback Thomas Smith and lineman Marcus Jones were first-round picks. Smith came to UNC as a walk-on, but was a first round pick by Buffalo in 1993. Jones earned consensus All-America honors in 1995 and was picked in the opening round the next appreciative of the lessons on football and life that he has taught me. Coach Torbush taught us a work ethic that is required in the NFL. Even when you don't have to, you need to be working out or doing something to prepare yourself. We spent a lot of time at Carolina learning the game of football."

In the last 11 years, Carolina has received 41 All-ACC selections on defense, including 18 first-team choices.

Carolina placed five defensive players on the 1997 All-ACC first team and three more on the All-ACC second team. That totaled eight of the 11 starters on defense among the top 22 players on defense in the ACC.

Six defenders have received All-America accolades, including first team selections Bracey Walker (safety, 1993), Jones (1995), Bly (1996, 1997 and 1998), Ellis (1997), a finalist for the Lombardi Award, and Simmons (1997).

"Regardless of your athletic ability, Coach Torbush makes sure that every player learns the proper technique," says Simmons. "Then as you get older, he allows you to 'free-lance' more within the system and let your athletic ability and aggressiveness make plays. On and off the field, Coach is a straightforward guy. He makes you feel welcome and you trust him and can come talk to him about anything, not just football."

Mays was a finalist for the Butkus Award, which is presented to the nation's top linebacker. Carolina was the only school in the country with four players on the Butkus Award Watch List (Mays, Simmons, Spoon and Newman). A two-time first-team All-ACC selection, Mays made over 100 tackles for three consecutive seasons.

The 1997 defense was one of the finest in Atlantic Coast Conference history. The 209.3 yards allowed per game was the lowest figure by an ACC team since 1963. Other defensive highlights from recent years include:

- Carolina allowed fewer yards per game in five straight seasons, (326.5 in 1992, 322.3 in 1993, 319.3 in 1994, 267.3 in 1995, 225.6 in 1996 and 209.3 in 1997).

- Carolina's defense has allowed one touchdown or fewer in 24 of the last 36 games.

- Opponents have gained more than 300 yards in just eight of the last 36 games. Only four teams gained more than 200 yards against the Tar Heels in 1997.

- No team scored more than 20 points in a game against UNC in 1996 or 1997.

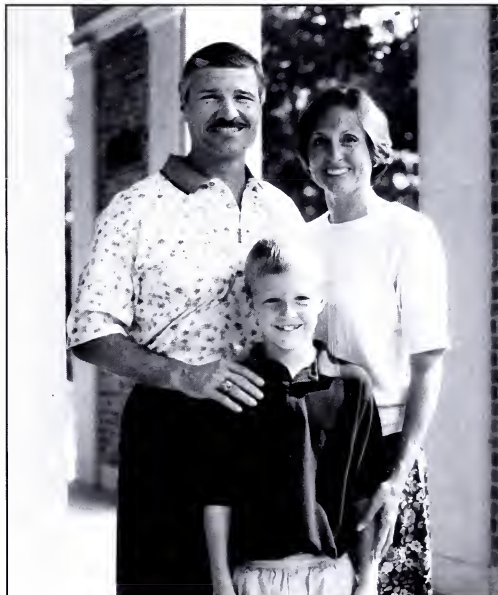

In 1996, the UNC defense ranked first in the nation in points allowed per game, second in total yards allowed per game and third in pass efficiency defense and run defense. The Tar Heels forced 34 turnovers in the regular season, the fourth-most in the country, and forced West Virginia, which had committed the fewest turnovers in the country, to turn the ball over four times in the Gator Bowl. Carolina allowed just 10.0 points and 225.6 yards per game. Bly (consensus first-team), Simmons (second-team) and Ellis (second-team) earned All-America honors.

In 1995, Torbush had just three returning starters on defense, but fashioned a new, aggressive scheme around a pair of sophomore linebackers – Mays and Simmons – and a dominant frontline led by Jones, Terry and Ellis. Carolina led the ACC and was sixth in the nation in total defense in 1995 as it allowed 267.3 yards per game. It was the first UNC team to lead the circuit in defense in 12 years. Jones earned ACC Defensive Player-of-the-Year honors and consensus All-America honors and broke Lawrence Taylor's career school record for quarterback sacks.

In 1994, Carolina was third in the ACC and 27th in the country in total defense. The Tar Heels were 16th in the nation against the run at just 115.2 yards per contest. All three starting linebackers that year were in NFL camps, including Morton who plays for Green Bay and Mason, who plays for Jacksonville.

In 1993, the Tar Heels placed seven defensive players on the first-, second- or third-team All-ACC squads after finishing second in the league in total yards. Carolina was seventh in the nation against the run and 21st in total defense. The defensive highlight that year came in UNC's 24-0 shutout win over Clemson as the Tar Heels limited the Tigers to three yards rushing. It was the second time in 14 years that Clemson had been blanked.

The Peach Bowl win over Mississippi State that capped a thrilling 1992 season was led by a defensive stand in which Carolina gave up just three points in the second half. The 1992 Tar Heels were second in the ACC in total defense behind Florida State and 31st in the nation. In 1991, Carolina was 19th in the country against the run and 23rd overall.

In 1990, the Tar Heels set a school record that still stands with 45 quarterback sacks. Hollier and Thigpen both earned All-ACC recognition that year, a season that was highlighted by a fourth quarter goalline stand that forced a tie with eventual co-national champion Georgia Tech.

"That third year here (1990) was when I saw it start to happen," says Torbush. "I saw it in the spring after the second year. As coaches we could see guys like Thigpen, Rondell Jones and Tommy Smith were special. We were recruiting better athletes. The win over Wake Forest in 1990 when we came back from 24-10 down was a key game. After that game we started to feel like we had a chance to win."

Torbush joined Mack Brown's original staff on December 28, 1987, after resigning as head coach at Louisiana Tech. Torbush was 3-8 in his first season as a head coach. He left as a result of a change in administration at the Ruston, La., school, and for the opportunity to coach at Carolina.

He had taken over the Louisiana Tech program after 12 years as an assistant to Billy Brewer at three different schools. He coached linebackers and defensive ends at Southeastern Louisiana from 1976-79, was the assistant head coach and coached linebackers at Louisiana Tech from 1980-82 and was defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at the University of Mississippi from 1983-86.

Torbush spent those 12 years under Brewer alongside Robert Youngblood, currently the head coach and assistant principal at Oxford (Miss.) High School. Youngblood coordinated the defensive staff at SE Louisiana and Louisiana Tech and then switched places with Torbush at Ole Miss.

"If I had a son, Coach Torbush would be the one that I would want to coach him," says Youngblood. "He's a tremendous person. His character and integrity are the best; he is the whole ball of wax."

"I don't think you could pick a better man to run a football program. He's a great motivator, a great tactician and a great teacher. He's just so very thorough and such a hard worker, and that's what it's all about. He does things the right way."

SE Louisiana finished 9-1-1 and was ranked in the Top 10 in Division II in 1976 in his first year as a fulltime assistant coach. Linebacker Calvin Favron went on to play for the St. Louis Cardinals in the NFL.

Torbush also was the head baseball coach at SE Louisiana and was named Gulf South Conference Baseball Coach of the Year in 1978 as he led the Lions to the conference title. The baseball team was 15th in the country in 1978 and 12th in the nation in 1979.

Jim Bounds

He spent three years in his first stint at Louisiana Tech and helped guide the Bulldogs to the 1982 I-AA semifinals. The Bulldogs were ranked No. 2 in the final I-AA poll in 1982. Torbush coached four linebackers who played in the NFL, including Tank Landry (New Orleans), Andre Young (San Diego), Kenny Williams (Pittsburgh) and Tony Boles.

In his four years as defensive coordinator at Ole Miss, Torbush overhauled the Rebel defense. Ole Miss was last in the Southeastern Conference in total defense his first year in Oxford, but was No. 1 in the SEC in 1986, his final year there. Ron Case, Carolina's defensive backs coach since 1996 and Torbush's position coach in college, rejoined Torbush at Ole Miss. The Rebels played in two bowl games in those four seasons, including the 1983 Independence Bowl, Ole Miss's first postseason appearance in 12 years.

Torbush helped coach a number of outstanding players at Ole Miss, including future

NFL standouts Jeff Herrod (Indianapolis), Freddie Joe Nunn (Colts), Wesley Walls (now a tight end with the Carolina Panthers), Tony Bennett (Colts) and Stevon Moore (Baltimore Ravens).

"Carl is a very well organized, very intense guy, a guy who works at it all the time," says Brewer, his boss for a dozen years. "He's a tremendous communicator and a relentless recruiter. Carl Torbush will get the job done. This man can coach."

Torbush began his coaching career as assistant football and baseball coach at Carter High School in Knoxville, Tenn., in 1974-75. He resigned after the baseball season to play professional baseball in the Kansas City Royals organization. Torbush was signed by the Royals in February 1975 and played in the midseason All-Star Game with the Royals' Class A franchise in Sarasota, Fla. John Schuerholz, the general manager who constructed the Atlanta Braves in the 1990s, is the executive who signed Torbush to a pro baseball contract. Torbush was teammates with future major leaguer Clint Hurdle. Swing guru Charlie Lau was his batting instructor.

Following the 1975 pro baseball season, Carl and his wife-to-be, Janet Gilbert – who he met at Carson-Newman – hopped into their non-air conditioned 1975 Toyota Corolla and drove from Sarasota to Waco, Texas. Torbush began his college coaching career as a graduate assistant under Grant Teaff at Baylor. He earned his master's degree in physical education and health at Baylor in 1976.

"I've known for a long, long time that Carl would be a Division I-A head coach," says Teaff, who is now the Executive Director of American Football Coaches Association. "I was fortunate to work with him early in his career and it was obvious that he had all the necessary characteristics for becoming a great head coach."

"I think Carolina has made one of the great decisions in its athletic history in naming Carl the head coach."

Torbush launched his coaching career after an outstanding playing career at the junior high, high school and collegiate levels.

His father, Carl William Torbush, moved the family from East Spencer, N.C., to Knoxville, Tenn., when Carl Jr. was 11 and one-half years old, midway through his seventh grade year. Carl played most sports as a kid, excelling in baseball and basketball and playing sandlot football. He played organized football for the first time in the eighth grade. He claims his football career began when he was sitting on the front porch with his dad and some ninth graders walked by on the way to practice and asked Carl to join them. He did and has been playing or coaching the sport ever since. The second day of practice he became a center and linebacker and never got a chance to play running back, his dream position.

His junior high coach, Bob Addonizio, made him one of two eighth graders to start on his junior high football team. Although Torbush excelled at a young age in football, baseball and basketball, boyhood friend Randy Wood says his track career actually tells a lot about Torbush's determination.

"When Carl moved to Tennessee everyone thought he was this funny-talking kid from North Carolina," says Wood. "We were in all the same classes together so we became friends and we are still friends to this day. We played a lot of ball together. Carl was a really hard worker. He may not have had as much talent as some kids, but no one worked harder than Carl. He hated to lose, even in practice. We would stay out there practicing until he won. You could tell even back in high school that he was a leader."

"Carl also ran track because we were a really small junior high school. He was a star in football and baseball but in track he ran the 880 and came in last in every meet all year and took a good deal of ribbing for it. But he kept trying and working hard at getting better and in the last meet, the city meet, he finally beat someone. He didn't finish last. I think that was one of his greatest thrills – not finishing last in that city track meet. That just shows you the way he was. Even if he was not very good at something, he would just work harder and harder."

Torbush attended Austin-East High School in Knoxville and played for Coach Bob Polston, who was almost a second father to him. Oddly, he played center on offense and cornerback on defense as a sophomore and junior and led the league in interceptions as a junior with eight. As a senior he moved to linebacker. Polston's teams lost just four games in Torbush's three years.

"If you had a son you would like him to turn out exactly like Carl Torbush," says Polston. "He's one of the finest kids I have ever been associated with. I didn't know he was going to be a football coach, but I was sure he was going to be successful at whatever profession he chose. He's dedicated, intelligent and works at it. Plus he loves the game. He came from a good family."

"His dad, Big Carl, was at every game," recalls Wood. "He would sit back real quiet, but you always knew he was there supporting us. Big Carl was a really good influence on Little Carl."

Dan Sears

A multi-sport standout, Torbush had several Division I scholarship offers, but he was holding out for an athletic scholarship from the University of Tennessee. When one didn't come, he attended UT anyway and walked on the football team. He did not play as a freshman, but worked his way up to the second team and even started in the spring game.

The summer after his first year at UT, however, he signed a scholarship to play baseball and football at Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tenn. He had to sit out the first football season, but played immediately for the baseball team. Not playing in games, however, did nothing to contain his competitive fires.

"His first year he was ineligible to play because he had transferred from Tennessee so he played against the first team," recalls Coach Case, who was linebackers coach under head coach Dal Shealy at Carson-Newman. "Coach Shealy, he's the type who never wants to stop practice until the first team scored. With Carl on the other side, there were a lot of nights we had practice go for a long time."

Torbush played three years of football and four years of baseball at Carson-Newman and performed so well that he earned first-team All-America honors in both sports and has been inducted into the Carson-Newman and Knoxville Sports Halls of Fames.

In 1971-72, Torbush received second-team All-America honors as a catcher. In 1972-73, he was named honorable mention All-America as a linebacker and first-team All-America in baseball. In 1973-74, he was first-team NAIA All-America in both sports. He hit .420 as a junior, .454 as a senior and still holds the career batting average record at .401.

One of his teammates at Carson-Newman for two years was Ken Rucker, a linebacker, who is in his second year as Carolina's linebackers coach and special teams coordinator. "Carl was the kind of teammate you could depend on," says Rucker. "Playing alongside him, you never had to worry about the job getting done. He's a friend, but he is also the kind of person I respect because he respects others. I've known him for almost 30 years and I have grown to love him and I am thrilled to get the opportunity to coach here and work alongside him again."

The Eagles lost to East Texas in the NAIA championship game his junior season. East Texas was led by Harvey Martin, who went to star for the Dallas Cowboys. As a senior, Carson-Newman was ranked sixth in the country.

"As a player, Carl was really a playing coach," recounts Coach Shealy. "He was a strong leader on the field who studied the game — he knew all the players' assignments, on both sides of the ball. He was a super competitor. Carl has excellent self-control and he brings his high principles and standards to his coaching."

Torbush has coached defense his entire career, but his admirers do not rest solely on that side of the ball.

"Carl Torbush is an honest, straightforward guy," says former UNC wide receiver Corey Holliday. "He speaks the truth and lives the truth and only good things come from that. He is more than just focus and attitude. There's more to life than football. He wants to know more about you than just football, he wants to get to know you personally and that is what a good coach is all about."

"Coach Torbush has always been one of my favorite coaches," adds former UNC fullback William Henderson. "He's got a personality that works well with the players. I am sure the guys will learn a lot from him. He's one of those guys you just want to play for."

Torbush will turn 48 on October 11. His wife, Janet, has a Ph.D. in education and teaches at Elon College. Their son, Trey, is nine years old.

Holliday was the 19th overall player selected in the 1998 NFL Draft by the Green Bay Packers. Jones was a first-round selection of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1996, Terry was the first player selected in the second round in 1997 by the New York Jets, and Andre Purvis was a fifth round pick in 1997 by the Bengals. Purvis has played the last two years with the Bengals. Also, Riddick Parker has played three years with Seattle and Nate Hobgood-Chittick is a member of the Indianapolis Colts after making the NY Giants roster as a free agent rookie in 1998.

Marcus Dow, a senior last fall, signed a free agent contract with Cincinnati. Dow's signing continued a streak in which every player Browning has coached at UNC has been drafted by or signed with an NFL franchise.

Holliday had 13 tackles for losses, including five quarterback sacks, as a senior. With Green Bay, he was runnerup in voting for the 1998 NFC Defensive Rookie of the Year.

Twice named the state's high school Coach of the Year, Ken Browning brought that formula for success to Carolina. Browning has developed a number of outstanding tackles, including first-round NFL draft picks Vonnie Holliday and Marcus Jones and second-round picks Rick Terry and Russell Davis. The Chicago Bears selected Davis in the second round of the 1999 NFL Draft.

The Tar Heels led the ACC in total defense from 1995-97 and finished No. 2 in the nation in yards allowed in 1996 and 1997. The Tar Heels were third in the country against the run in 1996 allowing 73.9 yards per game. In 1997, Carolina was fourth in the nation stopping the run as the opponents averaged 77.9 yards per contest. UNC held opponents to less than 50 yards rushing in six games and less than 100 yards in nine of 12 games.

Browning was the head coach and athletic director at Northern High School for 18 years. He posted a 178-35 record and won the 1993 4-A state title and Shrine Bowl. Over his last three years, Northern built a 43-2 record and was named the North Carolina Coach of the Year by the Associated Press in 1992 and 1993. In 1988 he was elected as first president of the North Carolina Football Coaches Association. He became only the third coach to win both the state title and Shrine Bowl in the same year.

Browning was the coach at Ledford High in Thomasville from 1970-75.

RON CASE

Defensive Secondary • 4th Year at UNC • Carson-Newman '73

Carolina's consecutive Top 10 national finishes in 1996 and 1997 were led by a stifling defensive unit, one that finished second in the nation in total defense in each of those years. Ron Case coached the defensive backs and is credited with bringing to Chapel Hill the aggressive, man-to-man coverage the Tar Heels feature. Case's teams led their respective conferences in pass efficiency defense for three consecutive seasons from 1995-97.

Under his tutelage, cornerback Dre' Bly became the most decorated football player in UNC history and among the most honored players in ACC annals. Bly, a second-round pick in the 1999 NFL Draft by the St. Louis Rams, is the only football player in ACC history to earn first-team All-America honors in three different seasons. Bly set the alltime ACC record with 20 interceptions.

In 1996-97, cornerbacks Robert Williams and Bly and safeties Omar Brown and Greg Williams formed one of the nation's top secondaries. Robert Williams, a fifth-round selection by the Kansas City Chiefs in the 1998 NFL Draft, broke up 36 passes in his last two seasons and was a first-team All-ACC pick in 1997. Brown anchored UNC's defense that finished No. 1 in the ACC and No. 3 in the nation in pass efficiency defense in 1996 and 1997. Brown was selected in the fourth round by the Atlanta Falcons in the 1998 draft.

Over those two seasons, Carolina intercepted 38 passes and allowed 15 touchdowns in 24 games. Carolina allowed just 209.3 total yards per game in 1997, the lowest figure Case came to Carolina from LSU, where the Tigers were first in the Southeastern Conference in pass defense in 1995. He spent six years at both Vanderbilt and Ole Miss and coached UNC defensive coordinator Carl Torbush at Carson-Newman.

He spent 13 years in the U.S.

Marines after high school and played 11 years of football in the Corps. In 1969, while an undergraduate, he was the defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Carson-Newman.

In 1977, he coached defensive backs at West Texas State. The Buffaloes won the Ohio Valley title behind a defense that led the league in every statistical category. West Texas picked off 22 passes that year.

He was the head coach at his alma mater in 1978-79 and the assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at Richmond from 1980-82.

Cornell, his teams set 172 school records, including 133 offensive records. In the first two years of the NCAA overtime rule, Cornell was 2-1 with both wins occurring in double overtime.

A 1979 Cornell graduate, Hofher became the head coach in January of 1990. Prior to that he coached the quarterbacks at the University of Tennessee in 1989. The Volunteers were SEC tri-champions, defeated Arkansas in the 1990 Cotton Bowl and set a school record for total offense.

From 1987-88, Hofher coached the running backs and special teams at Syracuse University. The Orangemen were undefeated in 1987 with an 11-0-1 record and played Auburn to a tie in the 1988 Sugar Bowl. The 1998 Syracuse squad capped off a 10-2 season with a Hall of Fame Bowl victory over LSU. The Orangemen also established an NCAA record for kicking 260 consecutive PAT's during Hofher's tenure.

From 1983-86, Hofher coached the running backs and special teams at Wake Forest and were Big Four champions in 1984.

His first full time coaching position was at Miami (Ohio) University in 1981-82 coaching

Jim Hofher, former head football coach at Cornell, is in his second year as the Tar Heels' quarterbacks coach and passing game coordinator.

Last year, Hofher oversaw the development of senior Oscar Davenport and freshman Ronald Curry. Davenport finished his career with a three-touchdown performance against NC State and Curry was the MVP in the Las Vegas Bowl. Curry established a number of single-game and single-season freshman school records and led the team in total offense with 1,394 yards.

During his eight-year head coaching tenure at Cornell, the Big Red posted a 44-36 record, including a 35-25 league mark. The 35 wins are the most of any Cornell head coach in league history. While at the quarterbacks and wide receivers.

Hofher first broke into coaching as a graduate assistant to the offensive staff at Wake Forest in 1979-80. In 1979, Wake went to its first bowl game, the Tangerine Bowl, in 39 years.

A three-year letterwinner at Cornell, Hofher was the starting quarterback and led the team in passing yardage in each season from 1976-78. He played two years under current Carolina Panthers and two-time Super Bowl champion head coach George Seifert.

He was selected to the Xavier (Conn.) High School Hall of Honor in 1992, and the Middletown (Conn.) Sports

Hall of Fame in 1998.

Tight Ends • 6th Year at UNC • Southern '70

Terry Lewis, formerly the guards and centers coach at the University of Colorado and a former assistant coach at North Carolina, was the first assistant coach hired by Tar Heel head football coach Carl Torbush in December 1997. Lewis coaches the tight ends at UNC.

The 50-year-old graduate of Southern University coached tight ends and offensive tackles at Carolina from 1988-91 under former head coach Mack Brown. Lewis came to Carolina after a year with Brown at Tulane.

Lewis spent six years at Colorado, where he worked for head coaches Bill McCartney and Rick Neuheisel. He has 28 seasons of experience coaching offensive linemen and/or tight ends. North Carolina is his 10th collegiate coaching stop, including a pair of stints at both UNC and Navy. He coached three All-Americans at Colorado—guard Heath Irwin (1995), guard Chris Naeole (consensus first-team pick in 1996) and center Bryan Stoltzberg (consensus first-team pick in 1996). The Buffalos were 53-16-2 in Lewis' tenure. He was the offensive line coach at Colorado in 1994 when Rashaan Salaam won the Heisman Trophy.

In Boulder, Lewis coached the tackles and tight ends in 1992, the tackles in 1993 and 1994, the entire offensive line in 1995 and 1996, and the guards and centers in 1997. He began his coaching career at the United States Naval Academy Prep School in 1971. The Memphis, Tenn., native also coached at Navy (1972-74), Western Michigan (1975-76), Illinois (1977-78), Southern (1979-80), ECU (1981), Navy (1982-83), LSU (1984-86), Tulane (1987), North Carolina (1988-91) and Colorado (1992-97).

He graduated in 1970 from Southern University, where he lettered four years from 1966-69, mostly at offensive tackle.

Lewis earned All-America and All-Southwest Athletic Conference honors as a player. In 1970, he played with the Buffalo Bills.

Lewis coached the tackles and tight ends at Carolina in 1988 and 1989 and the offensive tackles in 1990 and 1991. Kevin Donnalley, entering his eighth year in the NFL in Miami,

KEN MACK

Running Backs • 4th Year at UNC • North Carolina '79

A three-year letterwinner at Carolina from 1976-78, Ken Mack returned to Chapel Hill for the 1996 season after spending 14 seasons at the University of Virginia. Now entering his fourth year on the Tar Heel coaching staff, Mack is responsible for the running backs, a position he played at UNC.

In 1996, his first year in Chapel Hill, Mack coached second-team All-ACC tailback and first-team All-ACC specialist Leon Johnson, who had 913 yards rushing, 39 receptions and 12 touchdowns.

In 1997, Mack took a backfield with no returning starters and developed it into one of the most productive and consistent units on the field. Jonathan Linton, who entered the year with just 569 career rushing yards, became a standout who earned second-team All-ACC honors and was selected in the fifth round of the 1998 NFL Draft by the Buffalo Bills. Linton became the latest Tar Heel to rush for 1,000 yards after topping the 100-yard mark four times. He became the first player in UNC history rush for 100 yards and catch passes for 100 yards in the same game.

Mack played running back for coach Bill Dooley in 1976-77 and for Dick Crum in 1978. He was a member of Carolina teams which played in the 1976 Peach Bowl and 1977 Liberty Bowl.

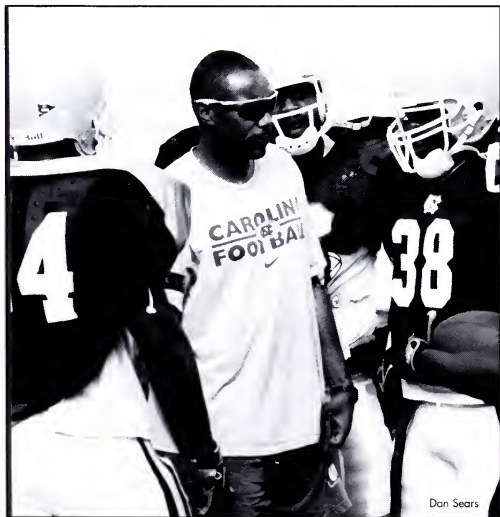

The Wayne County, N.C., native coached offensive backs at Howard University in 1980 and defensive ends at the U.S. Naval Academy in 1981. The following year he joined George Welsh's staff at Virginia where he coached running backs for 14 years.

Mack has coached some of the most outstanding running backs in ACC history. Johnson is the league's alltime all-purpose yardage leader and is eighth in career rushing. At Virginia, where he was a member of eight bowl game staffs, Mack coached Barry Word, who set the school's single-season rushing record in 1985; Terry Kirby, who established UVA's career rushing record; and Tiki Barber, who led the ACC in all-purpose yardage in 1995, Mack's final year in Charlottesville.

Offensive Coordinator/Offensive Line • 2nd Year at UNC • Louisville '79

Steve Marshall is in his second season as the Tar Heels' offensive coordinator and offensive line coach. Last year he led an offense that scored more points against six opponents than the Tar Heels managed against those same teams a year earlier (including Stanford, Georgia Tech, Clemson, Wake Forest, Florida State and NC State).

Marshall's first season was hampered by injuries to UNC's starting quarterback, tight end, two wide receivers and numerous tailbacks and offensive linemen. Still, Carolina rushed for its highest output in three years and averaged just under 200 yards passing per game. Na Brown matched his school record with 55 receptions, but caught passes for almost 300 yards more than he did in 1997. Quarterback Ronald Curry rewrote Carolina's freshman passing records. Senior quarterback Oscar Davenport completed 55 percent of his pass attempts and had a rating of nearly 122.

Marshall came to Chapel Hill after he coordinated the Texas A&M offense in 1997. The Aggies were 9-4 with a No. 20 final national ranking in the Associated Press poll, Big 12 championship game appearance and Cotton Bowl berth. A&M averaged 35.2 points, 374.8 yards and 18 first downs per contest. Three different Aggies rushed for more than 500 yards, eight different players caught at least 10 passes, and two quarterbacks completed 56 percent or more of their passes and had quarterback ratings of 130.63 and 125.20, respectively.

A native of Vernon, Conn., Marshall played offensive guard and tight end at Louisville in 1976-78. He coached the offensive line and kicking game at Marshall in 1982-83, offensive line and tight ends at Louisville in 1984, and coordinated the offense and coached the line at Murray State in 1985-86.

He coached the offensive line at Virginia Tech in 1987 and a year later was promoted to offensive coordinator, a position he held for the next five seasons. Vaughn Hebronn, a member of the Denver Broncos Super Bowl championship team, rushed for 2,327 yards, the seventh-highest total in Hokie history, under Marshall's direction. Will Furrer, who played for three NFL teams, quarterbacked the Hokies from 1988-91 and is still the school's second alltime leading passer with 6,009 yards. Antonio Freeman, standout wide receiver for the Green Bay Packers, spent his first two years at Virginia Tech in Marshall's offense and finished his career as the Hokies' all-time leading receiver.

In 1993, he returned to Tennessee to coach the offensive line. After two years he was given the added responsibility of running game coordinator. The Volunteers led the Southeastern Conference in rushing in each of those three seasons. In 1995, Tennessee beat Ohio State in the Citrus Bowl and finished No. 2 in the final coaches poll. In 1996, Marshall coached the offensive line at UCLA.

Marshall has coached in six bowl games, including the Las Vegas Bowl, the 1998 Cotton Bowl at Texas A&M, the 1996 Citrus Bowl, the 1994 Gator Bowl, the 1994 Citrus Bowl and the 1981 Garden State Bowl at Tennessee.

Four of his players from the 1995 Tennessee team are playing in the NFL, including Jason Layman (Oilers), Bubba Miller (Eagles), Jeff Smith (Chiefs) and Leslie Ratliffe (Chiefs). He also coached three NFL linemen at Virginia Tech, including William Boatwright (Eagles), Eugene Chung (Patriots) and Jim Pyne (Buccaneers). Chung was a first round draft pick and first-team All-America by the Football Writers. Marshall also coached Texas A&M future pros Chris Ruhman (49ers), Steve McKinney (Colts), Rex Tucker (Bears) and Cameron Spikes (Rams). At UCLA he tutored Chad Overhauser (Bears), Kris Farris (Steelers) and Andy Meyers (Seahawks). He coached New England All-Pro Bruce Armstrong in 1984 at Louisville.

He is married to the former Karin Ross.

Recruiting Areas: Eastern Virginia (Hampton, Newport News, Richmond, Fredericksburg, Petersburg, Fork Union), Southwest Virginia, Northern New Jersey, New York (Long Island, Westchester County, Rockland County), New England.

DARRELL MOODY

and NC State. He coached UNC record-setting senior wide receivers Na Brown and L.C. Stevens and developed freshman Kory Bailey into one of the league's top rookies. Brown had 55 receptions to equal his own single-season school record, but added nearly 300 yards on those receptions. Bailey had a UNC freshman record 37 receptions.

The 1999 season will be Moody's 27th as a collegiate coach and his 18th at an ACC institution. The Asheboro, N.C., native played quarterback at NC State from 1968-70 and began his coaching career at Asheboro High in 1971. He has made coaching stops at NC State (graduate assistant in 1973-74, defensive backs coach in 1976, quarterbacks and running backs coach from 1977-79, wide receivers in 1997), Southern Mississippi (quarterbacks and running backs in 1975), LSU (running backs from 1980-83), Appalachian State (assistant head coach in 1984), Tulane (offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach from 1985-87), North Carolina (1988-95), Clemson (offensive coordinator in 1996) and NC State (wide receivers in 1997).

Moody has the unique distinction of coaching two of the top six career running backs at three different universities. He coached Ted Brown and Billy Ray Vickers at NC State, Dalton Hilliard and Garry James at LSU and Leon Johnson and Means at Carolina.

Over the last six years of his tenure at Carolina, the Tar Heels posted a 47-23-1 record and averaged better than 25 points per game. He coached four 1,000-yard backs (Kennard Martin in 1988, Means in 1991 and 1992, Curtis Johnson in 1993 and Leon Johnson in 1993) and 13 offensive players received first-team All-ACC honors. UNC set a single-season passing yardage record in 1995.

Thirteen former Tar Heels who played in offenses he coordinated in Chapel Hill played in the NFL, including running backs Torin Dorn, Eric Blount, Means, Leon Johnson and William Henderson, wide receivers Corey Holliday and Bucky Brooks, tight ends Deems May, Greg DeLong, Oscar Sturgis and Freddie Jones and offensive linemen Darrell Hamilton, Kevin Donnalley and Brian Bollinger.

Means rushed for 1,000 yards twice and went on to lead the San Diego Chargers to the Super Bowl. Leon Johnson became the career all-purpose yardage leader in ACC history. Henderson never earned all-conference honors at Carolina, but fundamentally was one of the top fullbacks in the ACC. Henderson has started the last two years for the Green Bay Packers.

Moody coached first-team All-ACC wide receiver Torry Holt at NC State in 1997. Holt led the ACC in receiving yards that year with 1,099 and 16 touchdowns. He set an ACC single-game record with five TD catches at FSU.

Recruiting Areas: Piedmont and Central North Carolina (Burlington, Chapel Hill, High Point, Salisbury, Concord, Kannapolis, Winston-Salem, Greensboro), Northwest South Carolina, Northern Florida (Pensacola, Tallahassee, Jacksonville), Alabama.

KEN RUCKER

Linebackers/Special Teams Coordinator • 2nd Year at UNC • Carson-Newman '76

Ken Rucker is in his second year at Carolina. He coaches linebackers and coordinates all special team play. Last year, he coached Keith Newman, a fourth-round draft pick of the Buffalo Bills. Carolina's special teams played a key role in a pair of wins. The Tar Heels recovered blocked punts for touchdowns in UNC's 38-31 win at Wake Forest and 20-13 win in the Las Vegas Bowl.

Rucker worked diligently with punter Brian Schmitz, who was a standout in windy conditions at the Las Vegas Bowl and finished the season with the third-highest punting average in school history. He was second-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference.

Carolina's starting linebackers last fall — Newman, Brandon Spoon and Sedrick Hodge averaged nearly 33 tackles per game and finished the year with 31 combined tackles for losses. Newman and Spoon both earned second-team All-ACC honors.

Carolina returned a pair of kickoffs for touchdowns in 1998, including a 100-yarder by Tyrell Godwin against Stanford and a 95-yarder return by Kory Bailey against Georgia Tech. That was the first time in school history UNC returned two for scores in one season. Godwin led the ACC in kickoff return average. The Tar Heels were third in the league in kickoff returns and fourth in punt returns.

Dan Sears

Rucker is a 1976 graduate of Carson-Newman College in Jefferson City, Tenn. He played linebacker at Carson-Newman alongside Torbush under defensive coordinator Ron Case, the Tar Heels' secondary coach. He spent four years as the running backs coach at Texas A&M.

Rucker, a native of Morristown, Tenn., has been an assistant coach at the collegiate level for the past 21 years. North Carolina was his seventh college appointment.

He earned all-conference honors in each of his four seasons at Carson-Newman and led the Eagles to the 1972 NAIA championship game. His first coaching stops were as defensive coordinator at Cawood High in Kentucky in 1976 and Crockett High in Tennessee in 1977-78.

He coached the defensive line at Appalachian State from 1979-81, outside linebackers at Richmond in 1982-83, and running backs at Air Force (1984-89), Arkansas (1990-92), Baylor (1993) and Texas A&M (1994-97). He has coordinated several areas of special teams for 11 years and was the assistant head coach at Baylor in 1993. Rucker has coached in eight bowl games, including the 1998 Cotton Bowl. Leeland McElroy, now with the Denver Broncos, was one of his top players at Texas A&M.

Rucker is married to the former Nancy Sue Davis of New Market, Tenn. The couple has one daughter, Kenny Lynette, 27. Rucker has worked with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes for many years.

Recruiting Areas: Western North Carolina (Shelby, Asheville, Brevard, Hendersonville), East Tennessee, Southwest Virginia, East Georgia, Dallas, East Texas.

DONNIE THOMPSON

Assistant Head Coach/Defensive Ends • 11th Year at UNC • Connecticut '75

Donnie Thompson enters his 11th season with the Tar Heels. The second-most tenured coach at Carolina, Thompson coaches the defensive ends and is the assistant head coach.

For the second consecutive year, the Dallas Cowboys selected one of Thompson's defensive end proteges in the first round of the NFL Draft. First-team All-ACC end Ebenezer Ekuban joined first-team All-America Greg Ellis as Cowboys draftees. Ekuban set the UNC single-season record last fall with 23 tackles for losses in just his second season playing the position.

Ellis was a 1998 first-round draft pick and the eighth overall player selected by the Dallas Cowboys. Ellis earned consensus first-team All-America honors in 1997 by the Associated Press, the Walter Camp Foundation, the American Football Coaches and Football News. He also set the alltime UNC quarterback sack record with 32.5 and is one of just four Tar Heels to receive first-team All-ACC honors three times. Ellis was a finalist for the Lombardi Award which is given to the nation's top lineman.

The Tar Heels led the ACC in total defense in 1995-97 and finished No. 2 in the nation in yards allowed per game in 1996 and 1997. The Tar Heels were third in the country against the run in 1996 allowing 73.9 yards per game. In 1997, Carolina was fourth in the nation stopping the run as the opponents averaged 77.9 yards per contest.

Thompson coached Marcus Jones en route to the UNC career quarterback sack record in 1992-95, a mark Ellis topped in 1997. When Jones broke the sack record in 1995, the year he earned consensus first-team All-America honors, he topped the mark held by Lawrence Taylor. Taylor's standard had held for 16 years prior to Jones and Ellis. Jones was a first-round draft pick of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1996.

at Carolina by coaching the outside linebackers. He coached Bernardo Harris, a second-team All-ACC linebacker in 1993 and a member of the 1997 Super Bowl champion Green Bay Packers. Thompson coached NFL players Chris Doleman at the University of Pittsburgh and Robert Jones at ECU.

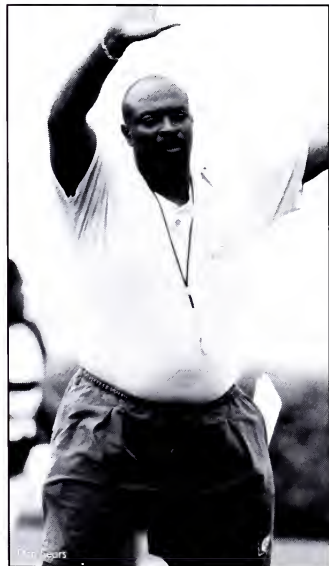

Thompson also coaches the punt block unit. Bracey Walker was named Sports Illustrated's Special Teams Player of Year in 1993 as a result of his four blocked punts. In 1997, the Tar Heels blocked five punts and scored three touchdowns on blocked punts, including game-breakers in wins over Stanford and Virginia Tech.

Last year, Carolina recovered blocked punts for touchdowns in the 38-31 win at Wake Forest and the 20-13 win over San Diego State in the Las Vegas Bowl.

A native of Bogalusa, La., Thompson was a 1975 graduate of Connecticut where he was an All-East linebacker. He also has coached at UConn, Pittsburgh, Western Kentucky and ECU. He has two children, Don and Amie.

Recruiting Areas: Southeast North Carolina (Goldsboro, Greenville, Jacksonville, New Bern, Kinston, Wilson), Maryland, South Florida (Tampa, Miami).

What is the Educational Foundation? The Educational Foundation is the oldest foundation on the UNC campus and holds a status comparable to the Business Foundation, the Medical Foundation and other fund-raising organizations working for the benefit of the University.

What is the purpose of the Educational Foundation? The Educational Foundation was established to offer financial aid to worthy student-athletes seeking an education at the University of North Carolina and to support the University's athletic program by providing services and funds for the construction of facilities or purchase of equipment.

How much support does the Educational Foundation actually provide? Since its founding in 1938, the Educational Foundation has provided scholarships, either partial or full, to over 7,000 student-athletes. Nearly 400 will be awarded scholarships during the 1998-99 school year at a cost of more than $5.6 million.

What are the different levels of giving to the Educational Foundation?

Little Ram ($100) — Contributions of any amount are welcome, however, individuals contributing $100 or more have the opportunity to purchase season football tickets, the location of which is subject to the point system; gain access to the Rams Room in Kenan Fieldhouse for home football games; participate in football and basketball ticket exchanges; purchase group travel packages; receive the RamPage Newsletter, car window decals and invitations to annual Foundation functions which feature Carolina coaches as guest speakers.

Ram ($150) — In addition to that above, a Ram donor has the opportunity to purchase mini-season basketball ticket packages when available and receive football and basketball media guides.

Rameses ($300) — In addition to the benefits received at the Ram level, a Rameses donor has the opportunity to purchase and maintain the assigned location of two season football tickets; additional tickets may be purchased, location subject to the point system. Note: This level will increase to $375 effective 1/1/2000.

Big Ram ($750) — In addition to the benefits received at the Ram level, a Big Ram donor has the opportunity to purchase and maintain the assigned location of four season football tickets and receive an assigned parking space.

Super Ram ($1,500) — In addition to the benefits received at the Ram level, a Super Ram donor has the opportunity to purchase and maintain the assigned location of up to eight season football tickets and receive an assigned parking space.

Can a donor contribute in ways other than through the annual giving program? Yes. Carolina was one of the first schools in the nation to set up an endowment program for athletics. This program consists of $15,000 and $30,000 life memberships as well as $50,000 and $100,000 endowed scholarships which may be set up through various giving vehicles.

Does the Foundation have chapters at the local level? There are currently 45 local Educational Foundation chapters which meet at least once a year. Many of the coaches attend these gatherings, giving donors an early opportunity to hear about recruiting, prospects for the upcoming season and schedules.

Who provides the leadership for the Educational Foundation?

The Foundation's outside officers include a Chairman, three Vice-Chairmen, a Secretary, Treasurer, Counsel and Past Chairman. These officers, together with the at-large members and an Investment Committee, comprise the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee is the decision-making body of the Educational Foundation and reports its actions to the Board of Directors.

The leadership within the Foundation office is provided by Moyer G. Smith. He is in his 13th year as President. He was appointed to the position in December 1986. There are also four vice-presidents within the office: John D. Cherry, Executive Vice-President; Neal B. Harrell, V.P. for Donor Services; Sue Walsh, V.P. for Endowment; and Dawn D. McPherson, Administrative V.P.

How can one become a contributor to the Educational Foundation? By contacting the Educational Foundation at (919) 945-2000 or by writing P.O. Box 2446, Chapel Hill, N.C. 27515.

An Exciting Time To Be Involved!

Since 1938, The Educational Foundation, Inc. has provided support for student-athletes and athletic facilities at UNC Chapel Hill. Dedicated donors have helped elevate our intercollegiate athletics program to an unprecedented level of achievement and respect. As we set course for new, exciting milestones, we invite you to be part of the journey - part of history.

Where Your Support Will Make A Difference:

FIELD HOCKEY & WOMEN'S LACROSSE

Francis E. Henry Stadium

Project Description: This new stadium-office-locker room complex for field hockey and women's lacrosse is the finest of its kind in the nation and will also serve many UNC programs as a Sports Medicine Center.

MEN'S AND WOMEN'S SOCCER

McCaskill Soccer Center

Project Description: Built behind legendary Carmichael Auditorium a long-needed complex for two legendary soccer programs that have not had locker room facilities or meeting space of their own.

MEN'S & WOMEN'S GOLF

The New Finley Golf Course

Project Description: Construction of one of the finest golf courses in the country of which not only the men's and women's teams can take advantage, but students, faculty, staff and Educational Foundation donors as well.

FOOTBALL

Kenan Stadium Expansion and Renovation

Project Description: Increased seating and modernization of one of the nation's most beautiful football venues.

If you have not already done so, we invite you to make a pledge to one or more of these campaigns. The generations of family pride will be matched only by the tangible tribute to the future of Carolina athletics.

Yes, I want to join other loyal Tar Heel supporters and help Carolina's men's and women's athletic programs continue to succeed.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM

The Academic Support Program assists student-athletes in successfully reaching their academic goals. The program supports students in the process of exploring their interests and abilities and in developing a broad academic experience.

"Our goal is to assist our student-athletes in making sound academic decisions," says Robert Mercer, Associate Director of Academic Support Services. "By providing our student-athletes direction and support with their studies and their graduation planning, we are helping them to realize their full potential while attending the University and after they have graduated."

Located primarily in the Pope Academic Support Center, the program opened its doors in 1986. It is equipped with study facilities, a foreign language lab, tutorial rooms, a computer lab, a 128-seat auditorium, counselor's offices, and state-of-the-art video and computer equipment. Students meet with staff to discuss issues related to course selection, major and career exploration, academic progress and academic eligibility.

In the spring 1999 semester, 340 student-athletes had a grade point average of 3.0 or better. That is 47 percent of the student-athlete population. In that same semester, 91 student-athletes made the Dean's List. The football program received

The University of North Carolina was one of 26 Division I institutions that received the Academic Achievement Award given by the American Football Coaches Association in June 1999. The award is given to those schools that have a graduation rate of 70 percent or higher for a particular incoming class of scholarship football players. This year's distinction is for the incoming class of 1993-94.

Carolina is one of five Atlantic Coast Conference schools to receive the award. UNC is one of only 12 schools to receive the award that also played in a postseason bowl game last year.

Duke received the top award for graduating all 12 incoming players. The other 24 schools that earned honorable mention status along with Carolina include: Ball State, Baylor, Boston College, Bowling Green, Central Michigan, Clemson, Georgia, Hawaii, Indiana, Marshall, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Northwestern, Notre Dame, Ohio, Penn State, Rice, Syracuse, Tennessee, UCLA, Vanderbilt, Virginia, Wake Forest and West Virginia.

the Academic Achievement Award from the American Football Coaches Association for graduating at least 70 percent of its scholarship players.

"We have an athletic program with our priorities in line with the fundamental academic mission of the University," says Athletic Director Dick Baddour. "Our young people are students first and athletes second and that will always be the case at the University. That is a credit to our coaches, administrators, support staff, but most of all, our student-athletes. Their accomplishments in the classroom are very impressive."

The staff consists of Assistant Athletic Director and Program Director Dr. Janice Hilliard, Associate Directors Burgess

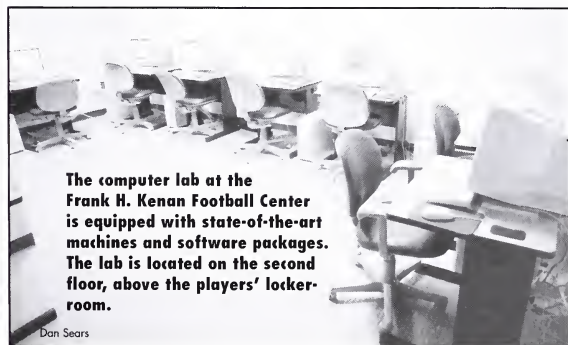

McSwain and Mercer, Assistant Directors Susan Berner, Carl Carey and Laurie Yakubec and Administrative Assistant Doug Roberts. They serve approximately 725 student-athletes, planning academic and life skill programming designed to help the student-athlete maximize his or her academic and extracurricular activities.

The Academic Support center is open from 8 a.m. to midnight five days a week and from 7:30 p.m. to midnight on Sundays. Visitors are welcome to tour the facility during afternoons.

In addition to the facilities at the Pope Academic Center, the Kenan Football Center offers a full computer lab and study areas for the more than 100 student-athletes on the football team. The computer labs are equipped with new computers and laser printers complete with a variety of software packages, including word processing, spreadsheets, CD-ROM reference materials, tutorials, internet access and e-mail capability.

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

The First State University

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill was the first state university to open its doors and was the only public university in the nation to award degrees to students in the eighteenth century.

Authorized by the North Carolina Constitution in 1776, the University was chartered in 1789, the year George Washington was inaugurated as president. The charter called for a central location, and New Hope Chapel Hill (now Chapel Hill), where several colonial roads converged, was selected.

The cornerstone for Old East, the first state university building in the United States, was laid October 12, 1793. Just fifteen months later, on January 15, 1795, the University admitted its first student. By March 1 there were forty-one students and two professors, and by 1860 only Yale University had a larger enrollment.

From that beginning, the growth, development, and destinies of the state and its citizenry have been inseparable from the University at Chapel Hill. The University has trained many of the state's leaders, including almost half of its governors, as well as leaders in virtually all walks of life. Among its graduates is United States President James K. Polk.

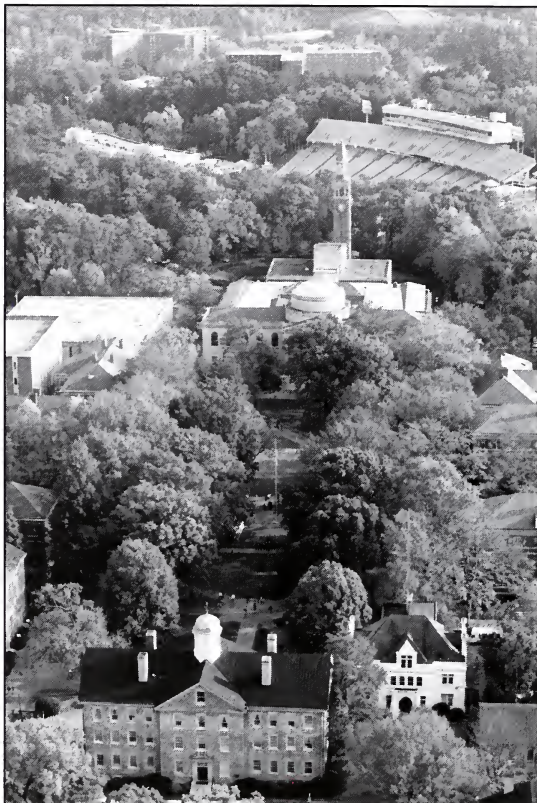

Carolina scientists and students began the first systematic astronomical observations in the nation between 1827 and 1831, and built the first observatory at a state university in North America in 1832. In the 1820s, University faculty members conducted the nation's first state geological survey. Later in that century, Carolina was one of the few Southern universities to remain open during the Civil War. Reconstruction forced it to close (1871-75) for the only time in its history.

The twentieth century brought periods of growth in student enrollment, programs, and intellectual influence.

Now entering its third century of discovery, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill ranks among the great institutions of higher education in the nation.

Recent National Rankings

- U.S. News & World Report magazine's "America's Best Colleges" Aug. 31, 1998, issue ranked Carolina third among public universities and 24th overall among both public and private national universities. U.S. News rated Carolina 17th overall among 50 national schools offering students the best value for their education dollars.
- Kiplinger's Personal Finance magazine's September 1998 issue placed Carolina at the top of the list of the nation's best values at state university campuses. The article, "State Universities to Cheer About," spotlighted the best buys — "schools where students can graduate with a high-caliber education but without a mortgage-size debt."
- The 1999 edition of the Fiske Guide to Colleges ranked Carolina one of the 21 best undergraduate buys among public universities. The annual guide, compiled by Edward B. Fiske, the former education editor for The New York Times, is a universally well-regarded college guide.
- The September/October 1998 issue of Mother Jones magazine ranked Carolina among the top 10 universities for student activism. The magazine credited Carolina for establishing a labor standards task force in the wake of its Nike contract, and for bringing Nike CEO Phil Knight to campus to listen to student comments about the company's overseas labor record. The latest ranking marked Carolina's fifth consecutive appearance on Mother Jones' annual top 10 list.

Location

Carolina sits at the heart of Chapel Hill, an idyllic college town of about 40,000 located in the geographical center of North Carolina. Chapel Hill is at the western point of the Research Triangle, an area of about one million people, comprised of Chapel Hill, the cities of Durham and Raleigh, and the Research Triangle Park, home of many corporate offices and scientific research centers.

Campus is about thirty miles from the state capital, Raleigh, and twenty minutes from Raleigh-Durham International Airport. Chapel Hill's main street, Franklin Street, borders the campus and offers shops and boutiques, restaurants and cafes, movie theaters and houses of worship. Arguably the most vibrant downtown in the state, Franklin Street is filled day and night with people enjoying shopping, dining, and entertainment. The town has historic districts, a museum, a library, parks, malls, and many recreational facilities.

Academics

Carolina's respected faculty teach some of the brightest students in the world. These students benefit from the enthusiasm their professors show for engaging students in learning and from the diligence that faculty apply to their research. Because they spend time in research, faculty here not only bring new knowledge to the classroom, but they also encourage independent thinking by students. Students can assist in research, and often carry out independent projects under faculty supervision.

Many professors hold or have held major positions in every major national scholarly or professional organization. Many also have been elected to the most prestigious academic organizations including the National Academy of Sciences and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

The most comprehensive institution in North Carolina, the University's 13 colleges and schools provide instruction in more than 100 fields, leading to 84 bachelor's, 165 master's, and 106 doctoral degrees, as well as professional degrees in dentistry, medicine, pharmacy, and law.

Educational and Cultural Resources

Carolina's educational and cultural influence extends throughout the state of North Carolina and beyond.

Researchers and people from all walks of life use the University's 4.93-million-volume library system, which is ranked among the top research libraries in the United States and Canada by the Association of Research Libraries. The system includes the main Davis Library, Wilson Library, House Undergraduate Library, the Health Sciences Library, and the Law Library, plus 10 departmental libraries. The extensive North Carolina, Manuscripts, and Rare Book collections are in Wilson Library. Visitors are welcome at any UNC-Chapel Hill library.

The William and Ida Friday Continuing Education Center,

Dan Sears

headquarters for the Division of Continuing Education, provides continuing education on the Chapel Hill campus. The Friday Center incorporates instructional technology and other features to meet the needs of adult learners and combines meeting facilities, program planning services, and food service under one roof. Programs for part-time students seeking credit courses are offered on campus and through distance learning technologies.

The University's public radio station, WUNC-FM, is heard by more than 197,000 listeners each week at 91.5 on the FM band.

The Morehead Planetarium, dedicated in 1949 as the first major planetarium on a university campus, was one of the training sites for America's early astronauts. From 1959 to 1975, astronauts from the Mercury, Gemini, Apollo, Skylab, Apollo-Soyuz, and some early Space Shuttle missions came to Chapel Hill for training in celestial navigation.

Each year about 123,000 people visit the planetarium, including more than 70,000 school children.

The North Carolina Literary Festival, a biennial event begun in 1998, brings authors from across the state and nation to the Chapel Hill campus. The first festival featured performances by more than 100 authors, including bestseller John Grisham, and Pulitzer Prize winners Rita Dove and Annie Dillard.

Art, drama, and music abound on campus. More than 38,000 visitors annually enjoy the Ackland Art Museum's 14,000 works of art. The PlayMakers Repertory Company, the only nonprofit, professional, full-season theater company in North Carolina, draws up to 70,000 patrons annually to the Paul Green Theatre. The Carolina Union Performing Arts Series also brings top national dancers, dance troupes, dramatic productions, and other performances to Chapel Hill. For music lovers, the Department of Music in Hill Hall offers more than 60 concerts a year.

Research

Carolina's research extends the boundaries of knowledge in the arts, humanities, and sciences. Among the nation's most comprehensive institutions, the University belongs to a select group of sixty-two research campuses forming the Association of American Universities. In 1998, the University received more than $304.9 million in research funding from federal and other sources, up five percent from 1997.

Internationally recognized, cutting-edge research is conducted across the campus. Carolina chemists have developed an improved method of synthesizing promising antiviral drugs for people with AIDS, hepatitis B, and other illnesses. AIDS researchers at Carolina have studied a new combination of three drugs that promises to be the best treatment yet to significantly reduce the number of AIDS-related illnesses in infected people.

In the battle against cancer, UNC researchers discovered a key cancer control mechanism that is believed to be one of the most potent natural ways of fighting tumor development. Scientists hope the mechanism might be manipulated to treat cancer better or to detect it earlier.

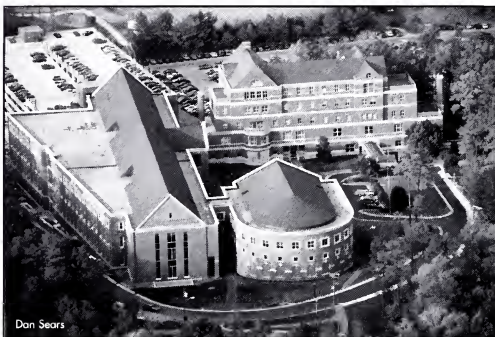

Other researchers in medicine are studying promising new molecular strategies for treating congestive heart failure.

Chemistry research by faculty and students has led to an environmentally friendly dry cleaning method, and may produce a way to manufacture Teflon more cheaply and with less waste.

Public Service

The University's public service activities reach more than 400,000 people annually. Carolina's service programs extend to every region of North Carolina, helping communities protect public health, improve their schools, deliver better medical services, stimulate business, plan for new growth, understand their heritage, and enrich the quality of life.

One of Carolina's most visionary student outreach programs is a.p.p.i.e.s. (Assisting People to Plan Learning Experiences in Service). Participants volunteer in the community or to take part in summer internships in nonprofit or government agencies as part of their course work, then write about or discuss with faculty the findings from their experiences.

The North Carolina Area Health Education Centers (AHEC) Program helps meet the primary health care needs of the state by training and supplying health care professionals in local communities. The AHEC Program is administered by the School of Medicine.

School teachers across North Carolina benefit from the Learners' and Educators' Assistance and Resource Network of North Carolina (LEARN NC), a Website offered free through the School of Education to the state's school systems. Teachers, curriculum or technology specialists and others in all 117 of the state's school systems have been trained on the site, which includes a database of exemplary lesson plans indexed by grade, subject, and the N.C. Standard Course of Study, as set by the N.C. Department of Public Instruction.

Dozens of UNC faculty members share their expertise on state commissions, licensing and regulatory boards, task forces, and committees to benefit North Carolinians. Many student organizations help nonprofit agencies throughout the year.

1998 REVIEW NOTES

Tar Heels Win Las Vegas Bowl

North Carolina wrapped up a 7-5 season with a 20-13 victory over San Diego State in the Las Vegas Bowl on Dec. 19, 1998. The bowl victory was the Tar Heels' fourth in a row and second consecutive under head coach Carl Torbush. (The Tar Heels have not allowed more than 13 points in any of those four postseason wins.) Offensive MVP Ronald Curry ran 48 yards for a touchdown and rushed for 93 total yards. In blustery conditions, punter Brian Schmitz averaged 44 yards on five punts. Late in the first half, with the Tar Heels at their own 29-yard line, Schmitz blasted a career-best 66-yard punt. Keith Newman intercepted a pass on the Tar Heel 2-yard line on San Diego State's final drive to seal the victory.

Four Bowl Wins in a Row

Carolina is the only school in the country to win a bowl game in each of the last four seasons. Nebraska lost to Arizona in the Holiday Bowl to end its streak at three and LSU did not qualify for a bowl, stopping its streak at three.

Seven Bowls in a Row

Carolina advanced to postseason play for a school-record seventh consecutive season. The previous longest span of consecutive bowl games was five in a row from 1979-83. Carolina has now appeared in 23 bowl games and has an 11-12 record in those games. The Tar Heels have won nine of their last 13 postseason football games, including four in a row and five overall with Carl Torbush as defensive coordinator. Carolina's seven-game bowl streak is the eighth-longest active streak in the country. Only Nebraska (30), Michigan (24), Florida State (17), Ohio State (10), Tennessee (10), Penn State (10) and Florida (8) have been to more consecutive bowls.

Tar Heels Rally for Seven Wins

The Tar Heels won seven of their last nine games to finish with a 7-5 overall record. That included a 5-3 mark in the ACC, good for a fourth-place tie with NC State, whom the Tar Heels beat, 37-34 in overtime on November 28 in Charlotte, N.C. Carolina opened the season with three consecutive defeats for the first time since 1988 and the seventh time in school history. However, the Tar Heels fought back to post a winning record at the conclusion of the regular season for the first time in a year in which they lost the first three contests. The 7-5 record marks the ninth straight year in which the Tar Heels posted a winning record, which equals the longest stretch of winning records in school history and is the longest span in the modern era. The Tar Heels posted nine straight winning seasons from 1897 to 1905.

First-Year Head Coach Carl Torbush

Carl Torbush became the first UNC head coach to post a winning record in his first year in charge since Tom Young led the Tar Heels to a 6-3 record in 1943. (Carl Snavely and Jim Hickey each led their teams to 5-5 records in their first seasons in 1945 and 1959, respectively.) Torbush is the only first-year head coach in Carolina football history to lead his team to the postseason. He is also the only UNC coach to lead his team to a winning record in the regular season after opening the year with three losses.

Bly is ACC's First Three-Time All-America

Cornerback Dre' Bly earned 1998 first-team All-America honors by the Walter Camp Foundation. It was the third consecutive year Bly has been named a Camp All-America. He is the only player in ACC football history to earn first-team All-America awards in three seasons. Bly's other first-team All-America awards include: Associated Press 1996 and 1997, Football Writers Association of America 1996 and 1997, Sporting News 1996 and Football News 1997.

Bly, Ekuban Earn First-Team All-ACC Honors

Cornerback Dre' Bly and defensive end Ebenezer Ekuban were named first-team All-ACC by the Atlantic Coast Sportswriters Association. Ekuban was the third defensive lineman select-

Bly, who led all players in voting in 1997 and was the second-highest vote-getter among all players in 1996, was the third defensive back picked after Virginia's Anthony Poindexter and Clemson's Antwan Edwards. Bly is the fourth Tar Heel in history and second in as many years to earn first-team All-ACC honors three times by the Atlantic Coast Sportswriters Association. Defensive end Greg Ellis (1995-96-97), offensive lineman Pat Crowley (1987-88-89) and defensive lineman William Fuller (1981-82-83) also were three-time All-ACC recipients by ACSWA, recognized as the official All-ACC team.

Three Named Second Team All-ACC

Linebackers Brandon Spoon and Keith Newman and punter Brian Schmitz were selected to the 1998 All-ACC Second Team, the first All-ACC honors of any kind for each of the players.

Ekuban Wins Tatum Award

Senior defensive end Ebenezer Ekuban was the 1998 Jim Tatum Award winner. The award, named after the former UNC head football coach, is given by the Atlantic Coast Conference to the top senior student-athlete football player in the ACC. Ekuban was a Dean's List student and a first-team All-ACC defensive lineman. He was the first UNC player to receive the award since offensive tackle Russell Babb, who was the recipient in 1995.

Overtime Thriller Makes UNC Bowl Eligible

Oscar Davenport hit Na Brown with a 14-yard touchdown pass to lift Carolina to a 37-34 overtime win over arch-rival NC State on November 28th in Charlotte's Ericsson Stadium. The game was played in a front of a crowd of 68,797, the largest crowd to watch a college football game in the state of North Carolina. The win was Carolina's sixth in a row over NC State and the 19th consecutive over in-state rivals Duke, NC State and Wake Forest. The win gave UNC a "Big Four" sweep (Duke, NC State and Wake Forest) for the sixth straight year.

Season Statistical Notes (regular-season only)

- The Tar Heels finished the season "plus-one" in turnovers. Carolina committed 24 turnovers (10 interceptions and 14 fumbles lost) and forced 25 turnovers (12 interceptions and 13 fumbles recovered).
- Carolina was plus 14 in turnovers its six victories and minus 13 in the five losses. The Tar Heels were a season-high plus five in the 37-34 win over NC State and a season-low minus four in the 37-34 loss at Stanford.
- Carolina scored 32 of 34 times it had the ball in the red zone (20 and in). The Tar Heels scored 18 touchdowns and 14 field goals when it had the ball in the red zone. The only failed attempts were at Virginia when Carolina advanced to the Cavalier 14-yard line, but a 36-yard field goal attempt by Josh McGee was blocked and against NC State when the Tar Heels had the ball fourth-and-one at the NC State 20-yard line and failed to pick up the first down.
- The Tar Heels averaged 328.7 yards on offense, the lowest figure since 1990.
- UNC rushed for 1,431 yards, the highest figure in three years.
- Carolina allowed only 127.6 rushing yards per game. That's the ninth straight season in which the defense has allowed less than 150 rushing yards per game and the eighth time in nine years it has yielded less than 130 yards per contest.
- Carolina finished fourth in the ACC in scoring defense, allowing 24.6 points per game.
- Freshman Rufus Brown led the Tar Heels in rushing with 534 yards on 133 attempts (4.0 per carry). Brown was the first freshman to lead the team in rushing since Natrone Means had 849 yards in 1990. Brown was the only Tar Heel to post a 100-yard rushing game. He had 143 against Wake Forest.
- Wide receiver Na Brown became the first player in UNC history to catch 50 or more passes in three seasons. No other Tar Heel has even done it twice.
- Quarterback Ronald Curry was the first freshman to lead the Tar Heels in total offense since 1977 when Amos Lawrence had 1,231 yards (all rushing). Curry amassed a UNC freshman record 1,394 yards (975 passing and 419 rushing).

Ebenezer Ekuban had a UNC record 23 tackles for losses and was named first-team All-ACC. (Scott Sharpe)

GAME 1: MIAMI 13, CAROLINA 10

September 5, 1998
@ Kenan Stadium
Chapel Hill, N.C.

John Scott kicked a 37-yard field goal with one second to play to lift Miami to a 13-10 win over the Tar Heels.

Carolina played almost the entire game without senior quarterback Oscar Davenport, who suffered a torn knee ligament on the fourth play of the game.

Davenport completed two of his first three passes on Carolina's opening possession. On the fourth play, Davenport threw an incomplete pass and was injured when a defensive lineman inadvertently crashed into his left knee.

Freshman Ronald Curry replaced Davenport and completed 11 of 22 passes for 115 yards.

Curry led the Tar Heels to a 3-0 lead early in the second quarter. The freshman connected with Jason Peace for 11 yards and L.C. Stevens for 33 yards. The drive stopped at Miami's 18-yard line. Josh McGee's 35-yard field goal was the first score of the year.

That drive followed Dre' Bly's 17th career interception, which equalled the ACC all-time record and established a new Carolina record.

Curry marched the Tar Heels toward another score late in the first half. He scrambled for 10 and 14 yards, then tossed a 4-yard touchdown pass to tight end Allen Mogridge to give the Tar Heels a 10-0 advantage.

In the second half, however, Carolina compiled just three first downs and 46 total yards and was hampered by ankle injuries to four of its top five defensive linemen. Miami controlled the ball for 17:47 in the second half, 34:01 for the game, and rushed for 135 second-half yards.

Defensive ends Ebenzer Ekuban and Mike Pringley and tackles Russell Davis and Sherrod Peace all suffered ankle injuries that hampered their play throughout the second half.

RedHawk tailback Travis Prentice pounded Carolina in the final two quarters. He finished the game with 162 of Miami's 185 rushing yards and tied the score at 10-10 with a 2-yard run with 4:18 to play in the game.

A 15-yard face mask penalty on a UNC punt a series after Prentice's touchdown gave Miami the ball at the Tar Heel 46-yard line with 2:54 to play.

Facing third-and-8 at the UNC 44, Miami quarterback Mike Bath scrambled for 12 yards and a first down.

Six plays later, Scott booted home the game-winner from 34 yards out.

Carolina converted just three of 13 third-down chances and was outgained 299 to 221.

It was the first season opening loss by UNC since a 1995 home defeat to Syracuse. Miami would finish the season with an outstanding 10-1 mark.

Dre' Bly broke the UNC career record for interceptions when he picked off a pass in the first quarter of the season-opening loss to Miami.

GAME 2: STANFORD 37, CAROLINA 34

@ Stanford Stadium
Palo Alto, Calif.

Kevin Miller kicked a 20-yard field goal as time expired to give Stanford a 37-34 win in Palo Alto. It was the second straight game in which the Tar Heels lost on a last-second field goal.

Carolina tied the game at 34 on a 19-yard touchdown pass from Ronald Curry to Kory Bailey on a fourth-and-5 play with 3:20 to play. The Tar Heels trailed 13-3, 20-10, 27-13 and 34-27 before tying the game at 34.

Curry set UNC freshman records by throwing for 304 yards and compiling 370 total offense yards. He completed 19 of 34 passes and two touchdowns and rushed for 66 yards and a score in his first collegiate start.

Stanford quarterback Todd Husak threw for 313 yards and one score.

The Cardinal led 13-3 before Curry hit Na Brown for a 69-yard touchdown. Stanford led 20-13 at halftime and extended the lead to 14 points early in the third quarter on a 26-yard TD pass from Husak.

UNC's Tyrell Godwin cut the lead in half with a 100-yard kickoff return, the longest in school history. Moments into the final quarter, Curry scored on an 8-yard draw.

Stanford took the lead with 10:34 to play on a 1-yard run after UNC fumbled a punt at the Tar Heel 30-yard line.

Curry's 19-yard pass to Bailey capped an 8-play, 98-yard drive. Curry brought the Tar Heels out from their own

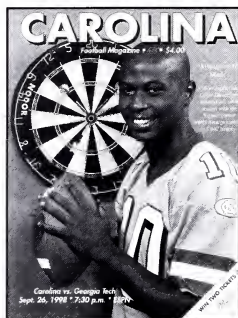

2-yard line with a 37-yard pass to L.C. Stevens.

Na Brown led the Tar Heels with six receptions for 139 yards.

It marked the first time Carolina lost consecutive games by three points or less since 1987.

Tyrell Godwin's 100-yard kickoff return for a touchdown at Stanford is the longest in Carolina history.

GAME 3: GEORGIA TECH 43, CAROLINA 21

September 26
@ Kenan Stadium
Chapel Hill, N.C.

Joe Hamilton threw for 303 yards and three touchdowns to lead Georgia Tech to a 43-21 win over the Tar Heels. With the loss, Carolina fell to 0-3 for the first time since the 1988 season.

It was the first time Carolina had lost a game to the Yellow Jackets in Chapel Hill since 1945. The Tar Heels were 7-0-1 in the previous eight home games against Georgia Tech.

The Yellow Jackets shocked the Tar Heels with 30 first-half points and led by 16 at intermission.

Carolina's only offensive touchdown of the evening came in the second quarter on a nifty 11-yard run by freshman quarterback Ronald Curry.

Hamilton threw two first-half touchdown passes, including a 56-yarder to Dez White that gave the Yellow Jackets a 24-7 edge with 4:23 remaining in the second quarter.

Less than two minutes after White's touchdown, the Yellow Jackets scored again. Defensive end Roderrick Roberts picked up a fumble after Curry was blind-sided and raced 42 yards for a score and a 30-7 lead.

The lead would have been more if not for a botched field goal attempt on the final play of the half. Holder Rodney Williams bobbled the snap and attempted to run for a score, but fumbled. UNC safety Antwon Black recovered and returned it 81 yards for a touchdown as time expired in the second quarter.

Ronald Curry scores on a 11-yard run in the second quarter against Georgia Tech. The game was one of UNC's five nationally-televised games last fall.

On the opening kickoff of the third quarter, freshman Kory Bailey dashed 95 yards for a touchdown. The kickoff return equalled the sixth-longest in UNC history and the second-longest by a Tar Heel in Kenan Stadium.

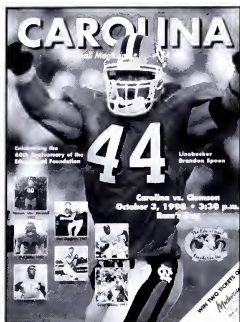

The Yellow Jackets countered immediately, however, scoring on a 20-yard pass from Hamilton to White. White finished the evening with six catches for 171 yards and two touchdowns.

Curry, who practiced just one full day prior to the game due to a death in his family, was 8 for 21 for 115 yards. He rushed for 74 yards.

Oscar Davenport tried to play for the first time since he injured his knee, but was ineffective in one series.

In the second quarter, the Yellow Jackets scored 23 points in a 6:26 span. The 43 points were the most allowed by the Tar Heels since 1989 and the 489 yards gained by Georgia Tech were the most allowed by UNC since Florida State had 489 in 1993.

Clemson had another chance to tie the game inside of two minutes as Streeter moved the Tigers to the 12-yard line. Streeter hit wide receiver Brian Wofford on a quick slant at the 5-yard line, but Wofford was hit by Legins and fumbled at the 2. A mad scramble involving several players from both teams followed, but the ball

had 16 tackles, including two sacks and two others for losses in Carolina's first win of the season.

Deon Dyer's 4-yard touchdown catch with 10:06 to play provided the winning margin and Carolina survived a last-minute threat to hold off Clemson, 21-14, for the Tar Heels' first win of the season.

The win was Carolina's third in a row over the Tigers. That is a feat last accomplished by UNC when it won four straight over the Tigers from 1969-72.

Clemson led 14-7 after three quarters, but Oscar Davenport marched UNC to a touchdown with three completions to three different receivers. The key plays were a 25-yard pass to tight end Dauntae' Finger and a 19-yard toss to Rufus Brown. Brown tied the game at 14 on a 4-yard run with 11:08 remaining.

Two plays later, Clemson quarterback Woodrow Dantzler fumbled and cornerback Steve Fisher recovered the loose ball at the Tiger 12-yard line.

On the next play, Davenport hit Dyer in the right flat. Dyer turned upfield and raced in for the winning TD.

Brandon Streeter replaced Dantzler at quarterback on the next series and marched the Tigers from their own 20-yard line. On fourth-and-goal at the UNC 2, Legins tackled tailback Travis Zachery for a 3-yard rolled out of the end zone for a touchdown.

Davenport completed 19 of 37 passes for 234 yards and two scores. He hit Kory Bailey for a 20-yard TD in the second quarter.

Carolina limited the Tigers to 212 total yards and yielded just one third down conversion in 13 attempts.

Defensive end Ebenezer Ekuban dominated the game with 16 tackles, a blocked field goal and a caused fumble. Four of his tackles were for losses, including two sacks.

Linebacker Brandon Spoon had 14 tackles, including two sacks, and caused a fumble.

@ Kenan Stadium

The Tar Heels spotted Pittsburgh an early 3-0 lead, then scored 15 straight points and went on to defeat the Panthers, 29-10.

Oscar Davenport threw for 175 yards and a touchdown and Na Brown caught seven passes for 111 yards and a score. Freshman tailback Rufus

Brad Smith

Brown rushed for 60 yards on 16 carries in UNC's most effective rushing performance to date.

The Tar Heel defense held the Panthers to 2.98 yards per play and just three of 15 third down conversions.

UNC led 6-3 at the half. Ebenezer Ekuban, who had his second straight two-sack game, tackled Panther quarterback Matt Lytle in the end zone for a safety and an 8-3 lead. Three plays after the ensuing free kick, Davenport connected with Na Brown for a 44-yard touchdown and a 15-3 UNC advantage.

Pittsburgh narrowed the margin to 15-10 with 7:40 left in the third quarter on a 25-yard touchdown pass from Lytle to tight end Juan Williams.

Early in the fourth quarter, Carolina faced a third-and-5 at the Pittsburgh 35-yard line. Davenport hit freshman Kory Bailey who ran 33 yards to the Panther 2-yard line. Fullback Ronnie Robinson scored from 2 yards out for a 22-10 lead.

Carolina forced the Panthers to punt from their own 25-yard line on the next possession. Freshman wide receiver Danny Davis blocked the punt, Steve Fisher recovered and returned it to the 9. On second down, fullback Deon Dyer raced around the left end for a 9-yard touchdown.

Kory Bailey's 33-yard reception set up a key UNC touchdown in the second half of the 29-10 victory over the Panthers.

GAME 6: CAROLINA 38, WAKE FOREST 31

October 24
@ Groves Stadium
Winston-Salem, N.C.

Rufus Brown rushed for 143 yards and a touchdown and Ronald Curry threw for 230 yards and a score to lead the Tar Heels to a 38-31 win over Wake Forest. It was Carolina's third win in a row this year and ninth straight over the Demon Deacons.

Brown's 143 yards were the most by a Tar Heel freshman since Leon Johnson had 147 against Ohio in 1993. Brown's 25-yard run for a first down on 3rd-and-25 from the UNC 13-yard line was the key play in the final quarter as Carolina held on for the win.

The Tar Heels built a 23-3 lead by halftime, but the Deacons rallied to within 38-31 with 12:38 to play in the fourth quarter. Neither team scored again.

Carolina took a 10-3 lead when Donte' Thorogood blocked a punt and Jomo Legins returned it six yards for a touchdown.

Josh McGee nailed three first-half field goals, the latter two wrapped around a 32-yard touchdown pass from Curry to Kory Bailey. That score came after Dre' Bly picked off Brian Kuklick for his ACC record 18th career interception.

McGee's third field goal, with no time left in the half, was set up by a 70-yard pass from Curry to Bosley Allen.

The 70-yard completion by Curry was the longest in UNC history by a freshman quarterback.

Heel since Scott Caparelli had three against Syracuse in 1995.

Rufus Brown scored on a 12-yard run in the third quarter to increase the lead to 30-10. After Wake Forest pulled within 30-24, Deon Dyer added a 1-yard TD run.

Brown's 25-yard run on third down kept alive a drive on which the Tar Heels held the ball for 13 plays and nearly seven minutes.

Brian Schmitz punted Carolina out of danger twice from his own end zone in the final quarter. The Deacons advanced to the 20-yard line in the final minute, but four straight passes fell incomplete.

Brian Smith

Rufus Brown rushed for 143 yards and a touchdown in the 38-31 win at Wake Forest.

GAME 7: FLORIDA STATE 39, CAROLINA 13

@ Doak Campbell
Stadium
Tallahassee, Fla.

Chris Weinke threw for 338 yards and two touchdowns to lead Florida State to a 39-13 win over the Tar Heels. Wide receivers Laveranues Coles and Peter Warrick combined for 10 receptions for 225 yards.

The Seminoles led 16-3 at the half and 23-3 after an early third quarter run by Travis Minor, but the Tar Heels rallied to make it a close game in the final quarter.

Josh McGee's 22-yard field goal and Ronald Curry's sensational 7-yard touchdown pass to Kory Bailey cut the lead to 23-13 with 11:02 to play in the fourth quarter. Curry was almost sacked on the play, but managed to stay on his feet and find Bailey in the end zone for the score. Curry kept the touchdown alive four plays earlier when hit freshman Bosley Allen for 16 yards and a first down on fourth-and-3 at the Seminole 21.

Trailing 23-10, the Tar Heel defense nearly forced a punt, but Minor gained a first down with a 2-yard run. On the next play, Weinke hit Warrick for a 56-yard score. Minutes later, Weinke hit Coles for a 49-yard touchdown.

Rufus Brown led the Tar

Ronald Curry tossed a 7-yard touchdown pass on fourth down early in the final quarter.

Heels with 64 yards rushing. Na Brown had six receptions for 88 yards.

Brian Schmitz punted seven times for 49.3 yards and had four punts of 50 yards or more.

GAME 8: CAROLINA 24, MARYLAND 13

November 7
@ Kenan Stadium
Chapel Hill, N.C.

Senior wide receiver Na Brown caught seven passes for 142 yards and a touchdown and rushed for a score to lead UNC past Maryland, 24-13, in the final home game of the season.

The Tar Heels had 415 yards of total offense. Quarterbacks Oscar Davenport and Ronald Curry combined to complete 16 of 28 passes for 193 yards.

Davenport was 12 for 20 for 113 yards and Curry added four completions for 80 yards. The freshman also led the Tar Heels in rushing with 75 yards on eight attempts.

Carolina's defense was outstanding, except for two long runs by Terp tailback Lamont Jordan, who rushed for 50- and 49-yard touchdowns.

The Terps completed just six of 21 passes for 68 yards. UNC linebacker Keith Newman had 15 tackles, including three for losses; linebacker Sedrick Hodge had 10 tackles, two for losses, recovered a fumble and broke up two passes; linebacker Brandon Spoon had 12 tackles, including two for losses and a sack.

The first 10 possessions produced eight punts and two missed UNC field goals, but the Terps took the lead on Jordan's 49-yard run midway through the second quarter.

Curry hit Na Brown for a 44-yard touchdown to tie the game at 7-7.

Spoon sacked Maryland quarterback Ken Mastrole to force a punt that gave Carolinian the ball near midfield. On UNC's next snap, Brown scored on a 48-yard reverse run to give the Tar Heels a 14-7 lead.

Na Brown picked a good day to be featured on the cover of the game program. In his Kenan Stadium finale, Brown caught seven passes for 142 yards (including a 44-yard score) and scored on this 48-yard reverse run.

The 48-yard run by Brown was the longest touchdown run of the season and the longest by a Tar Heel since Curtis Johnson's 75-yard scoring run against Wake Forest in 1993.

Josh McGee kicked a 32-yard field goal in the third quarter and fullback Deon Dyer capped UNC's scoring with a 1-yard run midway through the final period.

Davenport set up McGee's field goal with a 23-yard completion to tight end Bryan Griffin and a 19-yard strike to Na Brown.

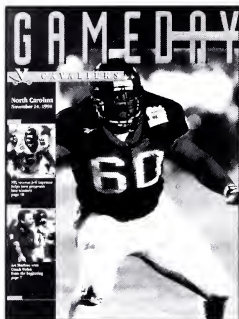

In the fourth quarter, Curry electrified the crowd with a 28-yard scramble to the Terp 6-yard line. Dyer carried twice for the final six yards and the score.

"It's a dream come true," said Brown of his performance in his final home game. "I couldn't have scripted it any better. I had a great day and the team got a win. I wasn't thinking about putting on a special show, I just wanted to come out and do my best."

GAME 9: VIRGINIA 30, CAROLINA 13

November 14
@ Scott Stadium
Charlottesville, Va.

Thomas Jones rushed 35 times for 180 yards and a touchdown and Terrence Wilkins caught four passes for 167 yards to lead Virginia past UNC, 30-13.

Jones had the most rushing yards against the Tar Heels in 16 years. He gained 124 of the yards in the second half as the Cavaliers pulled away from the Tar Heels.

Virginia scored touchdowns on its first two possessions and had the ball at the UNC 9-yard line on its third possession, but sophomore linebacker Merceda Perry forced a fumble that Keith Newman recovered.

Virginia led 17-0 late in the first half when UNC cornerback Steve Fisher intercepted an Aaron Brooks pass and returned it 37 yards for a touchdown.

Oscar Davenport completed six of eight passes on UNC's final drive of the half, which was capped by Josh McGee's 27-yard field goal. After dominating play early, Virginia led just 17-10 at the half.

Davenport hit Na Brown for 47 yards to open the third quarter. McGee's 28-yard field goal cut the deficit to 17-13.

From that point, however, Carolina managed just four first downs and no points.

GAME 10: CAROLINA 28, DUKE 6

November 21
@ Wallace Wade Stadium
Durham, N.C.

Senior quarterback Oscar Davenport threw two touchdown passes to Na Brown, freshman tailback Rufus Brown rushed for 83 yards and the UNC defense dominated the second half as Carolina beat the Blue Devils for the ninth straight year, 28-6.

The win equals the longest win streak by either school in the long history of the rivalry. UNC also won nine straight from 1894 to 1929.

The Tar Heels have won five consecutive contests against the Blue Devils in Wallace Wade Stadium.

Davenport hit Na Brown for 41 yards and a score to give UNC a 7-0 lead. That play tied Brown with Corey Holliday for the alltime UNC receptions record. Brown then set the record on a 15-yard catch.

In the third quarter with UNC ahead 14-6, Davenport found Brown for 15 yards and a touchdown.

Rufus Brown capped a 10-play, 54-yard drive late in the first half with a 2-yard run.

The key play in the drive was a 22-yard pass from Ronald Curry to Allen Mogridge.

Fullback Deon Dyer capped the scoring with a bruising, 3-yard run.

Duke gained just 97 total offense yards in the second half. Tailback B.J. Hill had 101 rushing yards in the first half, but finished the game with 97.

GAME 11: CAROLINA 37, NC STATE 34 (OT)

@ Ericsson Stadium
Charlotte, N.C.

Oscar Davenport hit Na Brown with a 14-yard TD pass in overtime as Carolina outlasted NC State, 37-34, in front of the largest college football crowd in state history (68,797).

The win was the Tar Heels' six in a row over the Wolfpack.

Carolina led 24-3 at the half and 31-10 after three quarters, but ACC Player-of-the-Year Torry Holt led a Wolfpack comeback in the fourth quarter. Trailing 31-17, Holt took a screen pass 49 yards for a TD. One series later, Holt caught three passes for 51 yards to set up Ray Robinson's game-tying, 3-yard run with 2:44 to play.

In overtime, Carolina won the coin toss and deferred.

State quickly moved to the UNC 8-yard line, but defensive ends Mike Pringley and Ebenezer Ekuban had successive tackles for losses and Holt dropped a third down pass to force a field goal.

Davenport began Carolina's overtime possession with an 8-yard strike to L.C. Stevens. Deon Dyer rushed for three yards and a first down at the NCSU 14. Davenport then found Na Brown in the right corner of the end zone for the winning touchdown.

The teams traded field goals in the first quarter, but the Tar Heels exploded for three straight touchdowns in the second quarter to take a 24-3 lead at halftime.

UNC took a 10-3 lead on a 1-yard run by Dyer. Carolina began the drive after Jomo Legins stripped Robinson and recovered the fumble at the NC State 15.

With 5:25 to play, Carolina stopped quarterback Jamie Barnette for no gain on fourth-and-1 at midfield. On the next play, Davenport hit Stevens for a 49-yard touchdown.

The Tar Heels regained possession with less than a minute to play in the second quarter and moved into State territory as Ronald Curry scrambled for 19 yards and Davenport hit Kory Bailey for 11 yards. On third-and-17 at the Wolfpack 23, Davenport hit Stevens

GAME 12: CAROLINA 20, SAN DIEGO ST 13

December 19
@ Sam Mack Stadium
Las Vegas, Nev.

Ronald Curry rushed for a season-high 93 yards and a touchdown, punter Brian Schmitz was outstanding despite blustery conditions and the Tar Heel defense did not allow a touchdown in the last 59 minutes as North Carolina defeated San Diego State, 20-13, in the Las Vegas Bowl.

Curry, the game's Most Valuable Offensive Player, gave Carolina the lead for good with a 48-yard touchdown run on the final play of the opening quarter. He rushed for 93 yards on 10 carries and accounted for 96 of Carolina's 196 total offense yards, despite playing just four series.

The game was played in brutal weather with winds gusting to 47 miles per hour. The wind gusted against the San Diego State offense in the first and third quarters and the Tar Heel attack in the second and fourth quarters. Passing was almost impossible. In fact, Carolina won the game despite completing just four passes for 33 yards.

Schmitz had his finest game as a Tar Heel. He averaged 44.0 yards on five punts and pinned the Aztecs inside their own 11-yard line four times. Late in the second quarter, with the Aztecs looking for good field position after stopping Carolina at its own 21-yard line, Schmitz unloaded a 66-yard punt into the wind. The ball came to rest at the Aztecs' 5-yard line. Instead of challenging for a score to cut into Carolina's 20-10 lead, the Aztecs were forced to simply run out the clock and head to the dressing room.

The game began with a San Diego State touchdown after just 27 seconds. On the second play from scrimmage, Lonnie Mitchell picked up an Aztec fumble and ran 60 yards for a touchdown.

Two short field goals by Josh McGee cut the lead to 7-6.

Carolina did not allow San Diego State to gain a first down after McGee's second field goal, and used a timeout to get the ball back with time left in the first quarter to take advantage of the wind. On third-and-seven on the final play of the quarter, Curry scrambled down the left sideline for a 48-yard score.

Defensive tackle Marcus Dow sacked SDSU quarterback Brian Russell for a 10-yard loss to start the Aztec's next offensive series. The Aztecs had to punt from their 11-yard line and the kick was blocked by UNC safety Quinton Savage. David Bomar fell on the ball in the end zone for a touchdown.

Following Bomar's recovery, Oscar Davenport completed a pass to Kory Bailey in the corner of the end zone for a two-point conversion and a 20-7 Carolina lead.

San Diego State opened the second half with a 12-play, 74-yard drive that was aided by three UNC penalties, the last of which gave the Aztecs first-and-goal at the 6-yard line. Dre' Bly made a key stop on second down and on third-and-goal from the 3-yard line, linebacker Sedrick Hodge stopped Jonas Lewis for a three-yard loss. The Aztecs missed the field goal attempt and the lead stayed at 20-10.

In the fourth quarter, Nate Tandberg's 38-yard field goal with 3:51 to play made it 20-13. Facing third-and-one on the following series, Curry bulled his way for a yard and a key first down. Three plays later, however, the Tar Heels fumbled. The ball was recovered by linebacker Joseph Tuipala at the UNC 37 and he returned the fumble 15 yards, but was tackled by Curry.

San Diego State took over at the Tar Heel 22-yard line with 1:24 to play. Russell hit Gourdine for 11 yards and a first down, then Bly broke up a pass in the end zone. On the following play, Brandon Spoon tipped Russell's pass in the air and the ball was intercepted at the goal line by Keith Newman with 59 seconds remaining.

Mike Pringley had four tackles for losses, including two quarterback sacks. Hodge also had four tackles for losses for 20 yards.

Did You Know?

• The first Tar Heel to score four touchdowns in a game was Samuel Nicklin against NC State in 1895.

• John Gray Johnson was the first Tar Heel to earn letters in four varsity sports. He won a football letter in 1912, and added three letters in basketball, two in track and one in baseball.

• In 1937, sportswriter Smith Barrier penned "On Carolina's Gridiron", a history of UNC football from 1888-1936. A six-man committee selected the following players as Carolina's All-Time Team to date: Fullback Roy Abernethy (1905), Guard George Barclay (1932-34), End Andy Bershak (1935-37), Halfback Johnny Branch (1929-31), Guard Ray Farris (1927-29), End Ray Homewood (1912-15), Halfback Red Johnston (1921-22), Quarterback Monk McDonald (1920-23), Tackle Graham Ramsey (1913-16), Tackle Romy Story (1904-06) and Center Frank Tandy (1913-16).

CAROLINA FOOTBALL HISTORICAL ESSAY

The University of North Carolina embarks on its 109th season of football competition in 1999. The Tar Heels do that with a history of gridiron greatness, including some of the top coaches in the game, a lineage of talented running backs and one of the most beautiful and historic facilities in college football.

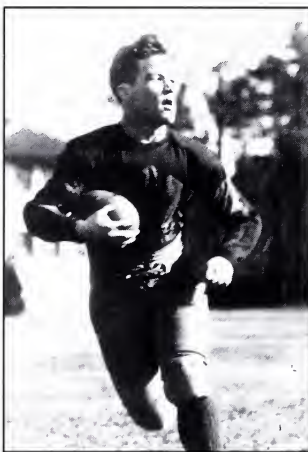

Surprisingly, football is actually not the oldest varsity sport at UNC. Baseball is accorded that honor, having fielded its first varsity squad back in 1867. But while football started 21 years later in 1888, its history is replete with memories that have thrilled legions of Carolina fans as the decades have elapsed.

The first UNC team played but two games, losing both and being outscored 22-4. That inauspicious beginning belies the success of the program since then, but those football pioneers are nevertheless credited with starting football at Carolina.

In the fall of 1888, the sophomore class at UNC had formed a team and after vanquishing all the other classes at UNC, began to look around for stiffer opposition. The UNC team challenged the Wake Forest squad to a game which was scheduled during the State Fair in Raleigh on October 18, 1888. Wake won the game 6-4 in what came to be acknowledged as the first intercollegiate football game in the history of the state of North Carolina.

Later that same fall, Carolina challenged Trinity (now Duke) to a Thanksgiving Day contest in Raleigh that drew a crowd of 600 for a 16-0 Trinity triumph. One member of that 1888 UNC team was John Motley Morehead, who went on to great fame as the founder of Union Carbide and who endowed the Morehead Scholarship program and several buildings on the Carolina campus.

That first Carolina team's

results may not have been what was expected, but the leaders of the '88 team did get the ball rolling. In Carolina's first 108 seasons of football competition, the Tar Heels have compiled a record of 591-412-54, a winning percentage of .585. Carolina has played in 23 bowl games in its history and won five Southern Conference championships and five Atlantic Coast Conference titles.

Twenty-seven Tar Heel players have been honored as first-team All-Americans on 34 occasions. Carolina had 32 All-Southern Conference selections when it played in that league until 1952 and since joining the ACC in 1953, has had 162 first-team All-ACC choices.

Just a few months after the loss to Trinity in 1888, UNC acquired the services of Hector Cowan, former great tackle and captain at Princeton, to help teach the UNC players the fundamentals of the game. Cowan arrived in February 1889 and drilled the Tar Heel troops on the existing athletic field, located on the current site of Bynum Hall.

The 1889 team played two games in the spring and two in the fall. On March 1, 1889, Carolina earned its first win in football as it routed Wake Forest 33-0 before a crowd of 500 in Raleigh. UNC went on to post a 2-2 record that year and earn a share of the state championship with Trinity and Wake Forest.

After a Carolina player suffered a broken collarbone that fall, the University faculty voted to discontinue the sport of football in January 1890 and Carolina did not compete at all the following fall. That is one of only three years since the start of football in 1888 in which the Tar Heels have not fielded a team; play was also suspended during World War I in 1917 and 1918.

The following year, students petitioned to have football restored at UNC and the ban was lifted with the help of Professors Horace Williams, F.P. Venable and Eban Alexander. At this time, athletic control passed from the hands of students to the faculty, a situation that still exists today.

Football returned to UNC that fall with W.P. Graves as coach and UNC compiling an 0-2 record.

The following year, 1892, is considered by most to be the first year of real football at UNC with a representative six-game schedule being played. That squad also earned the distinction of being UNC's first good team. Mike Hoke acted as team captain and the entire squad consisted of just 15 players, with UNC using only one substitute the entire season.

The team opened the year with a 40-0 rout of Richmond and after a loss to Virginia in the next game, it went on to win its last four. Carolina's 5-1 mark was the best record in the South that year. That season also marked the first year in which University teams were referred to as "Carolina," with the appellations "University" and "Chapel Hill" being dropped from the popular vernacular.

A meeting in February 1893 signaled the start of the formation of what would become the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association in later years. Ten schools, including UNC, were involved in the meeting and Dr. Venable was voted temporary chairman of the group. Later that same year, on May 12, the UNC athletic association approved the awarding of varsity letters for the first time.

Although the 1893 team managed only a 3-4 record, it did have the distinction of being the first Southern team to play in New York City as Carolina lost a 34-0 decision to Lehigh on November 25, 1893. A year later, Carolina brought in Vernon K. Irvine from Princeton as coach and he led Carolina to a 6-3 mark, attesting to the fact that experienced coaching benefited the team's performance. That UNC team finished second in the South and won the state championship. It was also the first to be forced to stage closed practices because of problems with crowd control at open sessions.

In 1895, T.C. "Doggie" Trenchard came from Princeton to coach the Tar Heels and he led UNC to an outstanding 7-1-1 season marred only by a loss to Virginia. A crowd of 12,000 was on hand for the meeting between the Tar Heels and the Cavaliers in Richmond, which UVa won 6-0. Twice during the game spectators ran onto the field to block the path of Tar Heel runners who had broken into the clear on apparent touchdown runs.

Carolina began to gain some consistency in the sport of football with the arrival of Will A. Reynolds of Princeton as head coach in 1897. Reynolds produced four winning Carolina teams in his four-year tenure at Chapel Hill. His first squad finished at 7-3 and was followed in 1898 by what is still the only unbeaten, untied team in school history. That 1898 squad was a perfect 9-0 and outscored its opponents by an amazing 201-8. The team finished the season by beating Virginia for the first time in six years, 6-2, in Richmond.

Reynolds' final two teams also posted respectable records, going 7-3-1 in 1889 and 4-1-3 in 1900.

Reynolds yielded the coaching reins after the 1900 season to Charles Jenkins, who led UNC to seven straight wins prior to a pair of season-ending losses in 1901. Carolina beat all of its state opponents to win its seventh state championship since 1892. In 1901, letters began to be awarded by an advisory committee of the athletic association. Previously, anyone who played had lettered.

The next 11 seasons saw Carolina with nine different head coaches. The 1905 Carolina squad was coached by William Warner, the brother of the famed "Pop" Warner.

Trenchard returned as Carolina's coach in 1913 for a three-year run. His 1914 squad was outstanding. Sixty men reported for the team and UNC went on to win its first 10 before losing to Virginia 20-3 before a record crowd of 15,000 in Richmond. That UNC team outscored its opponents 359-52 and became the first team in the South to display players' numbers on their jerseys.

Trenchard's 1915 squad did not fare as well, finishing the campaign with a 4-3-1 mark. Seven regulars missed the VMI game and the reserves struggled, fumbling 16 times en route to a 3-3 tie. That same year, Trenchard started the first athletic training table at UNC in his home, feeding the 56 squad members on a daily basis.

The year 1916 found the Tar Heels in a new home as Carolina began to play its games at Emerson Stadium, the site of the current Davis Library. Freshmen were banned from varsity participation for the first time and the team went 5-4 and won its sixth successive state championship.

All of the members of the 1916 squad had entered the military service in World War I by the following fall and varsity football was dropped for the second time in UNC history, this time for a two-year hiatus.

Carolina made its full-fledged return to the gridiron in 1919, going 4-3-1 under Coach Thomas J. Coleman. Carolina twice broke its single game home attendance record that year as it won the state championship. The Tar Heels defeated N.C. State, 13-12, before a crowd of 7,500 and then topped that with 9,000 for a 6-0 win over Virginia. That game marked the first time the Cavaliers had ever played in Chapel Hill.

The 1920 campaign was a dismal one as UNC went 2-6 and scored only 16 points in eight games. But a more positive era in North Carolina football began a year later with the hiring of Bill and Bob Fetzer as co-head coaches. Their hiring also marked a change in athletic policy at UNC as the Fetzers were assured of long-term positions instead of the usual one-year contracts. Carolina went 5-2-2 under the Fetzers in 1921 and 10,000 filled Emerson Field for Carolina's 7-3 win over Virginia.

That year also marked the first for UNC's participation in the Southern Intercollegiate Conference, the official name for what has come to be known today simply as the Southern Conference. At a February 25, 1921 meeting in Atlanta, the SIC was formed with a 16-school membership. The conference agreed to bans on post-season play, freshman eligibility and athletic training tables, required eligibility forms for players and disallowed organized practice before September 10.

Carolina would go on to have great success in the Southern Conference, tying for the league crown in 1922 and winning it outright in 1934, 1937, 1946 and 1949.

The Fetzers' greatest team was probably the 1922 edition which posted an impressive 9-1 mark, won the South Atlantic championship and tied for the Southern Conference crown. That team lost only to Yale, 18-0, and had three touchdowns called back by penalties in the game. The squad was ranked 11th in the nation by I.B. Thomas in the January 1923 issue of Intercollegiate Athletics and played before a record 68,500 fans during the course of the campaign.

The 1923 team was ravaged by injuries but limped to a 5-3-1 record nevertheless and a state championship for a second straight year. A year later, the Tar Heels were only 4-5 but they did play before their largest crowd to that date, 25,000 at New Haven's Yale Bowl in a 27-0 loss to the Bulldogs.

The 1925 season would prove to be the Fetzers' last as co-coaches. The Tar Heels responded with an excellent season, going 7-1-1 and winning the state championship. The only loss came at the hands of Wake Forest. A crowd of 16,000 jammed Emerson Field (capacity 2,400) to see the Heels and Virginia play to a 3-3 tie in the season finale.

The following year began a

Kenan Memorial Stadium opened in 1927. The Tar Heels have won 231 games under the pines.

new era in Carolina football as Chuck Collins came on the scene as head coach. He had the longest tenure (eight years) of the early Carolina coaches. Collins, who was one of the seven mules in the offensive line for Notre Dame's famed Four Horsemen, served as Carolina's coach from 1926 through 1933.

The 1926 season also brought onto the scene the infamous Kay Kyser, later to be a renowned Big Band leader and radio and motion pictures personality, as head cheerleader and his Cheerios as the first major organized cheer block at Carolina.

New stadium plans were also in the works in 1926. Carolina alumni in Durham and Chapel Hill met on May 24, 1926 to form the Durham Stadium Committee. On November 13 of that same year, William Rand Kenan, a New York City engineer and 1893 UNC football letterman, gave the University a gift of $275,000 to help build the stadium.

The first game was played in Kenan Stadium on November 12, 1927 with UNC beating Davidson 27-0 before a crowd of 9,000 fans. The following Saturday, UNC beat two-touchdown favorite Duke 18-0 in Durham. The stadium was officially dedicated on Thanksgiving Day 1927 with 28,000 attending as Carolina edged Virginia 14-13. John Sprunt Hill officially made the presentation of the stadium to Governor A.W. McLean who accepted on behalf of the University and state.

Carolina won its first state championship since 1925 during the 1928 season. Its 5-3-2 record that year included a 65-0 win over Wake Forest in the season opener. That still stands as the largest margin of victory in UNC history. President Calvin Coolidge attended the Carolina-Virginia game in Charlottesville that year and saw the Tar Heels pull out a 24-20 win. It was the first time a U.S. President had ever attended a game in the South.

Collins' first great team was the 1929 edition which went 9-1 and outscored its opponents 346-60. The only loss of the year came to Georgia and only Southern California scored more points during the course of the season. Ray Farris was the captain of that UNC team and was a unanimous All-Southern Conference choice at guard. Carolina was called the "Team of a Million Backs" and drew a record attendance of

The 1931 team coached by Collins went 4-3-3 and won the state championship. The Carolina-Duke game went big time for the first time that year as a crowd of 20,000 in Durham watched the two teams play to their second straight scoreless tie. Johnny Branch, a great all-purpose runner, was the star of that squad.

The quiet Dutchman, Carl Snavelly, came to Chapel Hill in 1934 from Bucknell to take over the coaching reins of the Tar Heels. It would be the first of two tours of duty for Snavelly as head coach. The 1934 team went 7-1-1 and was led by George Barclay, UNC's first All-America in football, at guard. Carolina lost only to Tennessee and it tied N.C. State that season. The Carolina-Duke game drew state and Kenan record crowds as the Tar Heels eked out a 7-0 victory.

The 1935 team also proved to be a great one as Snavelly led his squad to an 8-1 record. Carolina won its first seven of the season and there was talk that the Tar Heels were headed to the Rose Bowl. But archival Duke made sure that didn't happen on Saturday, November 16 in Durham as the Blue Devils played an errorless game, winning 25-0. That game drew a new Southern attendance record of 47,000 and in total 149,500 saw UNC play during the course of the year, another record. After losing to Duke, UNC came back to pummel Virginia 61-0 and ended up eighth in the final Associated Press rankings. Ace passer Don Jackson was named a second-team All-America.

Ray Wolf came to Carolina in 1936 to coach after Snavelly had gone on to Cornell. Wolf had six successful seasons at UNC, producing winning teams the first five. The 1936 team went 8-2 and lost only to Tulane and Duke. That squad was led by end Andy Bershak, who was a second-team All-America in 1936 and a first teamer a year later. Wolf's teams continued their success, going 7-1-1, 6-2-1, 8-1-1 and 6-4 in subsequent years. Some of Wolf's outstanding players were Jim Lalanne, Paul Severin and George Stirnweiss.

The World War II years were an unsettled time in Carolina athletic history. From 1942 through 1944, UNC had three different head coaches who put makeshift teams through the paces against adjusted schedules which included some military teams. Jim Tatum, an outstanding player at Carolina in the 1930s, coached the 1942 unit. He would return for another coaching tenure later.

Snavelly returned to Chapel Hill in 1945 and during the next five years produced some of the best teams in Carolina football history. His 1948 team finished third in the AP poll, the highest final ranking ever for the Tar Heels.

An Omaha, Neb. native, Snavelly was a 1915 alumnus of Lebanon Valley College. He had coached Carolina teams in 1934 and 1935 to a 15-2-1 record and returned in 1945 after nine years at Cornell. In fact, at Cornell in 1940, Snavelly was involved in an infamous contest which would be recounted repeatedly some 50 years after the fact. Snavelly was the coach who, upon learning it had taken a fifth down for his Big Red to defeat Dartmouth, wired the opposing coach Red Blaik and relinquished the victory.

His 1945 team did well, finishing 5-5 after winning only one game the previous season. Then the incomparable Charlie Justice arrived a year later, and with his compatriots, UNC went to three major bowl games and won two Southern Conference titles in the period from 1946-49.

Snavelly's 1946 team was 8-2-1, won the Southern Conference championship and lost to Georgia, 20-10, in the Sugar Bowl. The 1947 team was probably the best of the four. It finished 8-2, winning its last seven, but went uninvited in the post-season. The 1948 unit had only a regular-season tie with William & Mary to mar its record. It went on to lose to Oklahoma in the Sugar Bowl. Finally, the 1949 team was unbeaten in the conference and finished 7-4 overall, losing to Rice in the Cotton Bowl.

Justice was not the only star of those Snively teams. Art Weiner and Ken Powell were tremendous ends on those teams and Hosea Rodgers was a great rugged fullback of the era.

But Justice was the main attraction unquestionably. He ran and passed for over 4,000 yards in his four-year career and he averaged over 42 yards a punt. He had only two punts blocked in his career and both of those were in the first game of his freshman year. When he was done after the 1949 season, Justice had established NCAA records in total offense and punting and was considered the greatest punter of all time.

As a triple-threat All-America halfback, Justice captured the imagination and fancy of the football fan as no one else ever had. He was idolized and the attention he received from the fans and the media was almost unheard of in that time.

Charlie Justice led the Tar Heels to their first three bowl berths and national prominence in the late 1940s. Justice was twice runnerup for the Heisman Trophy and was the National Player of the Year by the Washington Touchdown Club and Walter Camp Foundation in 1948.

A native of Asheville, he had served in the Navy in World War II and was already 26 years old by the time of his senior year in 1949. He capped his amazing career by being named the Most Valuable Player in the 1950 College All-Star Game in Chicago.

The departure of Justice from campus coincided with a 20-year drought in UNC's football fortunes. Snively, despite all his earlier successes, could not produce a winning team after the Justice era. George Barclay, Carolina's first All-America player back in 1934, was brought in as head coach, but he encountered little success in his three years of running the program. That's when Carolina successfully lured Jim Tatum back to the fold. Tatum was a great UNC player in the 1930s and had coached the Tar Heels during World War II in 1942. He had since been at Maryland where he led the Terrapins to the national championship in 1953.

Tatum's first season back in Chapel Hill, in 1956, was rather undistinguished. The Tar Heels went 2-7-1 with victories over Virginia and Maryland. In 1957, in Tatum's first return trip to College Park where he had enjoyed so much success, the Carolina-Maryland game was marked by the appearance of Queen Elizabeth II. The queen and her entourage watched the Terrapins beat the Tar Heels 21-7. But that 1957 team finished 6-4 as did the 1958 team under Tatum's steady leadership.

It appeared Carolina had the corner turned when Tatum died suddenly in the summer of 1959 from Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever. He was replaced by assistant Jim Hickey whose teams did not meet with a great deal of success in his eight seasons as head coach. Hickey produced only one winning record, that in 1963 when the Tar Heels finished 9-2 and shared their first Atlantic Coast Conference title. That team went on to post the school's first win in a bowl game, a 35-0 decision over Air Force in the Gator Bowl. That 1963 squad was led by the running of Ken Willard, the passing of Junior Edge and Gary Black and the pass receiving of Bob Lacey. Linebacker Chris Hanburger was a stalwart on defense for the Tar Heels.

After Hickey resigned after a 2-8 season in 1966, UNC looked to Bill Dooley to revitalize its football fortunes. The choice proved to be a wise one. Dooley's teams won 69, lost 53 and tied two in his 11-year tenure. ACC championships were won under Dooley in 1971, 1972 and 1977. Bowl trips became a regular feature — six in all during the Dooley years.

After three rebuilding seasons, Dooley's first good team was in 1970. It finished 8-4 and went on to play Arizona State in the Peach Bowl. Tailback Don McCauley, who had gained 1,092 yards rushing in 1969, returned for a 1,720-yard season in 1970. He was the first of UNC's 23 1,000-yard rushers. The Garden City, N.Y. native's 1,720 yards in 1970 broke what was then O.J. Simpson's single-season NCAA rushing standard.

Dooley's teams won back-to-back ACC titles in 1971 and 1972. The '71 team lost to Georgia 7-3 in the Gator Bowl in a matchup of coaching brothers, Vince Dooley being the head mentor of the Bulldogs. The 1972 team had an 11-1 record marred only by a loss at Ohio State. It won a thrilling 32-28 decision from Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl.

CAROLINA FOOTBALL HISTORICAL ESSAY

Mike Voight was the ACC Player of the Year in 1975 and 1976. He rushed for 1,000 or more yards on three occasions and is still the second-leading scorer (254 points) and second-leading rusher (3,971) in Carolina history. Voight is fourth among ACC career rushing leaders.

The mid-1970s brought more success as UNC made bowl appearances in 1974 (Sun), 1976 (Peach) and 1977 (Liberty). Sammy Johnson was a 1,000-yard rusher for Carolina in 1973, as was James Betterson in 1974. But the outstanding offensive player of this era was Mike Voight who gained over 1,000 yards in 1974, 1975 and 1976, including 1,407 yards in '76. Voight was named the ACC Player of the Year in both 1975 and '76 for his efforts.

The 1977 team would prove to be Dooley's last at UNC. It won the ACC title and earned a berth opposite Nebraska in the Liberty Bowl. A rugged defense led by All-America tackle Dee Hardison helped Carolina lead the nation in scoring defense that season. UNC allowed only 81 points in 11 regular-season games. The new offensive star was a freshman tailback named Amos Lawrence, who rushed for 1,211 yards and was named ACC Rookie of the Year.

Dooley resigned in January 1978 to accept the dual role of head football coach and athletic director at Virginia Tech. At that time, Carolina turned to the "Cradle of Coaches" at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, to find its new head coach, Dick Crum.

Crum had just completed an outstanding four-year run at Miami. His 10 years as head coach at UNC were equally brilliant. The winningest coach in Tar Heel history, he compiled a 72-41-3 ledger at the UNC helm. He took six of his 10 UNC teams to bowl games, winning on four occasions, and the 1980 squad won the ACC championship.

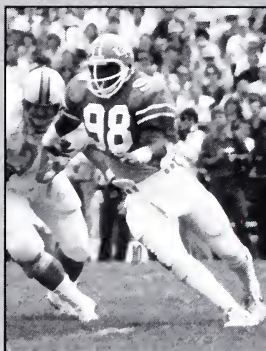

After a 5-6 record in 1978, Crum's teams from 1979 through 1983 went to five successive bowls and won 45 games. UNC posted four consecutive bowl wins over national football powers, beating Michigan in the 1979 Gator Bowl, Texas in the 1980 Bluebonnet Bowl, Arkansas in the 1981 Gator Bowl and Texas again in the 1982 Sun Bowl.

In 1980 and 1981, UNC became the first team in league history to finish in the Top 10 of both wire service polls in successive years. The 1980 team was 11-1 and ranked ninth by United Press International and 10th by Associated Press. The 1981 unit was 10-2 and rated eighth by UPI and ninth by AP. Two more Carolina teams coached by Crum would later go to Bowl games, the 1983 team to the Peach Bowl to face Florida State and the 1986 corps to the Aloha Bowl for a meeting with Arizona.

There was a plethora of outstanding players at Carolina during the Crum era and the Tar Heel football record book was being constantly updated. In 1980, linebacker Lawrence Taylor was named the ACC Player of the Year and he went on to All-Pro status with the New York Giants. That season, Taylor led what was one of the greatest defenses in ACC history. Other great defensive players at UNC included linebacker Buddy Curry, defensive tackle Donnell Thompson, linebacker Darrell Nicholson, defensive back Steve Streater, defensive tackle William Fuller and outside linebacker Mike Wilcher. All of those players were All-ACC selections and several went on to have distinguished pro careers. Fuller made four first-team All-America squads in 1983.

Kelvin Bryant averaged nearly seven yards per rush in 1981. He was a Heisman Trophy favorite in 1982 when he rushed for 529 yards and 14 touchdowns in the first three games, but an injury caused him to miss the next four contests. He returned late in the year and had 253 yards against Duke.

Although Crum's teams were known for their rugged defense, Carolina also excelled offensively, leading the ACC in total offense four times in the 1980s and ranking sixth nationally in 1986.

There were several reasons behind the offensive fireworks. First, there was a succession of outstanding running backs. Five different players gained 1,000 or more yards rushing in a season a total of 10 times under Crum's tutelage. After his brilliant freshman year, Lawrence went on to gain 1,000 yards three more times. He is one of only three players in college football history to gain 1,000 yards rushing in each of their four seasons. Kelvin Bryant overcame an injury-marred career to gain 1,000 yards on three occasions. Ethan Horton turned the trick twice in his career and both Tyrone Anthony and Derrick Fenner had one 1,000-yard rushing season each.

A second reason behind UNC's offensive success was the presence of some outstanding offensive linemen in the '80s, four of whom gained first-team All-America status — guard Ron Wooten in 1980, guard David Drechsler in 1981 and '82, tackle Brian Blados in 1983 and tackle Harris Barton in 1986.

Carolina's offense also became more diversified in the Crum era and the passing section of the Carolina record book was basically rewritten at that time by a string of accomplished starters at quarterback— Matt Kupec, Rod Elkins, Scott Stankavage, Kevin Anthony and Mark Maye.

At the conclusion of the 1987 season, Crum resigned to return home to his native Ohio and was replaced by Tulane head coach Mack Brown, whose first two teams struggled to 1-10 records. Center Jeff Garnica was a third-team All-America and the Jacobs Blocking Trophy recipient in 1988 as the best offensive lineman in the ACC. Offensive guard Pat Crowley became only the second offensive lineman in ACC history to be named All-ACC in three successive years when he accomplished that feat in 1989.

The blocking of those two players was instrumental in tailback Kennard Martin leading the ACC in rushing in 1988 with 1,146 yards.

The Tar Heels turned things around in 1990, however, and put together a solid 6-4-1 record and even returned to the Top 25 at one point in the season. Inside linebacker Dwight Hollier led the ACC in tackles for the second consecutive season and rookie tailback Natrone Means capped a stellar second half of the season with a 256-yard, three-touchdown effort vs. Duke. Along the way, Carolina tied Georgia Tech 13-13; the stalemate proved to be the only blemish on the Yellow Jackets' otherwise-perfect national championship ledger.

In 1991, Means became the 11th Tar Heel to rush for more than 1,000 yards for an NCAA-record 20th time. Means ran for 1,030 yards and topped the 1,000-yard plateau on an electrifying, 68-yard scamper in the Tar Heels' 47-14 rout over Duke. Means, inside linebacker Tommy Thigpen and offensive guard Brian Bollinger each were first-team All-ACC selections.

1992 was another filled with great players, spectacular plays and electrifying memories. The Tar Heels won nine games, including a 21-17 win over Mississippi State in the Peach Bowl, and finished the season ranked in the Top 20 in both major polls.

Means rushed for 1,195 yards, the 21st 1,000-yard rushing season in Carolina history. He had a 249-yard day at Maryland and once again dramatically crashed the 1,000-yard club with a 76-yard touchdown scamper against the Terrapins.

The Tar Heels defeated Top 20 opposition on consecutive weekends in mid-season, the first time in the program's history the team accomplished that feat.

Carolina accepted a bid to play in the Peach Bowl and provided one of the year's most entertaining bowl games. Trailing by two touchdowns in the third quarter, UNC rallied for a 21-17 win. Means, a repeat first-team All-ACC selection, gained 128 yards and was named the game's Offensive MVP. Strong safety Bracey Walker tied the game when he blocked a punt, his second of the game, and returned it 41 yards for a score.

Walker, the game's Defensive MVP, set up the game-winning touchdown when he forced an interception with a jarring fourth-quarter hit. Cornerback Cliff Baskerville picked the loose ball out of the air and raced 44 yards for the winning touchdown.

The 1993 Tar Heels provided one of the most entertaining seasons in Carolina history. UNC won 10 games for the first time in a dozen years, finished second in the ACC, 19th in the Associated Press poll and played in a bowl game for a second consecutive season.

Natrone Means was a prominent figure in Carolina's return to the Top 25 in the early 1990s. Means ran for 1,030 yards in 1991 and 1,195 in 1992. He was the Offensive MVP of the 1993 Peach Bowl.

CAROLINA FOOTBALL HISTORICAL ESSAY

Jason Stanicek proved to be one of the most important players in Tar Heel history. Stanicek became UNC's alltime total offense leader, led UNC to three bowl games and equalled the school record for wins by a quarterback. Stanicek's efforts from 1991-94 were key in UNC's climb up the national rankings.

UNC set nearly 40 team and individual records, including most points, points per game and total offense. Walker was named first-team All-America by several organizations and was a first-team All-ACC selection along with tailback Curtis Johnson and offensive tackle Ethan Albright.

Johnson and red-shirt freshman tailback Leon Johnson each rushed for 1,000-plus yards. Curtis rushed for 1,034 yards and set a school record with a 90-yard score vs. Maryland; Leon was named the ACC Rookie of the Year as he rushed for 1,012 yards and led the conference with 16 touchdowns and 100 points.

Quarterback Jason Stanicek set UNC records for one season in total offense (2,284 yards), total yards per game (190.3), completion percentage (64.1) and pass efficiency rating (145.79).

Corey Holliday concluded his brilliant career as Carolina's all-time leading pass receiver. Twice selected a captain by his teammates, Holliday finished his four years with 155 receptions for 2,447 yards and caught a pass in an ACC-record 45 consecutive games. He had nine receptions, a UNC postseason record, versus Alabama in Carolina's 24-10 loss in the Outback Steakhouse Gator Bowl.

In 1994 Carolina went 8-4, losing to Texas, 35-31, in the Sun Bowl in an exhilarating contest. Stanicek concluded his career as the school's alltime total offense leader. Stanicek passed "Choo Choo" Justice's mark, which had stood since 1949, in the fifth game of the season and finished his stand-out career with 5,497 yards. Stanicek also set UNC career records for most pass completions (372), attempts (622), yards (4,683) and completion percentage (.598). He tied Matt Kupec's school mark for most wins by a starting quarterback with 24.

Marcus Wall set a Tar Heel record for most touchdown catches in a season with nine. He added a touchdown catch in the Sun Bowl, returned a kickoff for a score against Duke, returned a punt for a touchdown against Texas and had a rushing touchdown against N.C. State.

Carolina beat Duke 41-40 in one of the most exciting games in the storied history of that rivalry. The Blue Devils scored a pair of quick touchdowns in the fourth quarter to go ahead, 38-34, with less than 3:00 to play. Mike Thomas quickly connected with freshman Octavus Barnes on a short crossing route and Barnes raced past the entire secondary for a 71-yard game-winning score.

Barnes established an ACC record for receiving yards in a season by a freshman with 609. He had 165 yards on receptions, the third-highest single-game figure in Carolina history, in the regular-season finale at Duke and again in the Sun Bowl against Texas.

The 1995 Tar Heels rebounded from an 0-2 start to post a winning season for the sixth consecutive year and received an invitation to the Carquest Bowl in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Defensive tackle Marcus Jones was the ACC Defensive Player of the Year and became the first UNC player in nine years to be named consensus first-team All-America. Jones topped Lawrence Taylor's career UNC sack record as he concluded his four years with 24, three more than Taylor.

Mike Thomas set numerous single-season total offense and passing records, including most yards of total offense (2,489), most yards passing (2,436), most pass attempts (332) and most completions (185). He threw for more than 200 yards in each of the first six games and concluded his career with a school-record nine 200-yard outings.

Tailback Leon Johnson and split end Octavus Barnes each surpassed the previous school record for pass receptions in a season. Johnson led the team in rushing with 963 yards and added 54 receptions. Barnes had 53 catches for 970 yards.

Johnson rushed for 195 yards and a touchdown in the 20-10 win over Arkansas in the Carquest Bowl. That is the highest rushing total in Carolina postseason history. Barnes established a UNC record with four 100-yard receiving games. He caught three touchdown passes and totaled 211 yards receiving, the second-highest figure in school history, in a 62-0 rout of Ohio.

Marcus Jones was named first-team All-America by the Associated Press, the American Football Coaches Association, the Walter Camp Foundation and United Press International.

1996 was one of the finest in Carolina history. The Tar Heels went 10-2, won the Gator Bowl and finished 10th in both national polls. Brown was named the ACC Coach of the Year as he directed a new-look offense to record-setting heights.

Seven Tar Heels earned first-team All-ACC honors led by quarterback Chris Keldorf, a junior college transfer, who set UNC single-season passing records for completions (201), yards (2,347) and touchdowns (23).

Leon Johnson set alltime UNC records for scoring (306) and touchdowns (50) and established the alltime ACC mark with 5,828 all-purpose yards. He earned All-ACC honors as a kick returner.

The Tar Heel defense, led by National Defensive Coordinator of the Year Carl Torbush, led the country in scoring and was second with 225.6 total yards per game. Red-shirt freshman cornerback Dre' Bly led the country in interceptions with an ACC-record 11 and was a consensus first-team All-America. Bly was just the fifth freshman in history and the first freshman defensive player to be named an AP All-America.

The year began with a 45-0 win over Clemson and included a 52-20 rout over N.C. State. Carolina went to Syracuse in the second week and beat the No. 9-ranked Orangemen, UNC's first road win over a Top 10 team since 1966.

The Tar Heels tied for second in the ACC. They played West Virginia in the Gator Bowl without Keldorf, who suffered a fracture dislocation of his left ankle in the last regular-season game. Oscar Davenport came off the bench to win MVP honors as he completed 14 of 26 passes for 175 yards and he passed and ran for scores.

The 1997 season may go down as the most memorable in Carolina football history. The Tar Heels went 11-1, won the Gator Bowl for the second year in a row and finished fourth in the final coaches' poll and sixth in the final Associated Press poll. UNC lived up to lofty preseason predictions and spent the entire year in the Top 10.

The Tar Heels were once again led by a stifling defense. UNC allowed just 209.3 yards per game, the second-lowest figure in the NCAA and the lowest total by an ACC team since 1963. It was the fewest yards allowed by Carolina since 1948. The defense featured three first-round draft picks (defensive end Greg Ellis, defensive tackle Vonnie Holliday and linebacker Brian Simmons), a Butkus Award finalist (linebacker Kivusama Mays) and three first-team All-Americans (Ellis, Simmons and Bly).

Bly became the first UNC football player in history to earn consensus first-team All-America honors in more than one season. He had five interceptions to lead a secondary that was third in the country in passing yards allowed.

Carolina was the only defense in the country to have finalists for the Lombardi (Ellis), Butkus (Mays) and Thorpe (Bly) Awards.

Davenport earned Team MVP honors by completing 62.8 percent of his passes and leading the Tar Heels to come-from-behind wins over Stanford, Virginia and Georgia Tech. His season ended in the ninth week when he suffered a broken ankle in the loss to Florida State. That game featured the second-ranked Seminoles and fifth-ranked Tar Heels and was played in front of 62,000 fans, the largest crowd ever at Kenan Stadium.

Keldorf returned as the reigning All-ACC quarterback, lost his starting job, and finally replaced an injured Davenport late in the season. He set a single-game UNC record at Texas Christian by throwing for 415 yards, set the school record for career passing touchdowns with 35 and finished his career with sensational performances in wins over Clemson, Duke and Virginia Tech. Keldorf engineered the Tar Heels' 17-10 win at Clemson, Carolina's first triumph in Death Valley since 1980. Keldorf wrapped his remarkable two-year career with an MVP performance in win over the Hokies in the Gator Bowl as threw for 290 yards and three touchdowns.

The 1997 season was the last for Mack Brown as head coach. He resigned on December 5th to become the head coach at Texas. Brown finished his 10-year career at Carolina with a 69-46-1 record. The 69 wins equal the second-most in UNC history.

Athletic director Dick Baddour promoted defensive coordinator Carl Torbush to head coach on December 8, 1997. Torbush, defensive coordinator since 1988, directed the Tar Heels to a 42-3 win over Virginia Tech in the Gator Bowl.

The 1998 season began with three straight defeats, but Torbush rallied the Tar Heels to six wins in the last eight regular-season games. That earned Carolina an invitation to the Las Vegas Bowl, where the Tar Heels beat San Diego State, 20-13.

Davenport was injured on the first series in the season opener. That injury forced the debut of freshman Ronald Curry, who would establish UNC single-season freshman records for passing yards (975), touchdown passes (six), completions (66) and total offense yards (1,394). Curry had a 48-yard touchdown run and was named Offensive MVP of the Las Vegas Bowl.

Na Brown tied his own school record with 55 receptions for 897 yards and became Carolina's alltime leading receiver with 165 catches. His most memorable grab was the game-winning touchdown pass from Davenport in overtime to beat NC State, 37-34. The game was played in Charlotte, N.C., before a record crowd of 68,797.

Ebenezer Ekuban set a UNC record with 23 tackles for losses, earned the ACC's Top Senior Student-Athlete Award and was named first-team All-ACC. Ekuban was joined on the All-ACC squad by Bly, who set the conference career record for interceptions with 20.

Bly was named first-team All-America by the Walter Camp Foundation and became the only player in ACC history to be named first-team All-America in three different seasons.

Dre' Bly set the ACC alltime record with 20 interceptions and is the only player in ACC history to be named first-team All-America in three seasons.

#Bly is the only two-time consensus first-team All-America in Carolina history and the only three-time first-team All-America in Atlantic Coast Conference history

FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICA PROFILES

GEORGE BARCLAY Guard, 1934

Barclay was Carolina's first football All-America. The 5-11, 185-pound guard and linebacker was a three-year standout for Chuck Collins and Carl Snively. A fine blocker and an extraordinary tackler, Barclay lined up in the offensive interior next to tackle Jim Tatum. He was captain of the 1934 team which went 7-1-1. Barclay later served as head coach at Carolina for three seasons, from 1953 to 1955.

ANDY BERSHAK End, 1937

A 185-pound end, Bershak was a two-way performer for the Tar Heels. He was a fine receiver, but was even better on defense. He played two years for Carl Snively and one for Ray Wolf. Bershak, an honor student, was also a basketball starter. He was selected to the Order of the Golden Fleece and served as president of the Carolina Athletic Association.

STEVE MARONIC Tackle, 1938

Maronic was a two-way tackle for the Tar Heels and team co-captain in 1938. He was an "iron man" playing almost 60 minutes in every game that season. He turned in two of his best performances in front of the New York media against NYU at Yankee Stadium and Fordham at the Polo Grounds. Those games solidified his All-America chances. Maronic also was a place-kicker and hit 13 straight PATs in his final season.

PAUL SEVERIN End, 1939-40

Severin was a two-time All-America selection by the Associated Press (1939 and 1940) and made most of the all-star teams in his senior season. His career was filled with big plays—a touchdown catch to tie Tulane in 1939, two scoring catches against Penn that same season and a touchdown-saving tackle from behind of Duke's great Steve Lach in a 6-3 win over the Blue Devils in 1940.

PAUL SEVERIN'S STATISTICS

Twice a runnerup for the Heisman Trophy, Charlie Justice is rated by many as the best all-around player in the history of Southern football. He was a true triple-threat performer, leading Carolina in rushing, passing and punting from 1946 to 1949. He sparked Tar Heel teams which appeared in the Sugar Bowl twice and the Cotton Bowl once. He was the school's alltime total offense leader with 4,883 yards for more than 40 years and also ranks as the Tar Heels' third-leading career scorer, eighth-leading rusher and 16th-leading passer. He had a career punting average of 42.6 and averaged 14.2 yards on punt returns and 26.6 yards on kickoff returns.

Justice is a member of the College Football Hall of Fame. In 1948 he received the national player of the year award from the Washington Touchdown Club and was recipient of the Walter Camp Memorial Trophy.

KEN POWELL Defensive End, 1949

Teamed with Art Weiner to give the Tar Heels a formidable pass receiving threat in the post-Wold War II "Justice Era." Was outstanding the 1947 Sugar Bowl against Georgia. Earned first-team All-America honors at defensive end in 1949 by NEA. That organization named Powell to its All-America Team on defense, the first time it selected All-Americans on both offense and defense. He finished his career with 23 pass receptions for 324 yards and three touchdowns.

ART WEINER End, 1948-49

A great all-around end, Weiner led the nation in receiving in 1949 with 52 catches. He had been seventh nationally in receiving the previous year with 31 catches. His 106 career catches are the sixth-most in school history and until 1997 he held the UNC career record with 18 touchdown receptions. However, many remember him best for a game-saving defensive play on the last snap of the 1949 Duke game. After his senior season Weiner was named the most outstanding lineman in the Senior Bowl. Weiner was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 1992.

IRV HOLDASH Center, 1950

While Carolina's football fortunes slipped in the years immediately following the Charlie Justice Era, Holdash still received national attention for his outstanding play. A center on offense and linebacker on defense, Holdash was a three-year regular who never missed a game during his varsity career. He probably made All-America in 1950 with a sensational performance in a 14-7 loss at Notre Dame. Irish quarterback Bobby Williams called him "the best I've played against."

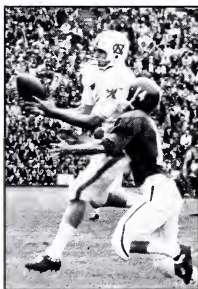

AL GOLDSTEIN End, 1958

Outstanding two-way end. He earned All-America honors in 1958 by making 24 catches for 490 yards, averaging an amazing 20.4 yards per reception. Adept at making the seemingly impossible catch, he had a 68-yard TD reception at Virginia. He also starred defensively and had a 46-yard interception return for a touchdown against Maryland.

BOB LACEY End, 1963

Lacey led the Atlantic Coast Conference in receiving in 1963 with 48 catches for 533 yards. His pass-catching was a key factor as Carolina rolled to a 9-2 record, defeating the Air Force, 35-0, in the Gator Bowl. Lacey was also the team's top receiver in 1962 with 44 catches. He was the first Tar Heel player to have at least 40 catches in two seasons. His career total of 102 receptions is the seventh-best in school history.

DON MCCAULEY Halfback, 1970

Don McCauley shattered the Carolina and the Atlantic Coast Conference record books with a dazzling senior season in 1970. He rushed for 1,720 yards and scored 21 touchdowns, setting marks which still stand. His 1,720 yards was an alltime collegiate high at the time, breaking O.J. Simpson's NCAA record. McCauley led the nation in all-purpose running that season. He was twice the ACC Player of the Year and still ranks fifth in career rushing at Carolina. He had a lengthy professional career with the Baltimore Colts.

RON RUSNAK Offensive Guard, 1972

Rusnak was a unanimous All-America selection in 1972 as Carolina posted an 11-1 record. At 6-2 and 220 pounds, he did not have the size to play professional football, but Rusnak was a great college player. He was a two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice, starting on teams which combined for a 20-4 record. In 1972 he won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the ACC.

FIRST-TEAM ALL-AMERICA PROFILES

KEN HUFF

Offensive Guard, 1974

Huff was a key man on one of the most explosive units in Carolina history. He was the leader of an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels accumulate 4,691 yards in 1974, at the time a school record. The 6-4, 255-pound Huff won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Sparked in great part by his play up front, the Tar Heels had two backs rush for over 1,000 yards in the same season. Huff was the third player selected in the NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts.

CHARLES WADDELL

Tight End, 1974

Waddell rates as one of the best all-around athletes in Carolina history. He won three football letters, two in basketball and one in track. Not only was he a fine receiver at tight end, but he was also a dynamic blocker. He set a school single-game record in 1974 with three touchdown catches against Clemson. He had 41 career catches for 518 yards and seven TDs. His professional career was cut short by a knee injury.

DEE HARDISON

Defensive Tackle, 1977

A two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection, Hardison played on one of the top defensive teams in Carolina history. UNC led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, giving up just 7.4 points a game. The Tar Heels led the ACC in total, rushing, passing and scoring defense. A big reason was the play of Hardison, a 6-3, 252-pound tackle who dominated the line of scrimmage all season. After leaving Carolina he began a lengthy NFL career with the Buffalo Bills.

RICKY BARDEN

Defensive Back, 1979

One of the top defensive backs in Carolina history, Barden was a repeat All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection in 1978 and 1979. Barden made nine career interceptions. He started at cornerback for two years and then was shifted to strong safety for his final year where he broke up nine passes and was the third-leading tackler on the team. His 156 yards on interception returns are the third-most in school history.

LAWRENCE TAYLOR

Outside Linebacker, 1980

From midway in his junior season until the end of his senior year in 1980, Taylor dominated the football field as few defensive players ever had. Now regarded as the finest outside linebacker in the history of the game, Taylor had a remarkable senior season which featured 16 quarterback sacks and six other tackles for losses. In Carolina's only close games in an 11-1 season, Taylor made the game-saving defensive plays against Texas Tech and Clemson. He was a runaway selection as ACC Player of the Year.

RON WOOTEN

Offensive Guard, 1980

Wooten won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy in 1980 as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference. He was the leading vote-getter in the offensive line on the All-ACC team. He was one of the leaders of an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels lead the ACC in total offense and which also helped produce two 1,000-yard backs. He went on to become a starting guard with New England in the NFL.

DAVID DRECHSLER

Offensive Guard, 1981-82

Drechsler became Carolina's first two-time All-America since Charlie Justice and Art Weiner when he earned first-team honors in 1981 and 1982. He played every position in the offensive interior during his Carolina career, but settled in at guard. The 6-4, 253-pound Drechsler played on Tar Heel teams which were 37-10-1 and were unbeaten in four bowl games. He also was the winner of a post-graduate scholarship from the NCAA. Drechsler went on to become a starter with the Green Bay Packers until a back injury forced him to give up the game.

WILLIAM FULLER

Fuller is one of just six Carolina players to win first-team All-America honors twice. Although powerfully built at 6-3 and 250 pounds, Fuller's greatest asset was his quickness. He used that quickness to make 13 tackles for losses and six sacks in 1982 and 17 tackles for losses with five sacks the following year. He was the only unanimous choice on the 1983 All-ACC team and is one of just three defensive linemen ever to make All-ACC for three straight years.

Harris Barton

BRIAN BLADOS Offensive Tackle, 1983

When two Carolina tailbacks ran for over 1,000 yards in 1983, much of that yardage came behind Blados. The 6-6, 305-pound left tackle dominated the line of scrimmage as Carolina set a school total offense record and finished seventh nationally in yardage. Blados was named on 90 of 100 ballots in voting for the All-Atlantic Coast Conference team. He was a first round choice by the Cincinnati Bengals in the NFL draft.

HARRIS BARTON Offensive Tackle, 1986

Barton was a four-year starter for the Tar Heels, first at center and then at tackle. With so many teams playing even-man front defenses, Barton was moved to tackle in 1984 to take better advantage of his skills. He excelled at left tackle, the key blocking spot in the Carolina passing game. As a senior, he led an offensive line which helped the Tar Heels rank first in the Atlantic Coast Conference and sixth nationally in total offense. An excellent student, he was chosen for a post-graduate scholarship by the National Football Foundation and was a first-round selection in the NFL draft.

PAT CROWLEY Offensive Guard, 1989

Crowley was a standout offensive guard and a leader of the first of Mack Brown's teams. He won first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in 1987, 1988 and 1989 and became only the second offensive lineman in conference history to win three all-league honors (Virginia's Jim Dombrowski was the other). He started every game in his college career and helped open the way for a pair of 1,000-yard backs (Derrick Fenner in 1986 and Kennard Martin in 1988). He is one of three Tar Heels to be named first-team All-ACC in three seasons.

BRACEY WALKER Free Safety, 1993

The first Carolina defensive back to ever receive first-team All-America honors by a major organization, Walker burst onto the scene in 1992 when he was one of the stars of the Peach Bowl win over Mississippi State. Walker blocked two punts in that game, returned one of them for a tying touchdown and set up the game-winning interception with a jarring collision. He was the Defensive MVP of the Peach Bowl.

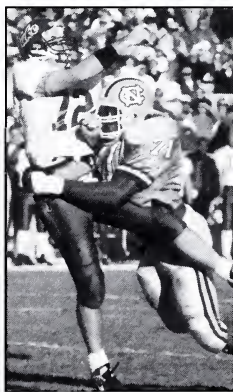

In 1993 he led the Tar Heels with 100 tackles and was the co-leading vote-getter on the All-ACC first team defense. He also blocked four more punts, two of which were recovered in the end zone by Carolina, and was named the National Special Teams Player of the Year by Sports Illustrated.

Marcus Jones

MARCUS JONES Defensive Tackle, 1995

Jones became the first Tar Heel to earn consensus first-team All-America honors since Harris Barton in 1986 and the first defensive lineman since William Fuller in 1982-83. Jones had 25 career sacks and finished with 222 tackles. That included 46 behind the line of scrimmage. He broke Lawrence Taylor's school record for sacks and held that mark until Greg Ellis broke the record in 1997.

He was named the Atlantic Coast Conference Defensive Player of the Year in 1995 and earned first-team All-ACC honors for the second straight season. He became the first Tar Heel defender to repeat all-conference selections since Tim Goad in 1986-87.

As a senior he had a career-high 94 tackles, despite facing constant double- and triple-team efforts. He registered an ACC-leading 19 tackles for losses for 74 yards, seven of which were quarterback sacks. He was hampered in the first half of the season by a knee sprain. Over the last five weeks, however, he averaged 10.8 tackles per game and had 16 tackles for losses for 65 yards, including six sacks for 41 yards, and pressured the quarterback 13 times.

Quite fittingly, Jones capped his career by sacking Arkansas quarterback Barry Lunney on the Razorbacks' final offensive play in Carolina's 20-10 win in the 1995 Carquest Bowl.

DRE' BLY

Cornerback, 1996-97

The first freshman to earn consensus first-team All-America honors in ACC history, Bly became just the fifth freshman in NCAA history to be named to the Associated Press All-America first team. He was also a first-team All-America selection by the Walter Camp Football Foundation, the Football Writers Association of America, The Sporting News and Athlon Sports and a finalist for the Jim Thorpe Award as the National Defensive Back of the Year. He earned Atlantic Coast Conference first-team honors and was the league's Rookie of the Year. He is the only UNC freshman to earn first-team All-America honors.

He made two second-half interceptions, broke up two passes and had seven tackles against West Virginia in the 1997 Gator Bowl.

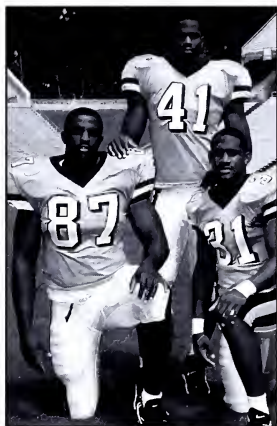

Bly led the nation in interceptions and interceptions per game. He set an ACC single-season interceptions record with 11, one more than Bob Sullivan of Maryland had in 10 games in 1965. The Chesapeake, Va. native had three multi-interception games, including three against Georgia Tech, two at Florida State and two at Virginia.

In 1997, Bly became the first player in UNC history to repeat consensus first-team All-America honors. He had five interceptions, including one he returned for a touchdown in a comeback win over Virginia.

Last year, he set the ACC alltime record with his 20th interception (not counting the two he had in the Gator Bowl). He was named first-team All-America by the Walter Camp Foundation. Bly is the only player in ACC history to earn first-team All-America honors on three occasions.

He anchored a defense that was second in the country in total yards allowed in each of his final two seasons. Carolina posted a 21-3 record in that span and had consecutive Top 10 finishes in the polls. Ellis is one of only three players in Carolina football history to be named first-team All-ACC three times. He was voted by his teammates as a team captain and the best overall senior. HONORED JERSEYS

Seventeen former University of North Carolina football players have been honored in special fashion as their names and jersey numbers have been placed on the facade of Kenan Stadium's upper deck. Another player – cornerback Dre' Bly – will be honored this fall.

The men being honored include five who have already had their jersey numbers retired, Carolina's consensus first-team All-Americans and any athlete who was named Atlantic Coast Conference Football Player of the Year. Consensus All-Americans are those players who made the majority of the first-team selections in any given year.

The players whose names and numbers are honored in the stadium are:

GEORGE BARCLAY #99

A guard and linebacker from 1932 to 1934, whose number has been retired. He was the school's first football All-America and is a member of the state of North Carolina's Sports Hall of Fame. A guard and linebacker at 5-11, 185 pounds, Barclay was a standout for three seasons under coaches Chuck Collins and Carl Snively. A tremendous blocker and ferocious tackler, he was captain of the 1934 team that went 7-1-1. Barclay later served as UNC's head coach from 1953 until 1955.

ANDY BERSHAK #59

A great two-way end from 1935 to 1937, who was a consensus All-America in 1937. His number has also been retired. Bershak was a brilliant defender and his team's top receiver. He also was a starter on the basketball team and an honor student. Bershak was selected to the Order of the Golden Fleece and served as president of the Carolina Athletic Association.

BILL SUTHERLAND #46

A blocking back on the 1946 Sugar Bowl team, whose number has been retired. He died in an auto accident after his freshman year, stunning his teammates and Coach Carl Snively. Sutherland was named one of the Tar Heels' three captains for what would have been his sophomore season and Snively worked to ensure that his number would be retired.

CHARLIE JUSTICE #22

Arguably the most famous and popular athlete in the history of the state, Justice was a consensus All-America and twice runnerup for the Heisman Trophy. During his four seasons, 1946-49, Carolina went to the Sugar Bowl twice and the Cotton Bowl once. A single-wing tailback, he still holds many of the school's total offense records. In addition, he was a sensational punter and kick returner. He was the 1948 National Player of the Year.

ART WEINER #50

An outstanding two-way end from 1946 to 1949, whose number has been retired. Weiner won All-America honors in 1948 and 1949 and was the nation's leading receiver as a senior. He teamed with the legendary Charlie Justice to form perhaps the most potent offensive duo in school history. Voted the top lineman in

DANNY TALBOTT #10

A star quarterback from 1964 to 1966 and the 1965 ACC Player of the Year under Head Coach Jim Hickey.

Talbott led the league in total offense and scoring that season. He had 318 yards of total offense in one game against Georgia, at the time a school record.

DON MCCAULEY #23

The ACC Player of the Year as a junior and senior and a consensus All-America in 1970, his final season. McCauley was the first of Carolina's NCAA-record 23 backs to rush for 1,000 yards. He twice led the ACC in rushing with 1,092 yards in 1969 and 1,720 in 1970. That latter total at the time broke O.J. Simpson's single-season NCAA record. He also led the nation in all-purpose running as a senior and his 126 points that year still is the league record.

RON RUSNAK #62

An offensive guard on three bowl teams from 1970 to 1972, who won unanimous All-America honors in his senior season. At 6-2, 220 pounds, Rusnak wasn't as big as some linemen, but had great technique. He was the cornerstone of the offensive front on the 1972 team which went 11-1. Rusnak was a two-time All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice on teams which combined for a 20-4 record. He won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy in 1972 as the best blocker in the ACC.

KEN HUFF #68

A three-year starter at offensive guard from 1972 to 1974 and a consensus All-America as a senior. Huff was a dynamic blocker at 6-4 and 250 pounds. He was the key figure on the 1974 line which helped Carolina boast a pair of 1,000-yard backs and lead the ACC in total offense, rushing and scoring. Led by Huff, UNC accumulated 4,691 yards, at the time a school record. The Tar Heels were fifth nationally in total offense and ninth in scoring that season. Huff won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy as the best blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference and was the third player selected overall in the 1974 NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts.

MIKE VOIGHT #44

A hard-running tailback from 1973 to 1976, who was the ACC Player of the Year as both a junior and senior. Voight is second in Carolina history in scoring and rushing with 254 points and 3,971 yards, respectively. He had three 1,000-yard seasons and twice was the top ground-gainer in the ACC. In 1976 he scored 110 points and ran for 1,407 yards, including 261 in his final game — a dramatic 39-38 shootout with Duke.

DEE HARDISON #71

A defensive tackle from 1974 to 1977 and a consensus All-America as a senior. Hardison was the star of one of Carolina's greatest defenses in his final year. He dominated the line of scrimmage all season long as the Tar Heels led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, giving up just 7.4 points a game. Carolina also topped the ACC in total, rushing and pass defense that year. No team would lead the league in all four again until Florida State in its 1993 national championship season.

LAWRENCE TAYLOR #98

Lawrence Taylor (98), an outside linebacker from 1977 to 1980, who is regarded as the greatest player of all time at that position. Taylor was a consensus All-America and the ACC Player of the Year in 1980. He had a Carolina-record 16 quarterback sacks that season for losses totaling 127 yards. Sparked by his play, the Tar Heels went 11-1 in 1980 and won the ACC championship.

WILLIAM FULLER #95

A defensive lineman from 1980 to 1983, who was a consensus All-America as a senior. Also honored as a first-team All-America as a junior, he is one of only six Tar Heel players to be named first-team All-America twice. Fuller, who utilized his tremendous quickness to slice through offensive lines, had 22 tackles for losses in both 1981 and 1983. He is one of only three defensive linemen ever to make the All-ACC team three times.

ETHAN HORTON #12

The Associated Press ACC Player of the Year as a senior, Horton rushed for 1,247 yards in 1984 after a 1,107-yard performance in 1983. He was named the game's co-MVP in UNC's 1981 Gator Bowl win over Arkansas and was the MVP of the 1982 Sun Bowl.

MARCUS JONES #71

A defensive end/tackle from 1992-95, who was a consensus All-America and the ACC Defensive Player of the Year as a senior. Jones had 24 career quarterback sacks to break Lawrence Taylor's school record. A two-time first-team All-ACC selection, Jones led a Tar Heel defense which had the ACC's number-one rated total defense in 1995. He finished his career with 222 tackles, including 46 for losses. Jones helped Carolina to four straight bowl invitations and wins in the 1993 Peach and 1995 Carquest Bowls.

DRE' BLY #31

The Chesapeake, Va., native is the only player in Atlantic Coast Conference history to earn first-team All-America honors in three different seasons. Bly became the first freshman defensive player in college football history to earn consensus first-team All-America honors in 1996. When he repeated consensus honors in 1997, he became the first two-time consensus All-America in UNC football history. Last year, he set the alltime ACC record for interceptions with 20 and was named first-team All-America by the Walter Camp Foundation.

Bly's name and number will be added to the stadium facade this year. He led the nation as a freshman with 11 interceptions in the regular season and added two more pass thefts in the Gator Bowl win over West Virginia. Bly was named first-team All-America in 1996 by the Associated Press, The Sporting News, the Football Writers and the Walter Camp Foundation. In 1997, Bly added five more interceptions and was named All-America by the Associated Press, the Walter Camp Foundation, the Football Writers and Football News.

GREG ELLIS #87

A defensive end from 1994-97, Ellis is UNC's alltime leader in quarterback sacks. The Wendell, N.C., native had 32.5 sacks for 253 yards in his career. He anchored a defense that was second in the country in total yards in each of his final two seasons. Carolina posted a 21-3 record in that span and had consecutive Top 10 finishes in the polls. Ellis is one of only three players in Carolina football history to be named first-team All-ACC three times. He was voted by his teammates as a team captain and the best overall senior. He was the eighth selection in the first round of the 1998 NFL Draft by the Dallas Cowboys.

BRIAN SIMMONS #41

An outside linebacker from 1994-97, Simmons was a major contributor in Carolina's rise to the Top 10 in his final two seasons. A first-round draft selection of the Cincinnati Bengals, Simmons had 317 tackles over his last three seasons. He was named first-team All-America as a senior by the Associated Press, Walter Camp Foundation and Football News and was a first-team All-ACC selection and second-team A.P. All-America as a junior. The New Bern, N.C., native finished his career with 36 tackles for losses and 11 sacks.

CHARLIE "CHOO CHOO" JUSTICE

Charlie Justice was more than just a great football player. He was a bonafide superstar...a hero...a legend in his own time. He had an impact on his home state as no other athlete had ever had before or few have had since.

During his four years in Chapel Hill, from 1946 to 1949, Justice helped guide the Tar Heels to three major bowls. For one week during the 1948 season Carolina was ranked as the nation's number one college football team.

The Tar Heels ended that year rated third, the best finish in school history.

It is no wonder then he was held in great esteem by everyone in the state. Certainly, the time was right for a hero like Charlie Justice. The war had just ended and people wanted to turn their attention to more pleasant things. They wanted someone to help them forget the trauma they had just suffered. So they looked for heroes and they found Charlie Justice.

In his book, They Made the Bell Tower Chime, Bob Quincy summed up Charlie Justice's college career quite succinctly. An excerpt is repeated here:

The Justice era of 1946-49 was the most exciting in Carolina's football history. Charlie was the ringleader of a circus of thrills. He set the pace, but his backing was superb.

The Tar Heels operated from the single wing with the kind of variations that at times resembled the Harlem Globetrotters' pre-game ball-handling act. The four seasons netted 32 victories, seven losses and two deadlocks. Plus three major bowl appearances.

The 170-pound Justice was one of the nation's most sought-after players when he enrolled at Carolina. Some called him the hottest property in the history of football at that time. He had been a standout at Asheville's Lee Edwards High, leading the Maroons to two unbeaten seasons. He was All-Southern two years at Asheville, and as a member of the Shrine Bowl football team in 1942 he scored three touchdowns against South Carolina, a record that still stands.

The Navy became home for Charlie during the war years, and he became a phantom on a pro-studded Bainbridge Navy Squad. After two years of romping for Bainbridge against opponents across the country, he was a target for pro offers from the Philadelphia Eagles and Washington.

Charlie wanted an education, and scouts stayed in pursuit. He chose Chapel Hill after seriously considering South Carolina and Duke. An off-hand remark by Snavely—"I hope he comes out for football!"—became a classic understatement.

In the Virginia game his freshman year he gained 170 yards in 17 carries with runs of 18, 40, and 56 yards. He had seen little practice because of a leg injury, but the Cavaliers were certain he carried a spare appendage.

Choo Choo (he acquired the name at Bainbridge when a gob remarked, "He runs along just like a choo choo train,") was excitement. He was all eagerness on the sidelines and all business when he moved into the tailback slot. He thrived on duty, and he was a master of the quick kick, a devastating rusher, a good passer, and a fake artist who could charm a cobra.

Jack Fitch, a thick-legged back who occasionally shared duty with Justice when not playing on the wing, sized up Charlie's style by noting, "Justice has the ability to be running at full speed, stop suddenly, and then be back at full speed almost instantly. He was never regarded as fast in terms of a track man. He had a change of pace that couldn't be matched, and he knew how to follow blockers as well as any back I've ever watched."

The Snavely system called for a spinning fullback, fakes and counter fakes, fullback pass plays and reverses. It was a dashing brand of football made more exciting by players' ability and maturity to accept Snavely's often complicated maneuvers.

A book, "Choo Choo," documents the career of Charlie Justice. He was a folk hero and deserved the special treatment. The great Benny Goodman and the late Johnny Long recorded the Campbell-Beebe song, "All The Way Choo Choo." It sold by the thousands.

Typical of Justice was the Georgia game of 1948. He scored three times against the Bulldogs in a 21-14 triumph, the climax being an 84-yard punt return. At mid-way point that season, the Tar Heels were ranked No. 1 in the nation.

Justice erased more records than a company of auditors during his four years at UNC. He scored 234 points and passed or ran for 64 touchdowns. As a ball carrier he accumulated 2,634 yards.

His total offense record of 4,883 yards lasted for 45 years until quarterback Jason Stanicek broke the mark in 1994. Justice, graciously, was on hand to congratulate Stanicek.

Justice seemed to peak when the traditional games were being played. He led the Tar Heels to four straight wins over Duke. He was an All-America mention as a freshman and made many of the major teams as a junior and as a senior. He was runnerup for the Heisman Trophy to Doak Walker of SMU in 1949.

Charlie's finest moment came in the College All-Star Game of 1950 at Chicago's Soldier Field. He was voted the MVP of the game for good reason. The All-Stars walloped the Philadelphia Eagles, led by Steve Van Buren, 17-7. Justice gained 133 yards individually, or 48 more than the Eagles posted as a team. He set up a touchdown on a 60-yard pass from Eddie LeBaron.

CAROLINA'S THOUSAND YARD TRADITION

When Jonathan Linton rushed for 199 yards in Carolina's 50-14 win over Duke in the 1997 regular-season finale, he became the 14th Tar Heel running back to rush for 1,000 yards in a season. Linton, now with the Buffalo Bills, finished that 11-1 season with 1,004 yards. UNC players have accomplished the feat 24 times, an NCAA record. The University of Southern California is second with 20.

Those 24 1,000-yard seasons have been achieved in the last 30 years, beginning with Don McCauley, who had back-to-back 1,000-yard campaigns in 1969 and 1970. Linton was the fourth different Tar Heel back to gain 1,000 yards in the 1990s. Natrone Means had 1,030 yards as a sophomore in 1991 and 1,195 yards in leading UNC to nine wins in 1992. In '91, Means topped 1,000 yards on his final carry of the season, a 68-yard touchdown run versus Duke. He vaulted past 1,000 in similar fashion a year later as he reached the magical figure on a wild, 76-yard scoring scamper at Maryland.

Means entered the NFL Draft after his junior year, but Curtis Johnson and Leon Johnson responded with tandem 1,000-yard seasons in 1993. That was the fourth time in UNC history that not one, but two, players topped the 1,000-yard mark.

Carolina's 24 1,000-yard seasons are more than the next two ACC schools have combined. Virginia is second in number of 1,000-yard seasons with 10 and NC State is third with nine. Clemson is next with eight, Florida State has seven, Wake Forest has six, Georgia Tech has five and Maryland and Duke each have four.

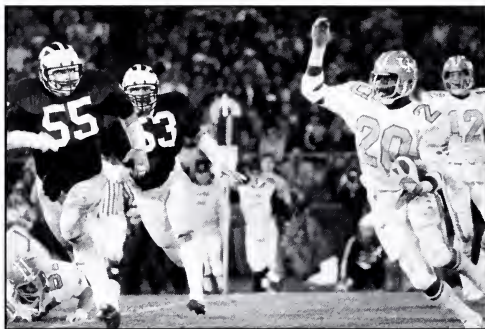

In a 12-year period from 1973 to 1984, Carolina had at least one player break the 1,000-yard mark each season. Three times in that era, the Tar Heels had two tailbacks get 1,000 yards in the same season. It has been rare in college football for a school to produce two 1,000-yard backs in one year. When it has happened it has generally been with option attacks—the veer or the wish-category.

Lawrence, from Norfolk, Va., added 1,043 yards in 1978, 1,019 yards in 1979 and 1,118 yards and a career-high 11 touchdowns in 1980.

McCauley rushed for 1,720

Amos Lawrence is one of only three players in NCAA Division I history to rush for 1,000 yards in each of his four seasons. Lawrence, Pittsburgh's Tony Dorsett and New Mexico State's Dennis Manns are the only players to accomplish the feat.

bone. But, on all four occasions when Carolina has had a pair of 1,000-yard rushers, the players actually shared the same position—tailback in an I-formation.

Carolina and USC have each had two players rush for 1,000 yards three times—Mike Voight and Kelvin Bryant of the Tar Heels and the Trojans' Charles White and Anthony Davis.

In addition, Carolina's Amos Lawrence had an amazing four 1,000-yard seasons. Lawrence, Pittsburgh's Tony Dorsett and New Mexico State's Dennis Manns are the only major college players ever to hit the 1,000-yard mark four times. Lawrence rushed for a career-high 1,211 yards in 1977 as he earned ACC Rookie-of-the-Year honors. Lawrence didn't even play in the first game that year and still managed to run for over 1,200 yards in just 10 games. He was eighth in the nation in rushing and became the first freshman to ever lead the ACC in a major offensive yards in 1970. At that time it broke O.J. Simpson's alltime NCAA single-season yardage record. His 1970 season is one of the finest in ACC history. His 1,720 yards, 19 rushing touchdowns, 10 100-yard rushing games, 2,021 all-purpose yards and 126 points are still single-season ACC records. The first back to earn consensus All-America honors since Charlie Justice, McCauley capped his brilliant career with a memorable game against Duke as he rushed 47 times for 279 yards and five touchdowns in a 59-36 win over the Blue Devils. One local sportswriter wrote of McCauley's final Kenan Stadium effort, "McCauley's performance against Duke was the greatest one-man show since King Kong climbed the Empire State Building."

Another scribe from The Charlotte Observer wrote, "Don McCauley may be the finest football player the Atlantic Coast Conference has ever seen."

McCauley is one of only two Tar Heel 1,000-yard backs from outside the ACC's geographic area. He is a native of Garden City, N.Y. Linton, from just his second season when he compiled 1,350 yards in 1994. Means was second in the AFC and fourth in the NFL in rushing yards and he set a Charger record with five consecutive 100-yard games. Means was the offensive yards, top five in career touchdowns, top five in career scoring, top 10 in career rushing yards and top 10 in career receptions.

He is first in all-purpose yards in league history, second in touchdowns, fourth in scoring, eighth in rushing and tied for 10th in receptions. He scored 50 touchdowns in his career, just one shy of the alltime ACC record held by Ted Brown of N.C. State. He scored 306 points, one of just four players in league history to top the 300-point mark. He and Brown are the only two non-kickers to accomplish that feat.

Linton alternated for much of his career between tailback and fullback. He was a reserve behind Leon Johnson for several years, but then became a standout as a senior. Linton became the first player in Carolina history to rush for

Jonathan Linton is the most recent Tar Heel in the 1,000-yard club. Linton rushed for 1,004 yards in 1997. (Brad Smith)

Catasauqua, Pa., added to that short list in 1997.

Bryant, Tyrone Anthony, James Betterson, Ethan Horton, Sammy Johnson, Kennard Martin, Means, Curtis Johnson and Leon Johnson are all North Carolinians. Lawrence and Voight grew up in Virginia, and Derrick Fenner is from Maryland.

Many of Carolina's 1,000-yard rushers went on to successful careers in the professional ranks. McCauley played with the Baltimore Colts for 11 seasons and broke many of the club's rushing and scoring records set by Alan Ameche and Lenny Moore. Bryant was the USFL's Player of the Year in that league's first season. He joined the Washington Redskins in 1986.

Means led the Chargers to the Super Bowl in 1994 and was named to the Pro Bowl. He set the single-season rushing record for the Chargers in spark which led Jacksonville to the AFC Championship Game in 1996 in the franchise's second year of existence.

Horton, Sammy Johnson and Leon Johnson were recruited as quarterbacks. All of the others were high school running backs, although McCauley was more highly regarded as a defensive back.

Fenner set the ACC rushing record in 1986 by gaining 328 yards against Virginia, although that mark was surpassed by Wake Forest's John Leach in 1993 against Maryland. Martin had 291 in 1988 against Duke. Lawrence had 286 against Virginia in 1977 and McCauley gained 279 against Duke in 1970. Then comes Voight's 261 against the Blue Devils in 1976. In 1990, Means rushed for 256 yards in the season finale vs. Duke.

The top two single-season efforts ever in the ACC are McCauley's 1,720 yards in 1970 and Voight's 1,407 in 1976. McCauley and Voight are the only Carolina players to be named ACC Player of the Year in two seasons. McCauley was the top ACC player in 1969 and 1970 and Voight earned that award in 1975 and 1976.

Ethan Horton is the only other UNC player to be named ACC Player of the Year in the same season he rushed for 1,000 yards.

Leon Johnson is the only player in Atlantic Coast Conference history to be in the top five in career all-purpose 100 yards and catch passes for 100 yards in the same game. He rushed for 138 yards and added 137 receiving yards in Carolina's 16-13 win at Georgia Tech. Despite suffering a knee injury days before the Gator Bowl, Linton rushed for 68 yards and caught six passes for 81 yards in UNC's 42-3 win over Virginia Tech.

CAROLINA'S BOWL GAME HISTORY

The University of North Carolina has played in 23 post-season bowl games, including seven consecutive heading into the 1999 season. The Tar Heels are 11-12 alltime in bowl games and 5-2 in the 1990s. Carolina has the eighth-longest active bowl streak in the nation behind only Nebraska, Michigan, Florida State, Ohio State, Tennessee, Penn State and Florida.

UNC and Clemson are tied for the lead in bowl appearances among schools that were charter members of the Atlantic Coast Conference and the Tar Heels have the most appearances of any charter school since the league was formed in 1953.

Carolina's bowl history started with three New Year's Day appearances during the late Forties when Charlie Justice was the big star of some of the school's greatest teams. Perhaps the most famous of those games was the 1947 Sugar Bowl which matched UNC against Georgia.

Carolina was leading 7-0 in the third period when Bulldog defensive end Joe Tereshinski intercepted a Tar Heel pass. He then flipped a lateral to Dick McPhee who raced to the UNC 14. Carolina argued the lateral was a forward one and the play should have been called back. However, the officials ruled differently. Georgia went on to score and a 20-10 victory.

Justice was sensational running and punting when the Tar Heels returned to the Sugar Bowl two years later, but Oklahoma won the game, 14-6. Justice also played well in the 1950 Cotton Bowl, but Carolina lost to Rice, 27-13.

The Tar Heels' next bowl appearance did not come until 1963, but Ken Willard made the wait worthwhile in sparking a 35-0 win over the Air Force in the Gator Bowl. He ran for 94 yards and scored the opening touchdown to key the runaway victory.

Beginning in 1970 Carolina made 12 bowl trips in 17 years. After dropping a 26-14 decision to Arizona State in the 1970 Peach Bowl, the Tar Heels and Georgia made bowl history in the 1971 Gator Bowl. This is the only time in history brothers have opposed each other as head coaches in a bowl game with Bill Dooley's Tar Heels taking on his brother Vince's Bulldogs. The game was a great defensive struggle with Georgia coming from behind to win, 7-3.

Carolina capped an 11-1 season in 1972 with a dramatic 32-28 win over Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl. Quarterback Nick Vidnovic was the big star, completing 14 of 26 passes for 215 yards. It was his 62-yard touchdown pass to Ted Leverenz which gave the Tar Heels a 24-21 halftime lead.

Tech came back to go ahead, 28-24, but Vidnovic hit Leverenz with a 13-yard TD strike with just a minute to play to bring Carolina back. The Tar Heels then sealed the win when tackle Ronnie Robinson dropped Red Raider quarterback Joe Barnes for a safety.

Mike Voight and James Betterson each had big days rushing in the 1974 Sun Bowl, but Carolina couldn't stop the veer attack of Mississippi State. The two teams combined for 901 yards of offense, but the Bulldogs won, 26-24, when the Tar Heels were stopped on a fourth-and-one at their own 43 during a last-minute drive.

Kentucky blanked Carolina, 21-0, in the 1976 Peach Bowl and the following season the Tar Heels dropped a heartbreaking 21-17 decision to Nebraska in the Liberty Bowl. Sparked by quarterback Matt Kupec, Carolina had a 17-7 lead in the fourth quarter. But, the Cornhuskers rallied behind the play of reserve quarterback Randy Garcia.

Kupec and Amos Lawrence were the biggest stars in Carolina's 17-15 win over Michigan in the 1979 Gator Bowl. Lawrence rushed for 118 yards and Kupec hit on 18 of 28 passes.

Lawrence again was the big star in a 16-7 win over Texas in the 1980 Bluebonnet Bowl. He rushed for 104 yards and had a 59-yard touchdown run.

Carolina's other scoring came on a two-yard plunge by Kelvin Bryant and a field goal by Jeff Hayes.

But, the key to this game was a Tar Heel defense which limited the Longhorns to just two first downs and only 36 total yards in the second half. Lawrence Taylor was all over the field making sensational plays, although safety Steve Streater was chosen the game's defensive MVP with an interception, fumble recovery and a 63-yard punt.

In an eerie setting the following year, Carolina defeated Arkansas, 31-27, in the Gator Bowl. The field was shrouded in fog much of the night, making it almost impossible to see the action from the press box. Bryant ran for 148 yards and his backup, Ethan Horton, added 144.

Horton again was the big star in the 1982 Sun Bowl as Carolina came from behind to defeat seventh-ranked Texas, 26-10. Coming off the bench for an injured Bryant, Horton rushed for 119 yards and one touchdown.

The Tar Heel defense was brilliant, making two great goal line stands and shutting down the Texas attack in the second half. Rob Rogers and Brooks Barwick added a pair of field goals despite weather conditions which featured a wind chill factor of 12 degrees and snow throughout the game.

That Sun Bowl game made Carolina the first Atlantic Coast Conference school ever to win four straight bowl games. But, that streak came to an end with a 28-3 loss to Florida State in the 1983 Peach Bowl.

The Tar Heels spotted Arizona a 30-0 lead in the 1986 Aloha Bowl, before putting on a big second-half rally. Torin Dorn finally got Carolina going against a rugged Wildcat defense with an Aloha-record 58-yard touchdown run.

Norris Davis made two big defensive plays, intercepting a pass and blocking a punt. Mark Maye threw to Randy Marriot for a score, but Arizona held on, 30-21.

Following the 1992 season the Tar Heels rallied from a 14-0 halftime deficit behind MVPs Natrone Means (128 yards rushing, one TD) and Bracey Walker (two blocked punts, one forced interception) to beat Mississippi State, 21-17, in the Peach Bowl.

Walker picked up his second blocked punt and returned it 41 yards for a touchdown to tie the game at 14. Moments later, early in the fourth quarter, Walker broke up a Bulldog pass and Cliff Baskerville intercepted the ball and ran it back 44 yards for the winning score.

The 1993 Tar Heels battled defending national champion Alabama to a 10-10 tie for the first half, but the Tide scored on a pair of 12-play drives of 65 and 66 yards in the second half to record a 24-10 win over Carolina in the Outback Steakhouse Gator Bowl.

UNC quarterback Jason Stanicek set school bowl game records for pass completions (19) and yardage (235) and Corey Holliday established a Tar Heel postseason record for receptions (nine) and receiving yardage (125).

Carolina lost a heartbreaking, 35-31 decision to Texas in the 1994 Sun Bowl despite record-setting performances from several players. The Tar Heels led the Longhorns, 31-21, early in the final quarter but Texas tailback Priest Holmes scored his third and fourth rushing touchdowns of the game in the final six minutes.

UNC quarterback Mike Thomas completed 23 of 39 passes for 298 yards and two scores, freshman wide receiver Octavus Barnes made nine receptions for 165 yards and wide receiver Marcus Wall added seven catches and returned a fourth quarter punt 82 yards for a touchdown.

Thomas established UNC bowl game records for most pass completions and yards and tied bowl game marks for pass attempts and touchdown throws. Barnes set Sun Bowl and Tar Heel records for catches and yards receiving.

Wall set an ACC bowl game record with 227 all-purpose yards. The 82-yard punt return was the third-longest ever in a bowl game.

Leon Johnson established a Tar Heel bowl game record as he rushed for 195 yards in Carolina's 20-10 win over Arkansas in the 1995 Carquest Bowl. The Razorbacks had won the SEC Western Division title. Johnson rushed for 172 yards in the second half, including a 28-yard touchdown run which gave the Tar Heels the lead for good in the third quarter.

Mike Thomas, starting his third career bowl game, iced the win with an 87-yard scoring pass to freshman L.C. Stevens. The reception was the longest in UNC bowl history and the second-longest in Carolina history. It also tied the mark for the fifth-longest passing play in college football bowl history.

Carolina secured a Top 10 national finish following the 1997 season with a 20-13 win over 25th-ranked West Virginia in the Toyota Gator Bowl. Sophomore quarterback Oscar Davenport made his first collegiate start a memorable one as he earned MVP honors by passing for 175 yards and rushing for a touchdown. Davenport was in the lineup because All-ACC quarterback Chris Keldorf had been injured in the regular-season finale.

Carolina compiled 289 yards of total offense against the Mountaineers, who had led the nation in fewest yards allowed per game. Davenport threw an 18-yard touchdown pass to Octavus Barnes in the first quarter and capped a five-play scoring drive late in the second quarter with a 5-yard scoring run.

Freshman cornerback Dre' Bly, the nation's interception leader, picked off a pair of passes in the second half and safety Greg Williams recovered a fumble to thwart another West Virginia drive, as UNC held on for the victory.

The Tar Heels returned to the Gator Bowl following a brilliant 1997 season and thrashed Virginia Tech, 42-3. Keldorf earned Most Valuable Player honors as he threw for 290 yards and three touchdowns. Barnes caught a pair of touchdown passes (62 and 14 yards), Jonathan Linton rushed for 68 yards and a score and caught six passes for 81 yards despite a knee injury he suffered two days before the game and Bly recovered a blocked punt for a touchdown.

The Tar Heels scored 19 points in a 7:14 span midway through the opening half and were never seriously challenged. Carolina's No. 2 nationally-ranked defense held the Hokies to 185 total yards.

The win secured an 11-win season and placed the Tar Heels No. 4 in the final coaches poll and No. 6 in the final Associated Press poll. Defensive coordinator Carl Torbush was in his first game as Carolina's head coach. The longtime assistant coach had taken over as head coach on December 8 after Mack Brown had resigned.

Last year, the Tar Heels overcame an 0-3 start to the season and rallied for a berth in the Las Vegas Bowl against San Diego State. Despite blustery conditions and near freezing temperatures, the Tar Heels triumphed, 20-13. Freshman quarterback Ronald Curry was the game's Offensive MVP with a game-high 93 rushing yards. He ended the first quarter with a 48-yard touchdown run.

Early in the second quarter, Quinton Savage blocked a punt that David Bomar recovered in the end zone for a touchdown. Savage also blocked a punt in the 1998 Gator Bowl that Bly scooped up and returned for a score.

Punter Brian Schmitz was another standout in the Las Vegas Bowl. Schmitz averaged 44.0 yards on five punts, including a 66-yard howitzer into the wind late in the first half.

The Aztecs threatened to tie after a UNC turnover deep in its own territory in the final two minutes, but linebacker Keith Newman sealed the victory with an interception at the goal line.

It was the fourth consecutive year the Tar Heels held a bowl opponent to 13 or fewer points.

1947 Sugar Bowl New Orleans, La. Georgia 20, Carolina 10 Jan. 1, 1947

The 1947 Sugar Bowl, which matched Carolina against Georgia, is one of the most famous Tar Heel games of the Charlie "Choo Choo" Justice years and produced one of the most controversial plays in bowl history.

Carolina was leading 7-0 in the third period when Bulldog defensive right end Joe Terreshinski intercepted a Tar Heel pass at the Georgia 24-yard line. He then flipped a lateral to Dick McPhee who raced 52 yards to the Carolina 14.

The Tar Heels argued the lateral was a forward one and the play should have been called back. However, the officials ruled differently. Georgia went on to score the tying touchdown on a quarterback sneak by Johnny Rauch.

Carolina's lone touchdown came on a Walt Pupa two-yard run following an interception by Tar Heel guard Bob Mitten.

The Tar Heels' last lead at 10-7 came on a Bob Cox field goal.

The Georgia game-winner came on a 67-yard touchdown pass from Trippi to Dan Edwards less than three minutes after the UNC field goal.

The Dawgs' Charley Trippi rushed for 77 yards, while Justice carried 18 times for 37 yards.

The Tar Heels returned to the Sugar Bowl in 1949 and were defeated 14-6 by the University of Oklahoma, representing the Big Seven Conference. A record crowd of 85,000 turned out to see the Charlie Justice-led Tar Heels battle Bud Wilkinson's Sooners.

Carolina threatened early, advancing via a Justice to Art Weiner 23-yard pass play to the OU 15. Justice's next pass, however, was intercepted by linebacker Myrle Greathouse who rumbled 59 yards to the Carolina 13. Sooners' quarterback Jack Mitchell scored the first points of the day on a two-yard run.

The Heels capitalized on an OU fumble later in the first quarter and Justice marched the team down to the two, from where Hosea Rodgers scored. The conversion was wide right.

Carolina advanced to the OU eight late in the first half, but could not score.

The Sooners regained the lead for good in the third quarter. Quarterback Darrell Royal connected for 37 yards with Frankie Anderson and two plays later, Lindell Pearson ran it in from eight yards out.

Justice was brilliant, rushing for 84 yards and passing for another 57.

CAROLINA'S BOWL GAME HISTORY

1950 Cotton Bowl Dallas, Texas Rice 27, Carolina 13 Jan. 1, 1950

Charlie Justice had another great day in the 1950 Cotton Bowl, but it just wasn't enough as the Tar Heels fell to fifth-ranked Rice, 27-13. The Owls had a 9-1-0 record, while Carolina came in at 7-3 and was ranked 16th.

Rice and Carolina played to a scoreless draw in the opening quarter, but Rice opened the scoring in the second quarter when quarterback Tobin Rote hooked up with Billy Burkhalter for a 44-yard touchdown. Bobby Lantrip's three-yard run built a 14-0 halftime lead, and the Owls kept right on rolling in the third quarter.

On its second possession of the second half, Rice traveled 77 yards in six plays, capped by Rote's 17-yard scoring pass to "Froggie" Williams. Burkhalter made it 27-0 with a 12-yard fourth quarter score.

The Tar Heels got two touchdowns in the final eight minutes. Justice hit Paul Rizzo for a two-yard touchdown pass and then Rizzo ran it in from two yards.

Justice managed 59 yards rushing and another 63 in the air, while Art Weiner led the Tar Heels with five receptions for 41 yards. Billy Hayes topped the UNC rushing attack with 107 yards on 19 carries.

The 1950 Cotton Bowl marked the end of the "Choo-Choo" Justice era that began in 1946. The Tar Heels went 32-9-2 in that time and played in three major bowl games.

1963 Gator Bowl Jacksonville, Fla. Carolina 35, Air Force 0 Dec. 28, 1963

It had been 13 years since Charlie Justice had led Carolina to the 1950 Cotton Bowl, so when the Tar Heels got a chance to play in the 1963 Gator Bowl, they made the most of it. The Tar Heels walloped the Air Force, 35-0.

Ken Willard was the hero of the day. He ran for 94 yards on 18 carries and scored the first touchdown which keyed the runaway victory. When Willard wasn't running in this rout, he did his share of the offensive blocking.

Joe Robinson scored on a five-yard pass and also caught a two-yard conversion to give the Tar Heels a 20-0 lead at intermission.

Coach Jim Hickey's Tar Heels had 23 first downs to the Academy's 14, and piled up 370 yards in total offense compared to 260 for the Falcons.

Gary Black completed all six of his passes for 71 yards and one touchdown and he rushed for another score. Junior Edge was good on five of his nine throws for 42 yards.

Carolina finished the season 9-2, its best record in Hickey's eight years at the helm.

1970 Peach Bowl

Atlanta, Ga.

Arizona State 48, Carolina 26

Dec. 30, 1970

The Tar Heels exploded for 26 second quarter points but couldn't hold off Arizona State in the final two quarters as the Sun Devils rallied for an exciting 48-26 victory before 52,126 fans at Grant Field.

Carolina spotted unbeaten ASU 14 points on a pair of touchdowns runs, from eight and 33 yards, by Bob Thomas.

Don McCauley got the Tar Heels on the scoreboard with a one-yard plunge set up by a long pass from Paul Miller to Ricky Lanier. ASU scored on its next series, though, on a 67-yard TD catch by J.D. Hill.

Carolina then scored the final three touchdowns of the first half to go into the intermission with a 26-21 lead. First, Miller passed 37 yards for a score to Tony Blanchard. Then McCauley rushed in from 17 yards out. And finally, the All-America McCauley scored again from four yards.

Arizona State dominated a second half which was played in a heavy Atlanta snowstorm and without Miller, who left with an injury.

1971 Gator Bowl

Jacksonville, Fla.

Georgia 7, Carolina 3

Dec. 31, 1971

For the first time since 1950, the Tar Heels were playing in a bowl game for the second consecutive season. This time, the Tar Heels would fall, 7-3, to the Georgia Bulldogs.

The game produced a bowl first — brothers coaching against each other. Bill Dooley led the Tar Heels and older brother Vince coached the 'Dawgs.

The game was a defensive struggle with all the points coming in the third quarter.

In the opening half, Carolina had the best chance as linebacker Jimmy Webster, voted the Tar Heels' MVP this day, blocked a punt out of bounds at the Georgia 24. A fumble, though, denied Carolina any points.

A pair of long runs by Lewis Jolley brought the Tar Heels down to the Georgia 16 on UNC's first possession of the second half. But a procedure penalty forced the Heels to settle for a 35-yard field goal by Ken Craven.

A 31-yard pass play from Andy Johnson to Roy Hunnicutt set up the Georgia touchdown. Jimmy Poulos, on the very next play following Hunnicutt's catch, took it in for a score from 25 yards. Poulos rushed for 161 yards on the afternoon and was named the Georgia MVP.

CAROLINA'S BOWL GAME HISTORY

1972 Sun Bowl

El Paso, Texas

Carolina 32, Texas Tech 28

Dec. 30, 1972

Carolina capped an 11-1 season in the 1972 Sun Bowl by defeating Texas Tech, 32-28. Quarterback Nick Vidnovic brought the Tar Heels from behind with a late scoring drive which he capped by tossing a 13-yard touchdown pass to wingback Ted Leverenz.

That play, with a minute to go in the game, gave UNC a 30-28 lead. Carolina added two points moments later as Ronnie Robinson sacked quarterback Joe Barnes in the end zone.

The Tar Heels led 9-0 in the second quarter on a field goal by Ellis Alexander and touchdown run by Dick Oliver. The Red Raiders rallied, however, for the next 21 points and a 21-9 lead. Vidnovic hit Leverenz for a 62-yard touchdown and Billy Hite carried it in from three yards to reestablish a 24-21 Carolina lead. Tech gained the advantage, 28-24, with 7:41 to play in the game.

Vidnovic completed 14 of 26 passes for 215 yards and two touchdowns. Ike Oglesby rushed for 71 yards and Sammy Johnson added 52.

The Red Raiders had a touchdown called back in the second quarter. All-America guard Donald Rives ran a blocked punt back for an apparent score, but Tech was flagged for unsportsmanlike conduct and the points were nullified.

1974 Sun Bowl

El Paso, Texas

Mississippi State 26, UNC 24

Dec. 28, 1974

Despite mounting 402 yards in total offense, the Tar Heels dropped a 26-24 decision to Mississippi State in a record-setting Sun Bowl.

Terry Vitrano's two-yard touchdown with 3:41 remaining was the game-winner. That capped a 16-play, 80-yard drive which lasted nearly seven minutes.

Carolina had taken a 24-20 lead with 10:26 to play on an Ellis Alexander field goal.

The Bulldogs totaled a Sun Bowl record 499 yards in total offense — 455 of those yards came on the ground via the veer offense. Walter Packer rushed for 189 yards, Vitrano added 164 and quarterback Rocky Felker gained another 69.

The Tar Heels also got big ground gains from Mike Voight and James Betterson. Voight picked up 90 yards on 19 carries and Betterson chipped in with 84 on 17 rushes. But Voight was stopped a yard shy of a first down on Carolina's last offensive play of the game. Chris Kupec, who led the nation in pass completion percentage, connected with Jimmy Jerome for 29 yards and a touchdown.

CAROLINA'S BOWL GAME HISTORY

1976 Peach Bowl Atlanta, Ga. Kentucky 21, Carolina 0 Dec. 31, 1976

Playing without an injured Mike Voight, the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year, the Tar Heels managed just five first downs and 108 yards total offense in a 21-0 loss to Kentucky.

Voight, who had rushed for 1,407 yards, injured his ankle in practice two days before the game when he stepped in a hole going out on a pass play. Ironically, Voight had caught just four passes the entire season.

The teams battled to a tie at the half, but Carolina thought it had put up points in the first quarter. On the Tar Heels' opening drive, Matt Kupec hit split end Walker Lee with a 50-yard touchdown pass, but officials ruled the Tar Heels offside and the play came back.

Early in the third quarter, Kentucky defensive end Bud Diehl knocked the ball from Kupec's grasp and the 'Cats recovered at the UNC 21. That set up the first of three rushing touchdowns by fullback Rod Stewart.

Stewart, who finished with 104 yards and the game's MVP trophy, added fourth quarter scores from 13 and three yards.

Subbing for Voight, freshman Doug Paschal led the Tar Heels with 41 yards rushing.

1977 Liberty Bowl Memphis, Tenn. Nebraska 21, Carolina 17 Dec. 19, 1977

Thirteenth-ranked Nebraska scored two fourth quarter touchdowns and rallied for a 21-17 victory over 13th-rated North Carolina.

Reserve quarterback

Randy Garcia came off the Cornhuskers' bench in the final period to toss a pair of touchdown passes, including a 33-yard game-winner to Tim Smith with 3:16 left in the game. That came six plays after Nebraska recovered a fumble at the UNC 43.

Tar Heel quarterback Matt Kupec, voted the game's Most Valuable Player despite the loss, had led the Tar Heels to a 17-7 lead in the third quarter. Kupec, who connected on seven of his 11 passes, threw touchdown passes to Brooks Williams and Bob Loomis. Tom Biddle added Carolina's final points with 4:17 left in the third on a Liberty Bowl record 47-yard field goal.

Carolina led the nation in scoring defense in 1977, allowing just 7.4 points per game through the regular season. Nebraska was the only team to score more than 14 points against UNC all season.

Bill Dooley resigned in January 1978 to accept the dual position of head football coach and athletic director at Virginia Tech.

CAROLINA'S BOWL GAME HISTORY

1979 Gator Bowl Jacksonville, Fla. Carolina 17, Michigan 15 Dec. 28, 1979

Matt Kupec completed 18 of 28 passes for 161 yards and one touchdown and Amos Lawrence rushed for 118 yards to lead North Carolina to a 17-15 win over Michigan.

Trailing 9-0, the Tar Heels rallied for the next 17 points and then held off a Michigan threat late in the game to post the first of Dick Crum's four consecutive bowl wins.

Carolina had two chances early on to score first, but high winds knocked down a pair of Jeff Hayes field goal attempts. Michigan did score first following a turnover and added a 53-yard touchdown reception by Anthony Carter to move ahead 9-0.

Doug Paschal put the Heels on the board with a two-yard touchdown. Early in the third, Kupec engineered a 16-play, 97-yard touchdown drive which culminated in a 12-yard pass to Phil Farris. Hayes added a 32-yard field goal in the fourth for a 17-9 UNC lead.

Michigan, thwarted once already in the fourth when Lawrence Taylor scooped up a loose ball, did manage another Carter touchdown with 1:28 left, but the two-point conversion pass to Carter fell short.

Kupec and Lawrence were named co-Most Valuable Players.

1980 Bluebonnet Bowl Houston, Texas Carolina 16, Texas 7 Dec. 31, 1980

Amos Lawrence rushed for 104 yards and one touchdown and the Tar Heel defense allowed just two first downs and 36 total yards in the second half as Carolina played error-free football to defeat Texas, 16-7, in the Bluebonnet Bowl.

Lawrence, the game's Most Valuable Offensive Player, scampered 59 yards for a touchdown on the Tar Heels' fourth play from scrimmage for a 7-0 lead. Following a Texas touchdown in the second quarter by Mike Luck, Carolina regained the advantage for good on a one-yard run by Kelvin Bryant.

Jeff Hayes converted a fumbled punt snap by the Longhorns into a 31-yard field goal with 2:03 to play in the third quarter.

The defense, which allowed 224 yards and 11 Texas first downs in the opening half, dominated the second 30 minutes. UNC safety Steve Streater was named the defensive MVP as he had an interception, recovered a fumble and also boomed a 63-yard punt, longest in Bluebonnet Bowl history.

Carolina's 11-1 record matched the best season in UNC history. The Tar Heels finished ranked eighth by the Associated Press and ninth by UPI.

CAROLINA'S BOWL GAME HISTORY

1981 Gator Bowl Jacksonville, Fla. Carolina 31, Arkansas 27 Dec. 28, 1981

Kelvin Bryant rushed for 148 yards and Ethan Horton added 144 to lead the Tar Heels to a 31-27 victory over Arkansas in the Gator Bowl.

Bryant and Horton shared Most Valuable Player honors, but it was a key defensive stop by seldom-used freshman Ronnie Snipes which saved the night for Carolina.

After building a 31-10 lead midway through the fourth quarter, Carolina watched as Arkansas rallied for two touchdowns and had the ball again inside Tar Heel territory with less than a minute to play. But on third down, Snipes, who had played just two previous downs in the contest, sacked quarterback Brad Taylor for a 17-yard loss.

The game was deadlocked at 10-10 at the half, but Carolina came right out to open the third quarter and put together a 13-play, 85-yard drive which was capped by Horton's one-yard scoring run.

UNC quarterback Rod Elkins scored on a one-yard sneak on the Tar Heels' next drive. He was set up by a 21-yard run by Horton and a 13-yard scamper by Bryant.

Horton then churned out 42 yards on six plays and went in from four yards out to give the Heels a 31-10 lead with 7:29 to play in the game.

The Razorbacks scored with 5:05 to play, recovered an onside kick and scored again with 2:44 left. UNC punter Jeff Hayes took an intentional safety with 1:44 to play. That gave the ball back to Arkansas and set up Snipes' defensive gem.

1982 Sun Bowl El Paso, Texas Carolina 26, Texas 10 Dec. 25, 1982

North Carolina scored the final 23 points of the game in the final quarter and held seventh-ranked Texas to 48 total yards in the second half as the Tar Heels became the first

ACC team to win four consecutive bowl games.

Ethan Horton was the offensive star of the game, rushing for 119 yards in the second half as Carolina won 26-10. He replaced injured starter Kelvin Bryant, who totaled 45 yards before leaving the game with an injured ankle.

Trailing 10-3 after three quarters, the Tar Heels vaulted into the lead via three consecutive field goals. Sophomore walk-on Rob Rogers, who had connected from 53 yards in the second quarter, hit a 47-yard field goal with 14:51 to play to narrow the Texas lead to 10-6. Brooks Barwick was then successful from 24 and 42 yards, the latter putting the Heels into the lead at 12-10 with 4:56 left.

Horton tacked on a three-yard touchdown with 2:17 remaining and Mike Wilcher fell on a loose ball in the end zone for another touchdown with 1:35 to play.

The defensive series of the game came five minutes into the third quarter with Texas leading 10-3 and with the ball, third-and-goal at the Carolina one. Two times, Texas fullback Ervin Davis tried to find the end zone, but twice he was hurled back. First, it was Wilcher who made the hit and then on 4th-and-goal, Greg Poole made the stop which changed the game.

The Christmas Day affair was played with intermittent snow flurries and a wind-chill reading that hovered around 12 degrees.

CAROLINA'S BOWL GAME HISTORY

1983 Peach Bowl Atlanta, Ga. Florida State 28, Carolina 3 Dec. 30, 1983

Florida State scored the first two times it had the ball and penalties and turnovers cost the Tar Heels dearly, as the Seminoles whipped Carolina 28-3 in a miserably cold and half-empty Peach Bowl.

Played before only 25,648 fans in low-20 degree temperatures, the Peach Bowl loss snapped the Tar Heels' consecutive bowl-game winning streak at four.

The Seminoles held the Tar Heels' running game to just 32 yards and three first downs. One thousand-yard rushers Ethan Horton and Tyrone Anthony were held to 30 and 27 yards, respectively.

Florida State quarterback Eric Thomas, making his first start, connected with Weegie Thompson on touchdown passes on the 'Nokes first two series.

Midway through the second quarter, the Tar Heels fumbled away a punt at their own 16 and FSU converted via a 1-yard touchdown run.

Carolina put up its only points of the day on Brooks Barwick's 36-yard field goal.

The loss was the fourth in the final five games of the season and ended a season in which Carolina had been ranked third in the nation.

1986 Aloha Bowl Honolulu, Hawaii Arizona 30, Carolina 21 Dec. 27, 1986

Arizona converted four North Carolina fumbles into 20 points and then held off a furious Tar Heel rally in the fourth quarter to win the 1986 Aloha Bowl, 30-21.

Carolina dug itself a 30-0 hole and did not put points on the board until freshman tailback Torin Dorn broke a 58-yard touchdown run with 2:19 left in the third quarter.

The Tar Heels fumbled five times in the first three periods and the Wildcats turned them into two touchdowns and two field goals.

Following Dorn's electrifying run, the Tar Heels quickly moved back within striking distance with two more touchdowns in the next seven minutes.

Mark Maye hit Randy Marriott with a six-yard touchdown pass after a Norris Davis interception and then followed a Davis punt block with a two-yard scoring run of his own to narrow the margin to 30-21 with 9:10 to play.

That, however, was as close as Carolina could challenge. A couple of dropped passes thwarted two more Carolina drives.

Dorn was the game's leading ground-gainer, rushing for 101 yards on only seven carries. Maye completed 17 of 34 passes for 171 yards; he hooked up with Eric Starr a game-high seven times for 53 yards.

CAROLINA'S BOWL GAME HISTORY

1993 Peach Bowl Atlanta, Ga. UNC 21, Miss. State 17 Jan. 2, 1993

Defensive MVP Bracey Walker blocked consecutive third-quarter punts, returning one of them for the tying touchdown, and forced a fourth quarter interception which Cliff Baskerville returned 44 yards for a touchdown to lead Carolina to a 21-17 Peach Bowl win over Mississippi State.

Walker's heroics capped a fierce second-half comeback in which the Tar Heels came from 14 points behind to score three times, although just once on an offensive possession.

MSU took a two-touchdown lead in the first quarter and had two more scores in the second quarter called back due to holding penalties.

Carolina regrouped at halftime, however, and cut the lead to 14-7 just six plays into the third quarter. Mike Thomas connected with Bucky Brooks for a 53-yard completion on the fourth play of the half and Natrone Means scored from a yard out two snaps later.

Means led the Tar Heel offense with 128 yards rushing and was named the game's Offensive MVP.

Later in the third quarter, Walker blocked a punt but Carolina's field goal try was unsuccessful. On the next series UNC again forced the Bulldogs to punt and this time Walker blocked the kick, picked up the loose ball and raced 24 yards untouched for the tying score.

Early in the final quarter Walker forced a midair loose ball with a jarring hit and Baskerville plucked the ball out of the air and sprinted 44 yards down the left sideline for what proved to be the winning score.

Carolina held off two late MSU rallies to hang on to the lead. Linebacker Kerry Mock's interception stopped one threat at the UNC 17 with 2:32 to play and a fourth-down incomplection with just six seconds left halted the Bulldogs at the Carolina 21-yard line.

1993 Gator Bowl Jacksonville, Fla. Alabama 24, Carolina 10 Dec. 31, 1993

Quarterback Brian Burgdorf threw for two touchdowns and ran for another to lead 18th-ranked and defending national champion Alabama to a 24-10 victory over 11th-ranked Carolina in Outback Steakhouse Gator Bowl. Corey Holliday caught nine passes for 125 yards and was UNC's MVP.

After a scoreless first period, Alabama took the lead on a 22-yard field goal by Michael Proctor. Carolina quarterback Jason Stanicek then led a seven-play, 80-yard touchdown drive in just 1:36 to take the lead, 7-3, on the ensuing possession. Stanicek hit Holliday with completions of 29 and 22 yards and executed one of his trademark option pitches to freshman tailback Leon Johnson for an 18-yard gain. William Henderson plunged in from a yard out for the lead.

The Crimson Tide went up 10-7 Burgdorf scored from 33 yards out on a quarterback draw.

With 1:44 left before intermission, Stanicek led what would be the final Tar Heel scoring drive. He hit Holliday with passes of 12 and nine yards and Curtis Johnson ran twice for 20 yards before the drive stalled and Tripp Pignetti hit a 23-yard field goal to tie the game at 10.

The Alabama defense was the key to the game, holding UNC to a season-low 42 net yards rushing on 25 carries. Carolina could only muster 40 total yards and four first downs in the second half.

CAROLINA'S BOWL GAME HISTORY

1994 Sun Bowl El Paso, Texas Texas 35, Carolina 31 Dec. 30, 1994

Priest Holmes rushed for 161 yards and four touchdowns, including the game-winner with 1:17 to play, to lead Texas to a 35-31 win over the Tar Heels before a Sun Bowl record crowd of 50,612.

Holmes' four-touchdown performance wrestled away MVP honors from UNC quarterback Mike Thomas, who had the finest passing day of his career. Thomas completed 23 of 39 passes for 298 yards and two touchdowns. He set UNC bowl game records for completions and yards and tied the mark with two scoring tosses. He was 15 for 19 in the first half and completed 20 of 29 before a final desperation drive.

Wide receivers Marcus Wall and Octavus Barnes were two more standouts for the Tar Heels. Wall was selected the game's Most Valuable Special Teams Player. He gave the Tar Heels a 24-21 lead in the fourth quarter when he returned a punt 82 yards for a touchdown.

Barnes set UNC bowl game records for most catches and yards with nine receptions for 165 yards and one score. The 165 yards were also the most in Sun Bowl history.

With Carolina up, 31-21, Texas quickly went on a 68-yard touchdown drive in only 2:38. On the next series, Texas took over at its own 32 and drove 68 yards in 10 plays for the winning score. Holmes carried the last three plays on the drive for nine, two and finally the five yard touchdown run.

1995 Carquest Bowl Miami, Fla. Carolina 20, Arkansas 10 Dec. 30, 1995

Leon Johnson rushed for a Carolina bowl record 195 yards and Mike Thomas threw for two scores as the Tar Heels knocked off Arkansas, 20-10, in the Carquest Bowl.

Johnson's 195-yard effort topped the previous high of 148 yards by Kelvin Bryant, also against Arkansas, in the 1981 Gator Bowl. Johnson had just 23 yards on eight carries in the first half, but exploded for 172 yards in the second half.

All-America tackle Marcus Jones capped his career with four tackles for losses, including a quarterback sack on Arkansas' last play from scrimmage - his final collegiate play.

Trailing by a touchdown the Tar Heels quickly moved into position to tie the game. On third-and-long quarterback Mike Thomas rolled right, threw back across the field to Ashford, who sprinted around the left flank into the end zone.

The Razorbacks managed to take a 10-7 lead in the third quarter on a 26-yard field goal by Latourette. Two series later Carolina went into the lead for good. On third-and-eight from the 28, Thomas ran the option around the right corner, turned upfield and then pitched the ball to Johnson, who was trailing the play perfectly. Johnson ran untouched for a 28-yard, go-ahead score.

CAROLINA'S BOWL GAME HISTORY

1997 Gator Bowl Jacksonville, Fla. Carolina 20, West Virginia 13 Jan. 1, 1997

Oscar Davenport, starting in place of injured first-team all-conference quarterback Chris Keldorf, completed 14 of 26 passes for 175 yards and one touchdown as Carolina defeated West Virginia 20-13 in the 52nd annual Toyota Gator Bowl. Davenport, who also rushed for one touchdown, was named the game's MVP.

Carolina broke the scoring drought early in the second quarter when Davenport found Octavus Barnes in the back corner of the end zone on an 18-yard pass. As time was running down in the first half, Davenport and Leon Johnson led the Tar Heels on a five-play touchdown drive. Johnson caught a pass for 13 yards and rushed twice for 19 yards in the drive. Davenport scored on a 5-yard option keeper for a 17-3 lead.

West Virginia opened the second-half scoring with a 34-yard touchdown pass to close within seven points. A fumble recovery by Greg Williams ended one WVU threat, but West Virginia had one last chance to tie the game late in the fourth quarter. Carolina stopped the Mountaineers on 4th-and-6 at the UNC 24 with just under two minutes remaining.

Dre' Bly, Carolina's consensus first-team All-America, picked off two second-half passes. Carolina's defense forced four West Virginia turnovers; the Mountaineers had 10 in 11 regular-season games.

1998 Gator Bowl Jacksonville, Fla. Carolina 42, Virginia Tech 3 Jan. 1, 1998

Chris Keldorf threw for 290 yards and three scores and Carolina's defense and special teams added touchdowns as the Tar Heels pounded Virginia Tech, 42-3, in the Toyota Gator Bowl.

The victory, UNC's most lopsided in a bowl game, secured a No. 4 final ranking in the coaches' poll for the 11-1 Tar Heels. The game was Carl Torbush's first as Carolina's head coach. Torbush, UNC's defensive coordinator the past 10 years, was elevated to head coach on December 8th after Mack Brown accepted the same position at the University of Texas.

Keldorf completed 17 of 28 passes, including touchdown throws of 62 and 14 yards to wide receiver Octavus Barnes and four yards to fullback Jamie Carrick.

Carolina amassed 427 total yards and held the Hokies to just 185 yards. Leading 3-0, Keldorf hit Barnes with a 62-yard bomb down the left sideline for a 10-0 lead. Later in the first quarter, Carolina forced Virginia Tech to punt deep in Hokie territory. Quinton Savage blocked the punt and Dre' Bly scooped it up at the 6-yard line and scored for a 16-0 UNC advantage.

One minute and 10 seconds after Bly's touchdown, Ellis fell on a loose ball in the Tech end zone for another touchdown. Carolina scored 16 first-quarter points in the entire regular season, but scored 16 in the first quarter of the Gator Bowl and six more just seven seconds into the second quarter.

The 42 points were the most in UNC postseason history and the three touchdown passes by Keldorf set a UNC bowl game record. Barnes concluded his career with 16 receptions and four touchdowns in four postseason games.

TAR HEEL TRADITIONS

WHY TAR HEELS?

University of North Carolina athletic teams are known as the Tar Heels because North Carolina is "The Tar Heel State."

One legend has the nickname being applied to the state's residents as long ago as the Revolutionary War. According to this story, the troops of British General Cornwallis were fording what is now known as the Tar River between Rocky Mount and Battleboro when they discovered that tar had been dumped into the stream to impede their crossing. When they finally got across the river they found their feet completely black with tar. Their observation that anyone who waded North Carolina rivers would acquire tar heels led to the nickname first being used.

Others say the nickname was acquired during the Civil War. During one of that war's fiercest battles a column supporting North Carolina troops was driven from the field. After the battle, the North Carolinians who had successfully fought it out alone, happened to meet the regiment which had fled to safety and were greeted with the question, "Any more tar down in the Old North State, boys?"

"No, not a bit," shot back one of the North Carolina soldiers. "Old Jeff's bought it all up," he went on, referring to Jefferson Davis, President of the Confederacy.

"Is that so? What's he going to do with it?"

"He's going to put it on you'n's heels to make you stick better in the next fight."

Upon hearing of the incident, Robert E. Lee smiled and said to a fellow officer, "God bless the Tar Heel boys."

A letter found in 1991 by State Archivist

David Olson lends credence to another more direct theory. A letter from Maj. Joseph Engelhard describes a fight involving men from North Carolina in which Lee was heard to have said, "There they stand as if they have tar on their heels."

The letter, dated August 24, 1864, told the tale of a battle on the outskirts of Petersburg, Va. Engelhard was elected secretary of state for North Carolina in 1876.

RAM MASCOT

Since Carolina's nickname is Tar Heels, it might seem strange to have a ram as a mascot. It is. But, there is a good explanation. It's offered by Vic Huggins, Carolina's head cheerleader back in 1924.

"In 1924 school spirit was at a peak," Huggins once explained. "But something seemed to be missing. One day it hit me. Georgia had a bulldog for a mascot and State a wolf. What Carolina needed was a symbol."

Two years earlier the Tar Heels had posted a brilliant 9-1 record. The star of that 1922 team was a bruising fullback named Jack Merritt. Merritt was nicknamed "the battering ram" for the way he plunged into lines. It seemed natural to Huggins to link a mascot with Merritt's nickname.

"Charlie Woollen, the athletic business manager at that time, agreed with the idea and gave us $25 to purchase a fitting mascot," said Huggins.

Rameses the First was shipped in from Texas, arriving just in time to be introduced at a pep rally before the VMI game. Complete with a monogram blanket on his back, Rameses helped make the pep rally one of the school's greatest.

The ram was taken to Emerson Field where Carolina was an underdog to a strong VMI team. But, for three quarters the Tar Heels battled the visitors to a scoreless tie.

Late in the fourth period Carolina's Bunn Hackney was called upon to attempt a field goal. Before taking the field he stopped to rub Rameses' head for good luck.

Seconds later Hackney's 30-yard dropkick sailed between the goalposts, giving the Tar Heels a 3-0 victory and a legendary mascot.

The adoption of light blue and white as UNC's colors dates back to the 19th Century. When the University reopened following the Civil War, most social activi-

CAROLINA FIGHT SONGS

HERE COMES CAROLINA

Here comes Carolina-lina
Here comes Carolina-lina
We hail from NCU.
We've got the spirit in it
We've got the team to win it
We wear the colors White and Blue -
So it's Fight! Fight! for Carolina
As Davie did in days of old.
As we gather 'round the 'Well
Cheer that Tar Heel team like hell -
For the glory of NCU.

CAROLINA VICTORY MARCH

There'll be a Carolina victory,
When cross that field the foe has fled.
Cheer that team to victory,
For we are Tar Heels born and bred.
Rah! Rah! Rah!
Glory, glory, UNC.
Our hearts will live with thee
Fight! Fight! Fight!
For the Blue & White are rolling to victory.

ALMA MATER

Hark the sound of Tar Heel voices
Ringing clear and true,
Singing Carolina's praises, Shouting "NCU."
(chorus)
Hail to the brightest star of all!
Clear its radiance shine
Carolina, priceless gem,
Receive all praises thine.
(refrain)
For I'm a Tar Heel born
I'm a Tar Heel bred,
And when I die I'm a Tar Heel dead.
So it's - Rah, Rah, Carolina-lina
Rah, Rah, Carolina-lina
Rah, Rah, Carolina!
Rah! Rah! Rah!

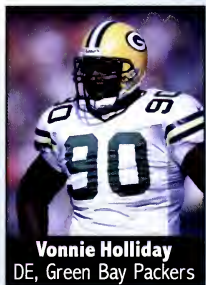

ties were directed by two literary societies, the Dialectic and Philanthropic. The official color of the Di was light blue and that of the Phi white.

On public occasions the student officers, marshals and ball managers were chosen equally from the membership of the two societies. It had long been the custom of each society for its members to wear its color on such occasions. However, the chief marshal and chief ball manager, one from the Di and the other from the Phi, wore combination light blue and white regalias and rosettes signifying that they represented the whole student body.

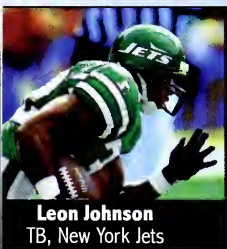

So it seemed only natural for the fans to adorn themselves with the same combination as that used by the chief marshals and ball managers, colors which represented not membership in a society, but a University student body.
